All those who have not registered should do so at once, so they will be able to vote at the June election. We want a big vote for Hood River county especially, regardless of party, and newcomers may have difficulty in swearing in their vote on election day if they fail to register.

The movement of J. H. Ackerman, superintendent of public instruction, to head a movement to have the Oregon delegation in congress take steps to have the Oregon & California land grant, if recovered by the United States, donated to the state of Oregon for the irreducible school fund, is a good one, and efforts should be made to have that end accomplished. An interview with Mr. Ackerman, from the Oregonian, is printed on another page and goes into the details of the matter.

The Commercial Club of Walla Walla, Washington, has passed resolutions urging the railroad companies to grant a one-fare rate for the round trip, by continuous passage, between points in interior Washington and Oregon and the seaside resorts of these two states. It is understood that the club also favors a higher rate when stop over privileges are allowed. The Walla Walla Club has requested the commercial bodies of Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho, as well as the Commercial Club of Portland, to pass similar resolutions. It is hoped that favorable action may be taken by all, as the people of the interior should be given the opportunity of visiting the coast, especially during the summer months, at the least possible cost.

No announcement made in recent years has been more interesting to the state at large than the publication of the plans of the Oregon Electric Railway company, which means a system aggregating 381 miles in length and reaching the principal towns of the entire Willamette Valley, with an extension to the coast as well. McMinnville, Newberg, Dallas, Eugene, Albany, Cascadia, Hillsboro and Tillamook, with innumerable other communities, are included. The line between Portland and Salem has received such excellent patronage that on several different occasions it has been necessary to revise the schedule to accommodate additional trains. In the eastern states the multiplication of trolley lines has decreased the passenger traffic on the steam roads, but the latter have felt so marked an increase in freight traffic that the passenger loss has been more than compensated in earnings.

At a meeting of the fruit growers of the Sandy Valley last week for the purpose of organizing a fruit growers' association, the Gresham Herald comments as follows, and is not satisfied with calling their apples "as good as Hood River," but claims they are better. It says:

"Fruit raised in the Sandy Valley, and especially apples, are of a quality at present that is not equaled even in the Hood River Valley. But the apples raised at the latter place are sold at metropolitan markets at about twice what Sandy apples of better quality are sold for in the same market. This all comes from the name and publicity received by the organization of fruit growers and their power to compel all to spray and prune, and thus raise a quality of fruit that would justify the name given."

The action of the fruit growers of the Sandy Valley in organizing for better results is commendable and the Herald may be pardoned for its error in judgment in thinking it has the best apples in the world, as we understand that he has never been in the Hood River Valley or seen a Hood River apple, but the difference between a Hood River apple and one raised somewhere else which is "just as good," or "even better," is about a dollar a box, in favor of Hood River.

An attempt is being made by the enemies of the University of Oregon to create prejudice against the appropriation bill through misrepresentation. They claim that the university hires a football coach at $1,500 for a little more than two months' "instruction." As a matter of fact the university has nothing to do with the hiring of a coach, other than to see that he is the right kind of man. Neither have the students ever paid $1,500 for a coach and further the coach's salary is paid entirely from the gate receipts of such games as the ones with the Oregon Agricultural College and Multnomah. They say that the increase in the appropriation is 300 per cent, when they know that the university has received $78,500 for the past two years and the increase can only be 59 per cent. Even if the one item of $47,500 of the old appropriation bill were taken, the increase would be only a little over half of what they claim. They say also that the university has shown bad faith in pushing this bill by going to the courts on technicalities. As a matter of record the enemies of the university were the first to appeal to the courts, when the secretary of state refused to file their petitions and later carried the case to the supreme court. The friends of the university have appealed to the courts only once, and then when the title was manifestly unjust and misleading. Those are but examples of the misrepresentation used by the opposition throughout their arguments.

The Portland Commercial Club expects to move into their new building May 15. When completed it will have cost $434,000. Nearly all the space of four stories has been rented, and some of the tenants have already moved in. The top four stories will be occupied by the Commercial Club and have been fitted up in a palatial manner. The editor is indebted to Hugh McGuire, of the Pacific Paper Co., one of the directors of the club, for an inspection of the building, and can truthfully say that the building is one of the finest in Portland and the new quarters of the club will be one of the attractions of that city, not only for its own members, but for the out of town visitors who are fortunate enough to be invited guests of the members. Tom Richardson's quarters will be fine enough to make him forget all his troubles. The dining room on the top floor, the ladies' private dining room, the billiard room, the parlors, lounging room, etc., are marvels in themselves. The decorations of all the floors are works of art. Many of the bachelor apartments have been rented by they or by members and will be more pleasant than any of the fine hotels of the city. The building, besides giving the Portland Commercial Club a prominence which will add to its influence and to the prosperity of Portland, will be a profitable investment, as the rentals will pay for the cost of the building, above the operating expenses, in about fifteen years. Hood River would do well to emulate the example of Portland and put up a building on the Davidson corner, as contemplated several months ago.

Ashland Will Help.

During the visit of E. L. Smith to Ashland recently he paid the following compliment to the city, as reported by the Tidings, in which that paper also complied with a request to say a good word for Hood River county:

"You Ashland people have good reason to boast of your fine water and your attractive parks. In fact you certainly have the most attractive residence city in this section, if not the prettiest home town in the interior of Oregon," said Hon. E. L. Smith, the well known horticulturist of Hood River, after taking a drive in and about the city with Hon. E. V. Carter, Friday. They went out to see the Helms apple orchard, took in the orchards in the environs of the city and some of the picturesque points about Ashland.

