

THE RELIABLE CLOTHIER

CRAM'S

THE HOME OF PROGRESS

THE PEOPLE of HOOD RIVER Know Merit that's on Strength

The store that sells clothing that they tell you is "just as good" as CRAM'S CLOTHES are imitators; and our trade has increased so materially that we are convinced that imitations don't count for much in Hood River. People of taste and judgment want the best and that is why we sell more Suits than all the other stores combined.

Epping & Spencer contain 140 acres in all, and will be cleared and planted before next spring. Mr. Epping also informs us that he has sold a two-thirds interest in the W. C. Dodge tract in Dukes valley and will sell 400 goats on the place to clear the land of brush. About 15 acres are being cleared and will be set out to trees this fall. Monday morning Commodore Deen successfully towed the long log crib above the new wagon bridge, where it will be placed to turn the water off Hood River back towards its old channel and prevent further cutting away of the bank during the freshets of the river. It will be necessary that a dam be built across the new channel out of Hood River the last year or two, and the use of this log crib, which is no longer needed near the outlet, will save the city considerable money, as a new one would otherwise have to be built when the water goes down, the crib will be filled with rock and placed in a permanent position. C. A. Williams, of Portland, a assistant adjutant general of the Dept. of Oregon, G. A. R., was the guest of Commander Bythe three days last week and attended the meeting of Canby Post Saturday afternoon. E. Hartison went to Forest Grove to the commencement exercises at Pacific University. Miss Blanche, who is attending school there, will return with them for the summer vacation. Stevenson 6, Hood River 2. The local baseball team was defeated by the Stevenson aggregation last Sunday on the home grounds. The visitors started out strong at the first by getting one run in the first inning and clinched the game in the fatal fifth by annexing four runs. Hood River made their first score in the second when Bebee scored on a long drive to center by Meyers; and in the sixth Langold scored on an overthrow from first to third. Meyers pitched a good game for Hood River and should have won but for numerous errors which proved costly. Meyers secured sixteen strikeouts while Higgins secured half as many. Hotch, of Stevenson, made a spectacular run when he pulled down Castner's long drive to center that would have been good for two cushions. The line up is as follows: Stevenson Hood River Hotch cf Sheets Rummel 3b Geasling Emerick c Castner Van 2e Leopold Pickett lb Baker Richardson Kelley ss Richardson Long lf Bebee Kingsman rf Blower Higgins p Myers The score by innings: Stevenson 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Hood River 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 2 Umpire, Lunkey. Farewell Party. A farewell party was given on Monday last by Miss Ella Wiedrick for her sister, Hazel, whose marriage to Mr. Hinrichs took place yesterday. Each guest brought her favorite recipe for the bride to be and the girls wrote them in a little book bound with gray. The evening was spent in games and a dainty luncheon was served. The color scheme was in pink, and as each guest left, she was presented with a pink satin bag filled with rice. Knights Templar Entertained. Monday evening the members of Hood River Commandery were asked to meet at the Masonic Hall at 5:30 p. m., as important business would come up to precede the degree work of the evening. Upon arrival it was found that an elegant banquet was in store for those fortunate enough to be there, and after donning the regulation coat and fatigue cap they were marched to the residence of the Eminent Commander, where Mrs. Laraway had prepared an elegant banquet in honor of her son, Ralph, who was to receive the degree of the order that evening, together with Harry Bailey. Covers were laid for 22, and the feast exceeded, if possible, the initial banquet of the Knights at the institution of the Commandery by the grand officers, April 9. Relshazzar. The opera, "Relshazzar," given at the opera house Friday and Saturday evenings, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Christian church, was well received and enjoyed by local audiences. All the parts were taken by local talent under the direction of a professional and in the short time in which they remained their parts they did remarkable work. There was no criticism to offer, and the patrons of the performance were well pleased. Announcement Party. The club of young ladies, known as "Just Us Girls," was entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. A. H. Lathrop, and it proved to be a sort of surprise to the guests, as it was an announcement party, as they found upon their arrival. Dated at Hood River, Ore., this 16th day of June, 1908. Soule's Piano House We pride ourselves on the high quality of pianos we have placed in Hood River and vicinity during the past season. And we also appreciate the patronage of the people in this community which has enabled us to place seventy two pianos here, every one being standard instruments. This season we have fifty four more than all the Portland dealers and commission men combined. As to prices and quality we believe we demonstrated our ability to meet all competition in the recent church organ sale to the Congregational church, in which we all were asked to participate, and in which we received the honors. Our best advertisement lies in our splendid list of customers, which on account of lack of space, we can only partially enumerate. S. E. Bartness, Smith Bros Grocery, J. R. Nickelsen, D. McDonald, W.
