Representatives from every school district in Polk County assembled at Rickreall last week and celebrated the unveiling of a monument erected on the site of the cabin where the first school ever held in this county was opened in the year 1845. Only three of the original 16 pupils who attended the first school were present at the ceremony of unveiling. These were: Dr. T. V. B. Embree, Marcus Embree and Mrs. T. J. Hayter, of Dallas.

The McMinnville Local Long Distance Telephone Company, capital stock $20,000, which was subscribed by local people and Portland capital was organized at McMinnville last week. It is the intention to construct a long distance line from Portland to McMinnville. The new organization has taken over the stock of the Mutual company. Long distance connection will be made with the Home company in Portland. Farmers' and all rural lines now connected with the old Mutual will be given all rights and privileges, enjoying greater switchboard accommodations.

NEWS NOTES OF OREGON COUNTRY

INITIATIVE ELECTIONS DELAYED

Work Started on the Forest Grove-Portland Electric Railroad—Dan Doherty Convicted

Portland—Oregon will have no more taste of the initiative or of the referendum for two long years and five months. On matters of statewide importance it will be the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1910, before the people of the state will be called to vote again on the merits of measures coming from the people or submitted to them from the legislature. Incidentally, in case the referendum is invoked on any action of the legislature of 1909, it will not be possible for the people of the state to pass upon the question before November, 1910, thus holding up the matter for five months longer than usual, owing to the abolition of the general election on the first Monday of June.

The constitutional amendment adopted by the people at the last election, changing the time for holding general elections from June to November, has tacked on five additional months to the space of time before which the next initiative or referendum business can be done. The amendment does away with the general election of June, 1910, postponing the voting day to November.

Depository at Portland.

Portland—Beginning July 1, the Portland postoffice will be the depository for all postoffices of the state. Heretofore only the fourth-class postoffices have been required to remit their receipts to the local office, while the offices of the first, second and third grade have made all remittances to the San Francisco postoffice.

Another change affecting the payment of the 27 rural mailcarriers employed in this state will also go into effect the first of next month. All of these employes are paid monthly through the Portland postoffice, Postmaster Minto issuing his personal check covering each carrier's salary on the First National Bank of this city, the local depository of the postoffice.

Road to Be Built Soon.

Forest Grove—Dirt will be flying on the Oregon Electric Railway right of way between Hillsboro and Forest Grove within 30 days, providing the citizens of Forest Grove and along the proposed route will furnish the required 60-foot strip of land between the two cities.

The requirements, as outlined by the company, are: Forest Grove and Cornelius to furnish the right of way and terminal grounds in this city within 30 days. The route is almost a straight line from Hillsboro and will enter the city limits 1400 feet north of the Base Line and across a corner of the college campus.

Accused of Land Fraud.

Baker City—On the alleged charge that Charles Carsten, proprietor of the Baker City Dye Works, had falsely sworn in proving up a desert claim in Colorado in 1902, United States Marshal Terry arrived from Portland last week and placed Carsten under arrest. A preliminary hearing was held before United States Land Commissioner C. A. Moore and Carsten was held under a bond of $1000, for which he supplied the cash.

The defendant has been a resident of Baker City for about seven years and has the respect of the business men of this city.

Pendleton-Made Harvesters

Pendleton—Three new combined harvesters, the invention of J. D. Reynolds, have been manufactured at the Pendleton Iron Works during the past three months. Mr. Reynolds has been engaged upon perfecting a new principle in combined harvesters for a number of years, and has at last turned out three ideal machines, all of which have been purchased by Umatilla county farmers.

These machines have an 18-foot cut, and can be handled by 24 horses and will cut 30 acres per day in an ordinary day's work.

Dan Doherty Is Convicted.

Heppner—"Guilty as charged," was the verdict in the case against Dan P. Doherty last week. The verdict was reached in 15 hours.

Doherty was convicted on a charge of murder in the second degree for the killing of Oscar Allen in a barroom quarrel in Lexington, last fall. It is expected that Judge Fee, attorney for the defense, will appeal, although he made no statement to that effect.

OREGON STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Sparks from an engine set fire to the O. R. & N. depot at North Powder last week and burned to the ground.

The county court of Lincoln county has issued an order giving both Newport and Toledo money to establish high school courses immediately.

The Comptroller of the Currency has approved conversion of the First Bank of Hermiston, Or., into the First National Bank of Hermiston, with $25,000 capital.

Charles Green, representing Koshland Bros., of San Francisco, has purchased the 300,000-pound wool clip of Lee Bros. of Baker City. This is one of the largest clips in Oregon.

The large hotel at Boswell Springs, a health resort two miles south of Drain, burned Sunday night with all its contents, including a large number of costly paintings. The loss is more than $5000, with no insurance. It was owned by Mrs. E. E. Boswell.

In the circuit court at Oregon City last week, O. L. Puryear was awarded $250 by a jury in his suit against the Milwaukee Country Club for $1000, which was double the amount Puryear is said to have lost while gambling at the club.

Judge Bean having refused to grant the temporary restraining order asked by the attorneys for the liquor interests, the county court last week issued a double proclamation declaring the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage in the county of Umatilla prohibited.

The lumber mill and 2,000,000 feet of lumber owned by the Wind River Lumber Company at Menominee, four miles below Hood River, were totally destroyed by fire last week. Several cars belonging to the O. R. & N. also were burned. The loss is many thousands of dollars, partly covered by insurance.

The State Land Board has received from the United States a patent to about 11,000 acres of lieu land, selected on forest reserve bases. This patent covers all selections made up to February, 1907. As the land has been already sold, the patent does not mean that the state will have additional lands to offer for sale.

