

CORRESPONDENCE

ODELL.

O. H. Rhoads, Louis Rhoads and J. M. Shelley report blue game secured on their hunt recently. They shot two large bucks.

Mrs. L. A. E. Clark and daughter, Alice, sent to Portland Sunday evening for a few days' visit.

BELMONT.

A very enjoyable time was had at Belmont Friday night. There was an open session and the following program was rendered:

WHITE SALMON.

Mrs. H. B. Walsh, of the Pine Flat country, went to Hood River a few days ago to look over the orchards of that section.

80 feet above the river. He has a picture of the bridge which shows up blue.

J. H. Law, of Apple Center, passed through town this week en route to Hood River, where he will spend a few days looking over the orchards of that section.

M. Thornton, of the Buck Creek Lumber Co., reported that his company has about completed the filling of an order of 300,000 feet of pine lumber to the S. P. and S. railroad.

A party of young folks from this vicinity has been spending a pleasant week at Trout Lake, and on last Friday they climbed to the summit of Mt. Adams.

J. B. Humphrey happened to a severe accident last week. After taking off his shoes to retire he stepped on a needle that had fallen on the floor and broke part of it off in his foot.

J. T. Merrill preached his farewell sermon to the people of White Salmon last Sunday night.

H. E. Northrup returned to Portland last Tuesday morning, after a ten days' outing at Lost Lake with the Cooper-Bayley-Miller party, who came out from the lake Monday.

A meeting is called at the church grounds next Saturday morning for the purpose of erecting a woodshed and horse sheds.

Bert Sandmann and Mac Rush went to Lost Lake last week with a party from Odell.

The Endeavor meeting last Sunday evening was especially interesting.

A. E. Wright, cashier in the U. S. National Bank in Portland, left last Monday, after a week's sojourn at the D. R. Cooper home.
