Several large salmon trout have been caught in the flumes running out of the west side ditch recently. They enter the large ditch from Hood River, and finally get into the small laterals, where they soon get into too small quarters to get out, and are furnishing many a meal for the strawberry farmers.
Capt. Harry Crandall brought in some very fine early cherries Tuesday, among the first to come in from the valley. He left a branch at the Glacier office which was just loaded with the ripe, red fruit. The Captain is somewhat of a tenderfoot in the fruit business, but is getting as good results from his model little ranch on the edge of town as the most experienced growers.
Sleever's Opp-Parrot.
Married, Sunday afternoon, May 31, 1908, Henry Sieverkrupp and Rachel Parrott, at the home of H. O. Sieverkrupp.
About thirty relatives and friends witnessed the very impressive ring ceremony pronounced by Rev. W. C. Gilmore.
The home was beautifully decorated with roses and Oregon grapes. Miss Amanda Sieverkrupp, with a graceful lock step, led the wedding march to the altar, where the groom and best man stood waiting, the bride presented by her father, A. C. Parrott. Mr. Elmer Referty and Mr. Wilson rendered accompanying music.
At 5:30 a most beautiful wedding dinner was served. The couple were the recipients of many valuable presents. After a wedding journey to Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Sieverkrupp will settle down at home on the farm where a fine opportunity awaits them. The Sieverkrupp orchard is one of the finest in the valley.
Their many friends extend wishes for long and useful home life.

Loses a Foot.

Grover Harris, young man about 19 years old, who has been tramping around the country for a couple of years, tried to board a freight train Monday morning about 2:30, in the yards, when he slipped and his foot went under the wheels. The great toe was cut off and the top of the foot horribly crushed. Aid was summoned and he was taken to the Cottage Hospital, where it was found necessary to remove the foot.
The unfortunate lad said that he left the home of his parents at North Yakima two years ago, since which time he has wandered over the country. A telegram to his father, S. E. Harris, brought back a message to give him proper care, which is being done. It is said his parents are in comfortable circumstances and did not know the whereabouts of their boy until the sad news of his accident.