Mr. Smith, accompanied by his wife, came out from Hood River last week, to visit his daughter, Mrs. Nelson, and family here. He was the pioneer commercial apple grower in the Hood River Valley and set out the first commercial orchards there. The old residents shook their heads and thought he was crazy, but soon all of them wanted to plant orchards and the Hood River Valley is now a veritable apple orchard and strawberry patch. Mr. Smith has always been favorably impressed with the Rogue River Valley since his first visit here years ago.

Mr. Smith asked the Tidings to call attention of the voters of this section to the fact that they will be called upon at the coming June election to pass upon, under the initiative, a bill for the creation of Hood River county out of Wasco. The proposed division of the county, which has been a source of contention in the past, has now been amicably agreed upon, he says, and all parties directly concerned are in favor of it. The voters of the entire state under present laws of Oregon must, however, pass upon the measure, and Hood River and Wasco people want them to do it intelligently and with the understanding that everybody there is in favor now of the new county.

EXHIBIT BUILDING OF THE HOOD RIVER COMMERCIAL CLUB

Fulton Will Stand by Cake.

To help Taft and Cake, Senator C. W. Fulton has sent his private secretary, C. W. Halderman, of Astoria, to open headquarters. These were opened at rooms 604 and 605 Imperial Hotel. Taft and Fulton are personal friends, and the senator wants to do all he can to assist the secretary of war in lining up a Chicago delegation. Fulton's headquarters will also do whatever possible to promote the interests of Cake. This is a combination which is satisfactory to Fulton's friends, and when the headquarters opened this morning a number of ardent Fulton people called to learn in what way they could be of assistance.

It is not intended by Fulton to dictate the politics of the state in opening headquarters for Taft, says his secretary, but rather to help his friend Taft, and to do what he can for Cake. Fulton himself will probably be back in time for the June election, in which event he will vote and speak for Cake.

The Fulton-Cake headquarters are on the same floor as the Mulkey-Taft headquarters, and while each is working in the interest of Taft, they are not co operating.

Secretary Halderman says that he is instructed to assist the candidacy of Cake in every possible way and that Senator Fulton requests his friends to do likewise. Fulton, continues Halderman, does not insist on an instructed delegation so long as the delegates are Taft men.—Telegram.

High School Wins Track Meet.

Being defeated on Friday in baseball by Hood River high school, the Goldendale high school was determined to win the track meet on the day following. The contest was keenly fought by both sides and not until the finish was the winner known, when Hood River high school was declared winner by a score of 63 to 45 Sanders, of Goldendale, was the star, winning five first places and one third place.

Hermiston Preparing for Big Excursion.

The board of directors of the Umatilla River Water Users' Association have designated Wednesday, May 27, as the day for the big excursion to come from different points of the state to Hermiston and have issued invitations to prominent men and many of the newspaper men throughout the state. An excursion train will be run from Pendleton and no doubt rates will be in effect from Portland, Spokane, Baker City and intermediate points. This will give the visitors an opportunity to visit Cold Springs dam and see the immense storage reservoir well filled with water and the various distribution canals syphoning the water over the Hermiston unit of the Umatilla irrigation project. It is to be a day of rejoicing, picnicing and a general gala day and an immense crowd is expected. The Commercial Club in connection with the Water Users' Association and the citizens in general will extend their hospitality to the visitors and endeavor to pass the time pleasantly. Prominent men of the state, county and reclamation service will be present and an entertaining program will be rendered.—Herald.

The Neighborly Club.

I've been hearing of the doin's
That they have at the other clubs,
Till I feel like Mrs. Noah,
So confused and kinder flustered;
Can it really be that there's any other
Club has a better time than we?

We have life and work and pleasure,
Yes, we're busy all the time;
You would think so Thursday afternoons,
Could you see us get in line
And come tripping in so gaily
Till the dining room we fill.

Our age we never think of it,
Our club have no old ones here;
If time is counted on by looks,
Then we have no cause to fear;
Tho' the faces may show their years,
Still our hearts will ne'er grow old
And we think we have the finest club
In all the wide, wide world.

We want to reach out the welcome hand
To all our neighbors near;
But those who join our little band,
They surely are more dear;
And if some Thursday afternoon you chance to visit us,
We will greet you with a will
And you will find there's something doin'
In the mettings around the hills.

Mrs. Wm. Kerr.

Buyers' Mercantile Agency Book.

The Mercantile Agency Books for the use of sellers, giving the names and ratings of all dealers, etc., are universally known and used.

A mercantile agency book arranged for buyers, enabling the user to instantly find who manufactures anything desired, giving the capital rating of each manufacturer is also very valuable.

Thomas' Register of American Manufacturers and First Hands is the standard index to the American manufacturing industries, for the use of buyers and others, classified so that the user is enabled to instantly find the names, addresses and rating of all the manufacturers of or sources of supply in any line desired. 2,200 pages, 20,000 names, 38,000 articles and kinds of articles.

It is complete. No charge is made for publishing names and addresses. It should not be confused with any advertising scheme that publishes only those who pay for insertion. It is used by the government at Washington, by the American consular service throughout the world, and by the leading manufacturers and merchants in the United States.

When the manufacturers of any line are wanted, it does not pay to spend time looking through papers, or making inquiries.

A copy of the third annual edition (September, 1907) has been placed, for the free use of our merchants and manufacturers who do not subscribe, in the office of the First National Bank of this city.

"Twenty minutes for refreshments!" called the conductor as he passed down the aisle. The little girl with blackberry jam on her chin plucked him by the sleeve. "You needn't stop the train on our account," she said timidly. "We're going to eat right here in the car."
