Two Convicts Seriously Burned.—Salem—An attempt on the part of two convicts at the penitentiary to exterminate the bedbugs in their cell by the coal oil route, resulted in the serious burning of the one and the narrow escape of the other. The incarceration of both men was only averted by the prompt action of one of the guards, who turned a flood of water into the cell. Although the affair happened last Friday night, owing to the strict censorship of events at the institution, the administration succeeded in keeping the matter quiet until now.

The Clatsop County Teachers' Institute closed a most successful three days' session at Astoria on Friday.

A mass convention of Socialists was held in Pendleton Saturday and a full county ticket was nominated. This is the first time a full ticket has been nominated. "Four mile house," one of the historic buildings in the Inland Empire, was burned to the ground on Saturday. It was located four miles east of the town of Umatilla. Dallas during the coming two weeks. A severe wind and dust storm swept over the entire Inland Empire Friday and Saturday, tangling up telephone wires and putting out electric lights. For the second time within a week the incoming Northern Pacific train was stalled within a few miles of Pendleton. The engine broke down when near Myrick station at noon Saturday. Douglas county fruitgrowers are much concerned as to the extent of the damage caused by frost last Friday night. ROOSEVELT WANTS ANTI-TRUST LAW—APPEALS TO CONGRESS TO ACT

Seeks to Govern Use of Injunctions in Labor Troubles—Would Avoid Class Conflict.

Washington, April 28.—President Roosevelt late yesterday afternoon sent to Congress a special message setting forth in the strongest terms the necessity of immediate legislation strengthening the anti-trust law. He reiterates his well-known views as to the grave danger to free institutions from the corrupting influence of great wealth suddenly concentrated in the hands of the few, and urges the immediate passage of measures similar to those he advocated in his former message on the same subject.

Such legislation, he says, will be in the interest of both the decent corporations and the law-abiding labor unions. In this connection, he sounds a warning to the labor leaders who have objected to the inclusion of labor organizations in the anti-trust law amendment, and says plainly that the exception of the unions from the operation of the law would render the measure invalid.

The legislation he proposes, he points out, will not interfere in any way with the right of the laboring men to combine, to conduct peaceable strikes, to make trade agreements with their employers and to perform other legitimate acts. There are, however, he points out, cases in which trades unions may take themselves under the protection of the law by attempting to interfere with or restrain interstate commerce, as, for example, by boycott or blacklist. Hence the necessity of their inclusion in the trust-law amendment.

In this connection the President pleads for immediate legislation for the preservation of the injunction power, the abuse of which, he declares, has placed it in jeopardy by its enemies. This reform, he says, must be granted at once, inasmuch as the people demand it and experience has shown that their demands cannot safely be ignored.

Among other matters touched upon in the message is the necessity for an appropriation sufficient to permit the examination of railroad books of accounts and record under the provisions of the Hepburn law, which, it is stated, will be shorn of most of its valuable feature if the Interstate Commerce Commission is not given means with which to conduct its investigations into the operation of railroads incompetently or corruptly managed.

The President goes on to say that it is his personal belief that ultimately we shall have to adopt a National corporation law, though he is well aware that this may be impossible at present.

The man who preaches hatred of wealth honestly acquired is a menace to the community. But his counterpart in evil is to be found in that particular kind of multi-millionaire, of whom it has been well said that his face has grown hard and cruel while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and his daughter a foreign "princess."

Coquille—J. N. Jacobson, a rancher living near here, has been arrested and bound over to the Circuit Court with a $20 bond for shooting a neighbor's stock which was bothering his fields, but which was in the road at the time he shot. He killed one horse and wounded another, besides several cattle, according to eyewitnesses.