The following forest guards have been appointed in Oregon: George H. West, Cascade reserve, Mazama division; Smith L. Taylor, Cascade reserve, Willamette division; E. Barnes and Walter Allison, Blue Mountain reserve. Miss E. A. Newell has been appointed a clerk on the Cascade reserve.

For the purpose of seeing that the prohibition law is rigidly enforced in every precinct in the county, a Law and Enforcement League was formed in Pendleton last week. The purpose is to assist the officers in enforcing the law and to expose and prosecute every officer who who does not enforce the law; also to work for the upbuilding of the county.

P. J. Walsh, county sheep inspector of Wasco county, has filed his annual report of the condition of the sheep in this county, in which he says there is not a single case of scab in his jurisdiction. The report gives the lambing average at 80 per cent. The total number of sheep in Wasco county is given at 119,165.

Ex-President John H. Coleman, of Willamette University, has received an invitation to become president of the University of the Pacific at San Jose, Cal., and will probably accept. This university is under the patronage of the M. E. Church and has six buildings and about 300 students. The value of the plant is about $200,000 and it has $150,000 endowments.

The new safe put in Troutdale postoffice by the government to replace one destroyed by safecrackers last fall was blown so successfully last week that it was possible to carry off the steel strongbox bolted inside. It contained papers and money, part belonging to the government and part to Harlow, Blazier & Harlow. The postmaster declined to give the amount secured, but $700 is said to have been about the amount secured.

Five families, 16 in number, were seriously poisoned last week at North Yamhill by eating ice cream which had stood in the freezer over night. For a time it was thought that many of the sick people would die, and several times Reliance, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Moore, was given up for dead. Three physicians labored for several hours to save the victims, and all are now entirely out of danger.

It has been learned one of the most interesting details of the Umatilla land frauds to be brought out in the trial of those accused will be the manner in which entrymen were located upon their lands. It is said that about 60 entrymen were located upon their claims by one locator, who used the same "homesteader's" cabin for the entire 60 entrymen. The facts are that the cabin shown many entrymen as their 'residence," was from four to eight miles from their land, and the same cabin served for everybody who simply took the land for speculation.

A conference of representatives of the Harriman lines and of the Travelers' Protective Association was held last week at Salem, and it was agreed that further hearing upon the subject of mileage rates shall be continued until August 5. The traveling men want mileage books at 2½ cents a mile. The books now on sale are in the nature of scrip and cost, all told, about 2¾ cents a mile.

ROOSEVELT IS DOMINANT FACTOR

RULES REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Interstate Commerce Commission Orddrs Reduction in Rates on Hardwood to Coast Points

Chicago, June 15.—President Roosevelt is running this convention from the White House by long-distance telephone and other available instruments of ready and instant communication. He is the boss. The convention will do nothing that it thinks may be in the slightest degree objectionable to him, and it is in humor to do cheerfully and promptly everything that he favors. Take the case of the Vice-President.

It is reported that the President has given out an intimation that the Vice-President must be either Senator Dolliver or Governor Cummins, his chief political rival. Thus Iowa will get rid of one or the other of its chief factional disturbers and the troubles of that turbulent commonwealth will be composed.

The draft of the Republican platform made by Attorney-General Wade Ellis, of Ohio, and approved by President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft, is now in the possession of the prospective members of the committee on resolutions and will in all probability be adopted by the committee on resolutions with but slight changes.

The platform contains a most emphatic indorsement of the Roosevelt administration and its policies. It contains planks on the subjects of trusts, railroads, injunctions and currency. It declares for revision of the tariff by the next congress on the lines of the Ohio platform.

The anti-injunction plank of the platform as passed upon in Washington is as follows:

"We declare for such an amendment of the statutes of procedure in the Federal courts with respect to the use of the writ of injunction as will, on the one hand, prevent the summary issue of such orders without proper consideration, and on the other will preserve undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their process, to the end that justice may be done at all times and to all parties."

Labor leaders are urging the adoption of this plank, while employers are opposing it.

At the personal request of Secretary Taft, Senator Fulton was slated for chairman of committee on credentials at the Republican National Convention.

GIVES HOPE TO LUMBERMEN.

Orders Reduction in Old Rate on Hardwood From Chicago to Coast.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—In a decision rendered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission, hope is held out that Pacific Coast lumber cases, now pending, will be decided in favor of the lumbermen, and in event the decision is of that character, the commission will allow the lumbermen full recompense for the excessive rates they have paid since filing their complaint.

Today's decision bore on the rate on hardwood lumber shipped from Chicago territory to the Pacific Coast, the commission holding that while hardwood from Chicago to the Pacific Coast should undoubtedly pay a higher rate than softwood from the Pacific Coast to Chicago territory, yet at the same time the old rate of 85 cents on hardwood lumber is excessive and that rate was ordered reduced to 75 cents.

The commission further held that: "When the shipper has paid an excessive rate he may recover as reparation the difference between the rate paid and what would have been a reasonable rate at the time, even though he may not ultimately be damaged by payment of the higher rate." But reparation was allowed in this case only from date of filing the complaint.

A subscription has been circulated among Glendale's citizens to raise funds for a reward for the conviction of the person who attempted to blow up the Auditorium at that place recently. Over $1400 has already been subscribed. No clew has been discovered.

There is much indignation at Oregon Agricultural College on account of the theft by some one at the Salem railroad station last week of a monogram displayed on the locomotive of the student excursion train, en route to the Portland rose show. It was seven feet high and the wood was wrapped with the college colors.

In compliance with requests of the Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Association, R. B. Miller, general traffic manager of the O. R. & N. company, last week notified the association that warehouse sites had been granted by his company at State Line, Hadley and Ennis stations, and that a site would be granted at Valley Grove
