Electric Line a Certainty. Pendleton—Dr. H. W. Coe, of Portland, announced last week that the proposed electric road from this city down through the irrigated section of the county to the Columbia River is a certainty. He says his engineer will be here soon to begin work of surveying the right of way.

Knights Observe Anniversary. Eugene—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Ivanhoe Commandery No. 2, Knights Templars, of Eugene, was fittingly observed by that order in Masonic Hall last week. The organization, which started with a membership of 13, now includes 129.

Jefferson Bank to Reopen. Salem—It is announced that the

THE O. R. & N. WILL RESIST TO FIGHT REDUCTION IN RATES Will Vigorously Contest the Reduction in Freight Rates Ordered by Railroad Commission.

Portland—W. W. Cotton, general counsel for the Harriman lines in the Northwest, has filed in the Federal Court the complaint of the O. R. & N., in a suit to enjoin the Oregon Railroad Commission from enforcing the recent order of the Commission directing a reduction in the distributive rates between Portland and points east of The Dalles.

It will be contended by Mr. Cotton that the enforcement of the rates prescribed by the Commission would be in violation of laws regulating interstate commerce and would necessitate a complete revision by the railroad company of its transcontinental rates to Eastern Oregon and also its California rates to the same territory.

Seek to Convict. Roseburg—The investigation by Postal Inspectors Riches and Clement of the method used by C. I. Leavengood in inducing people to file on O. & C. railroad land, it transpires, is not confined to Leavengood alone, but to others in this city, who have been in this line of business.

By representing that the Government would force the O. & C. Railroad Company to give up these lands to settlers at remarkably low figures, applicants are easily induced to part with their money. Hundreds of applications have been received and the operators have reaped an immense harvest.

Sells His Franchise. Baker City—W. L. Vinson has returned from Chicago and other eastern cities, where he has been for the past two months completing the arrangement for the building of the railroad from this city to Eagle Valley. While in the East Mr. Vinson sold his franchise and interest in the road to Cincinnati capitalists, and it is expected that work on the road will be resumed in a short time. A. W. Jacobs, the engineer in charge, is to arrive here in a few days. The people of Baker County subscribed $100,000 toward the project and are anxious to see the line built. About seven miles of the road has been graded.

Hembree on Trial Again. Dallas—Sheriff H. Crenshaw, of Tillamook County, turned A. J. Hembree over to Sheriff Grant last week. Hembree is brought to Polk County on a charge of venue from Tillamook county, and will be tried on the charge of murdering his daughter. He was sent to the penitentiary for the murder of his wife, was pardoned by Governor Chamberlain and will now be tried for the second crime.

Plan Continuous Revival. Pendleton—At the big camp meeting on the Umatilla reservation, a continuous circle of evangelistic meetings was arranged, which will include every Indian reservation in the Northwest. The plan is to be placed in operation July 1, 1908, and will end one year later. The states to be covered are Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

First School in Oregon. Dallas—The school picnic to be held at Rickreall, Saturday, May 16, will be in commemoration of the founding of the first school in Oregon in 1845. The first teacher was John E. Lyle, who was later one of the principal promoters in the founding of La Crole Academy, which took place in 1863.

Jefferson Bank which closed its doors during the financial stringency in October, will open for business May 16, and that every depositor will be paid in full, with 4 per cent interest on his money.

The Oddfellows will erect a two-story brick building in Brownsville. The Cove State bank is the title of a new institution for banking purposes at Cove. With a capital stock of $10,000. The firm was incorporated by S. G. Reese.

Ten of the 17 deaths reported in Linn County in April were caused by pneumonia. Most of those who died from this cause were more than 50 years of age.

All the leading business and professional men of Coquille have signed an agreement to support the University of Oregon appropriation bill at the coming election.

A serious conflagration was narrowly averted in Canby on Sunday. The house of John Satter was entirely destroyed, and the Methodist Church was barely saved.

About 30 of the Swedish population of Marshfield have returned to their homes in Sweden. They are among the older residents of Coos Bay, and are returning to enjoy the fruits of their labor.

The Eugene city council last week entered into a contract with a Portland civil engineer for the construction of the municipal water system, with the source of supply from Ritchie creek and several other creeks 22 miles up the McKenzie river.

Mayor George F. Rodgers raided all the card-rooms in Salem last week in quest of gambling games, and found one gambling game in operation. This was a poker game in the cigar store of Charles Pilet, on State street.

The Albany Band has been provided with a complete outfit of new suits by the local lodge of Elks, and will hereafter be known as the Elks Band. The new equipment is a splendid one.

Klamath Falls lodge of Masons has voted to issue bonds to the amount of $25,000 for the purpose of acquiring a lot and building a Masonic temple. The bonds will probably be taken by the members of the lodge.

Charles Gilhough, a carpenter employed in the construction department of the Hawley paper mill, of Oregon City, fell 20 feet last week, while at work, striking on his back, and received severe, if not serious spinal injury.

The Monmouth Evaporating & Canning company has filed a complaint with the railroad commission that the Southern Pacific has attempted to hold up the corporation in the matter of constructing a switch for the plant at Monmouth.

Dr. G. W. Maston, for 25 years prominently identified with business interests of Oregon and engaged during that period in the practice of his profession in this state, whose death occurred April 24, had a wide experience and was a man of strong personality.

The storage house of the Standard Oil Company at The Dalles was destroyed by fire Sunday, together with its contents. The city fire department was unable to help, since the storehouse lay beyond reach of its hose. Some slight damage was done to the tracks of the Great Northern road by burning ties.

The Coast five-mile record was broken last week at the special meet at the State Fairgrounds under the auspices of the A. A. U., at Salem. The best time was made by Davolt of the State Agricultural College, his time being 28:39 1-5. The former record was held by Fred Verner, of Chicago, and was made August 4, 1905, at the Portland Exposition.

