Osborne returned from a fishing trip to the Little White Salmon Friday. We are informed by the Judge that the trio caught 300 "small ones." Three hundred seems to be a very popular number with fishermen this summer. We have also observed that they make it a point to return home after dark. J. O. Goldthwaite, who is at present staying in Portland, has been at Hood River for several days looking for a location. As soon as he can find a place to his liking Mr. Goldthwaite will make a purchase, build a nice home and come to the valley to reside. Mr. Goldthwaite tells us that he paid $1,500 for a dozen Hood River apples in New York last winter. Dick Yates, who was driving the well known horse belonging to S. E. Bartness about town Friday, was run away with. The animal was scared into running away by an accident to the shafts of the wagon and made a hot pass through town, running as far as the Hartley block, where Dick piloted it into a tree. The wagon was quite badly damaged, but Master Yates escaped uninjured. When asked if he was frightened by his escapade he replied: "A little bit. Not much."

There will be regular meetings at the Alliance chapel every Sunday afternoon and Tuesday evening. C. E. Perry, superintendent. An apple of the Early Harvest variety is being exhibited in Laraway's jewelry store that is 1 1/2 inches in circumference. It was grown by Geo. T. Prather, who states that he picked all the other apples from the tree sometime ago and left this one because it was so small. Mr. Prather accounts for its size from the fact that a pipe near the tree leaked and caused the mammoth growth. E. H. Shepard has been advised that he has been elected a member of the International Apple Shippers' Association. As this organization does not as a rule elect any one to membership except those engaged in the buying and shipping of apples, and as the news of his election came to him as a surprise he attributes the action of the organization to a number of his friends who are engaged in the business. Dr. J. A. Jayne, of Springfield, Ore., brother of A. A. Jayne, of this city, has disposed of his interests in the Willamette valley and is about to locate at Hood River. He will be associated with Dr. Shaw and the new firm will have offices in the Elliott building. The Modern Brotherhood of America celebrated the anniversary of its organization last Friday evening by giving an entertainment. To the music of Beatty's orchestra about thirty members, with their wives and sweethearts, indulged in dancing until midnight, when refreshments were served. A report made of the conditions of the organization showed that it has enjoyed a good growth during the year, as it was started with 12 members and now has 50. The regular monthly meeting of the Commercial Club was held last Monday evening. Owing to the fact that a number of the officers and members were out of town nothing but routine business was transacted. In the absence of President Jayne, Chas. T. Early presided. Secretary P. S. Davidson reported the addition of two new members and also read a report from the committee on the proposed new building for the Commercial Club stating that the committee thought it best to delay any further action until later. A party consisting of Arch Adams, Elizabeth Hanna, L. Judd, Jack Schluter, Chas. Darley and Manager Harding, of the Home Telephone company, went to Cloud Cap Inn Saturday and Sunday made the ascent of the mountain. The party arrived at the summit about 11 o'clock and after spending an hour there returned, reaching the inn about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. In making the ascent Messrs. Judd and Schluter came near being badly injured by a boulder which became loosened by some of the climbers who were above them and rolled down. It missed Schluter's head by a few inches, but Judd was not so fortunate, as the flying rock struck him in the fleshy part of the leg and bruised it quite badly. The climbers returned home Sunday evening.
