

Want Good Roads.

Resolutions favoring federal appropriation for the building and maintaining of public wagon roads were submitted at a recent meeting of the Mosier Grange. In addition to this they came out strongly in favor of a general policy of good roads construction by the various municipalities, counties and states. The grange thinks that since congress appropriates yearly large sums for the improvement of waterways an appropriation should be made for the public roads. The text of the resolutions follows:

To the worthy master and patrons of husbandry,
Mosier Grange No. 243 of Wasco Co., Oregon.

Your committee on resolutions respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, The improvement of the highway of the country is a matter of general public concern and should properly receive the attention and assistance of the national government, and

Whereas, The revenue raised by taxes paid by the people of the country as a whole should be devoted as far as possible to purposes which will benefit the greater number of the taxpayers in all sections of the country, and

Whereas, No argument can be advanced in favor of the annual appropriations by congress on behalf of river and harbor improvements that does not apply even more strongly to the improvement of our public roads; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Mosier Grange, No. 243, of Wasco county, Oregon, favors a general policy of good roads construction by the various municipalities, counties and states, and

Resolved, That we favor the immediate enactment of legislation by congress making liberal federal appropriations for the improvement of the public highways of the country, these appropriations to be expended in such a manner as congress may prescribe, and

Resolved, That we strongly approve house bill No. 15,877 to provide for the creation of a national highways commission and for the construction, improvement and maintenance of public highways, and we request our senators and congressmen to use every legitimate means possible to secure the enactment into law of said bill.

Fraternally submitted,
Committee on Resolutions,
J. M. Carroll, Chairman,
F. W. Saltzman, Secretary.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many remedies but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by Keir & Cass.

The Drain Upon the Forests.

Since 1880 the sources of lumber supply have undergone remarkable changes. The first change was in the regions from which the principal kinds of lumber were procured, and this was followed by the substitution of other kinds of wood in their places. Neither the centers of the lumber industry nor the leading classes of woods are the same as they were 25 years ago. In 1880 nine states—Michigan, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, New York, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Washington—produced 52.8 per cent, or more than half of the total lumber production of the United States. In 1906 these states produced 31.2 per cent, practically the same proportion, but the changes which have taken place in the output of individual states are very striking. Michigan, for instance, cut 23 per cent of the total in 1880, and but 5.9 per cent in 1906; Louisiana cut 0.7 per cent of the total in 1880 and 7.5 per cent in 1906; Washington furnished but 0.9 per cent of the lumber production of 1880 and 11.5 per cent of that of 1906. The cutting out of the virgin timber in the north and east has been followed by increased drains upon the forest resources of the south and west.

Despite these conditions the amount of timber required has increased year by year. The increase in consumption of timber since 1880 has been more rapid than the increase of the population, and greater than in any similar period in the history of the country. This shows in a striking manner how much the nation depends upon forest products, and indicates how greatly all interests must suffer as lumber becomes scarcer and dearer.

Statistics gathered by the bureau of the census and the forest service show that the quantities of timber used last year for lumber, shingles, ties, pulpwood, cooperage stock, mine timbers, lath, distillation, veneer, paper, tanning and turpentine and resin, expressed in board feet, reach a total of approximately 50 billion board feet.

While these drains upon the forest are known with reasonable certainty, there are others of which there is no record. These are the demand for posts, fuel and domestic purposes, regarding which it is more difficult to obtain information, because the products often pass through no market, but are consumed on the farm where they were produced. Careful estimates, however, place the total of wood used for fuel alone at an equivalent of 50 billion board feet a year.

It will be seen, then, that the present consumption of wood in all forms is above 100 billion board feet annually. Estimating the forest area of the United States at from 500 to 700 million acres, and the annual growth at 60 board feet per acre, the yearly increase is from 30 to 42 billion feet. At this rate, the annual growth barely equals the amount consumed for lumber alone. Considering all the drains, the annual consumption of wood is probably three times the annual growth. Detailed estimates of standing timber range from 1,400 to 2,000 billion feet. Using the larger figure, and considering the annual growth of 40 billion feet, it appears that there is not more than a thirty-three years' supply of timber in this country at the present rate of consumption.

At present only about 22 per cent of our total forest area is in state or national forests, the remainder being unreserved public lands or private lands. The forest area is simply sufficient, if rightly managed, to produce eventually enough timber to supply all our needs.

Yet private owners, as well as the state and national governments, must use their forest lands in a right way if we are to maintain our timber supply.

Circular 129, just issued by the forest service, contains a discussion of the drains upon the forests and the sources and the duration of the timber supply. This publication will be sent free upon application to the Forester, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief it affords. Obscure Art.

"I'm afraid you don't appreciate that composition," remarked the musician.

"No," answered Mr. Curran; "in all frankness, I must say I don't. It keeps me guessing."

"Guessing?"

"Yes. I always have three guesses—why anybody wrote it in the first place, why anybody plays it in the second and why anybody listens to it in the third."

Approves of the Paper.

Editor Glacier:—

Dear Sir:—In your last issue you print a long paper read at the mothers' meeting recently by one of our primary teachers, dealing with the child at home and at school. Having spent the best years of my life in the school room as principal and as city superintendent, I am much impressed with the value of that article to the community. That every mother who has a child in school should carefully read and ponder over every statement in that paper is, from my point of view, expressing a very mild rebuke. The experience of this teacher are not wholly new to the teaching fraternity, but possibly so to some parents.

Shameful as it may be many mothers, both of the rich and poor, are more concerned about getting their children out of their way for five or six hours a day than they are for either the physical or mental welfare of the little ones.

Permit me to say to every mother who has a child in the Hood River schools to read and reread that article, then go and visit the room where your child spends so many hours a day, become acquainted with the teacher, learn from her the needs and progress of your child and you will go home a wiser and a better mother.

Would that every school in the land was blessed with such teachers as the one whose paper you printed.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung diseases in all the world." Sold under guarantee at Chas. N. Clarke's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Put This Stove in Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days. The is so constructed that it cannot add perceptibly to the heat of a room; the flame being directed up a retaining chimney to the stove top where it is needed for cooking. You can see that a stove sending out heat in but one direction would be preferable on a hot day to a stove radiating heat in all directions. The "New Perfection" keeps a kitchen uniformly comfortable. Three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weak spots and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Never before so badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not rectify itself.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. King's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement as that of this preparation. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of women's troubles enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do good. It cures, restores, purifies, and strengthens, invigorates and regulates the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the system is weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating knife and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.