Tuesday morning the new city ordinance of Salem went into effect requiring that all saloon fronts shall be open in such a manner that people walking on the sidewalk may have a full and uninterrupted view of the barroom. Some saloons had previously complied with the law, a few of them having opened their fronts two weeks ago. The new ordinance also forbids the sale of liquor in the restricted district.

Dry weather is beginning to cause much uneasiness in Umatilla County. Sheepmen have been handicapped on their Spring range and in lambing this season to a large extent. Many owners have killed all twin lambs, saving only a single lamb for each ewe. Flocks are being driven to the mountains three weeks earlier than usual. While grain is not damaged, it is greatly in need of moisture, and every day of present weather emphasizes the need of rain. Spring sown grain is specially in need.

W. L. Gaston, a civil engineer, who was a prominent factor in the building of the first railroads in this state, died after a lingering death at Portland last week. Mr. Gaston came west in 1857 as a lieutenant of volunteers sent out by President Buchanan to suppress the Mormons, who were making raids on immigrant trains as they crossed the plains. Later he was detailed for service on the immigrant road from Fort Hall to Fort Walla Walla, to suppress the Indians. He made the first railway survey from Marysville, Cal., to Portland, and had charge of the transit personally from Jacksonville to Portland.

SUNDA SCHOOL WORKERS MEET ASSEMBLE IN ANNUAL CONVENTION Good Attendance From All Over the County—Delegates Listen to Reports and Addresses.

The annual Sunday School Convention of Wasco county opened its first session Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with song service lasting half an hour. On account of the absence of President Cook, W. S. Nichol, of Hood River, conducted the service. Rev. J. B. Parker, of the U. E. church, extended a hearty welcome to the delegates and friends of the convention.

Rev. C. A. Phipps, the field secretary, and a very bright and capable man, gave the principal address of the afternoon. His treatment of the topic, "The New Adult Movement," showed that he was very familiar with it and the interest which his hearers gave him displayed that they were in sympathy with his subject. This new adult movement, which is sweeping the Sunday school world, is a plan of organized classes. The advantages of class organization are many. Mr. Phipps said in part: "When business men organize and go after business, they start to win. It is not an accident that practically all the large, successful classes of the country are organized. The organized class becomes 'our class, not the teacher's class.' In the unorganized class if the teacher is removed, the class suffers greatly and sometimes disbands, the organized class will get another teacher. Organization increases the class spirit. In union there is strength. The weakness of one is supplemented by the strength of another. It becomes a force of work, not merely a field for work. The organized class does things for its members, for the Sunday school and the church. The organized class of men and the organized class of women are the magnets that will attract to the Sunday school service the boys and girls. The organized class is a dam across the Sunday school stream that holds the boys and girls in the Sunday school at a time when they are so easily lost from its membership. The Bible class has given to many young men and women their first impulse to lead christian lives and to do personal work. One of the first requisites in a place for them, they get them and after the members get them, give them something. The failure and indifference connected with some pupils' attendance can sometimes be overcome by the strength of the Smith plan, viz: Appointing several members of the class to go after the absent one. One to be appointed for each day, and have each member impress upon their friend the advantages and benefits of their class. The pupil will nearly always respond. The successful organized class in Elgin, Ill., taught by David C. Cook, was cited as an example of the program carried out.

A discussion then followed, in which Rev. W. A. Wood, of the Christian church, gave a few able remarks. Mr. Polling, of The Dalles, made a few good points and Mrs. Sigby spoke briefly on the "Art of Teaching."

Dr. Parker, of Hood River, was the last one to discuss the topic and his remarks showed a careful study of the subject.

The list of the delegates was read and also the names of the homes where they were to be entertained. After a closing song, Rev. Nutley, of Hood River, pronounced the benediction.

The evening session was opened at 7:30 with a splendid song service conducted by Prof. Crouse Messers. Parker, Hanna and Polling each gave a short prayer, followed by another song, and Secretary Gilhough then read the roll call of the Sunday schools in the county, which made a total of 33, with a membership of 2,840.

The committee on nomination for the election of officers for the ensuing year was then appointed, as follows: Hurligh Cash, of Hood River; Mrs. Weber, of The Dalles; Mr. Hill, of Dufrar.

At 8:30 Rev. C. A. Phipps delivered one of the finest addresses ever heard in Hood River on "The Call, the Work, the Wages." He said in part that in serving God you were serving humanity and in serving humanity you are serving God. A few teachers are the West Pointers of the world. These children that we are teaching now in 25 years will have more money to handle than we ever dreamed of. The future class will not have to go begging. The Sunday school is selfish in not living up to its opportunities. The wise teacher knows the pupil and that to be a teacher is not all play but work, eight days in the week, as one wise man has said. The universal plan that many teachers have adopted of not preparing their lessons thoroughly at home is a poor one. The best teacher begins the study of his lesson on his knees Monday morning and then anxiously arranges it every day of the week until Sunday when he can go before his class without his helps. One of the prominent speakers in last week's convention said that the skillful was an excellent thing to prepare a dinner with, but the best housewife did not serve the dinner on the skillet, and the helps are an excellent thing to prepare the lesson with, but a very poor thing to serve with the lesson. Get the lesson until the lesson gets you. Where there is no work there is no wage. You miss your greatest opportunity in not meeting the family of the pupil. In this way you get the co-operation of the parents and the more decided interest of the pupil. You cannot compute the worth of a human soul. No one knows the value of the soul you are in touch with and in the opportunities which are presented. The wages of love are much more lasting than dollars and cents. The joy and satisfaction of a soul sinner can only be appreciated by the experienced and you will not be satisfied with just one soul—you will get more.
