

Robbed Satin in Transit

Our Fall Line of Ladies' Suits and Coats and Children's Coats was robbed in transit and almost half of it stolen. It breaks the line of sizes, and as they were not careful in replacing the goods in the box they are slightly mussed, and for this reason we are making a very attractive price on the lot. Call in and look them over. You will appreciate every article as a bargain : : :

FORMER HOOD RIVER BARTENDER KILLED

Andrew Wilcox employed at the Wagona Hotel in this city as bartender died at the Dalles Saturday as the result of being stabbed Thursday by a sheepherder named Shoughensy. The latter admits stabbing Wilcox who was employed in a saloon at The Dalles and stated to the officers who arrested him that he had a few drinks in the place having with him a dog which he valued very highly. When he got ready to leave the saloon he says that he could not find the dog and avers that Wilcox tried to steal it and had hidden it in an adjoining room. When he tried to enter the room to get his dog, he says that Wilcox pushed him away from the door and repeated this performance when he tried to gain admission to the room the second time. He told the officers that the third time he attempted to gain admission into the room, where he claims his dog was, that he drew his knife, as Wilcox was too large a man for him to fight openly. He cut the bartender across the lower part of the stomach, causing a long gash, then withdrawing the knife, stabbed him in the shoulder and again stabbed him in the face and in doing so the blade of the weapon broke off and was not removed from the bartender's face until he was taken to the sanatorium. Wilcox was at once taken to The Dalles sanatorium, while the sheepherder was hurried to the city jail. Shoughensy was taken before City Recorder J. M. Pillion, justice of the peace, and was committed to the county jail without bonds.

Taft-Sherman Club Meets.
A well attended meeting of the Taft-Sherman Reulbean Club of Hood River was held last Thursday evening. J. L. Carter, president of the club, presided. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been approved, D. McDonald was elected vice-president of the new organization and a constitution and by-laws which had been prepared by a committee appointed for that purpose was adopted. On motion an executive committee consisting of L. N. Blowers, G. A. McCurdy and E. H. Hartwig was appointed by the president. A motion was also carried to appoint a membership committee and the chair appointed G. R. Castner, J. M. Schmitz, W. H. Walton, Wm. Kennedy and Chris Dethman. Other matters of interest to the organization that were taken up were those of selecting speakers to address meetings at Hood River during the coming campaign, the distribution of literature and the organization of Republican clubs throughout the valley. The meeting was also addressed in regard to the issues of the campaign by President Chas. T. Early, Roswell Shelley and D. McDonald. The meeting was then adjourned to convene at the call of the president.

The J. U. G. Club Meets.
The J. U. G. Club met last Friday evening with Miss Gladys Hartley at her beautiful home on State street. For the benefit of the uninformed we will say that the letters the J. U.

G. which represent the name of the club are not as significant as they may appear, as they are an abbreviation of Just Us Girls. The club has 14 members all of whom were present at Miss Hartley's and in addition a number of their girl friends. The program arranged for last week's meeting was Dutch in character, the young ladies being attired in Dutch caps and aprons. Wooden shoes, however, were tabooed. To harmonize with the costumes of the young ladies, who were representing the fair demure of Holland, the decorations were Dutch, as was also the luncheon. During the evening an interesting musical and literary program was rendered and a very pleasant time had by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

The club members have adopted a small silver pin representing a jug on which are the letters J. U. G. as the official emblem of their organization.

Conference of Board of Charities.
The Directors of the Board of the Oregon Conference of Charities and Correction herewith announce that a conference of that body will meet in the City of Portland on October 11-13. These dates have been chosen some days in advance of the time first intended, in order to secure the attendance and co-operation of some of the leaders of philanthropy who will be at the Washington Conference of October 5-8. In particular the committee is happy to state that the Hon. Samuel J. Barrows, of New York City, Secretary of the Prison Commission, and also President of the International Prison Congress, has consented to take part in our Conference, and also Mrs. Isabella C. Barrows, his wife.

Meetings will probably be held in the chapel of the Church of Our Father, Seventh and Yamhill streets.

There will be a conference sermon and address, probably in some church of this city, on Sunday evening, October 11, and three sessions each for the 12th and 13th, the evening meetings being platform meetings with leading speakers and a reception. Among the subjects upon which it is hoped Dr. and Mrs. Barrows will address us while here is their visit of a few months since to Count Leo Tolstol, with a review of Russian affairs.

Notice.
We wish to announce that we have sold our business to Messrs. Wood & Huggins, who will continue the business at the old stand.
We wish to thank the people of Hood River for the kindness and consideration shown us during the years we have been in business here.
We would also respectfully ask all who have accounts with the old firm to please call and settle.
Very truly yours,
Wood & Smith Bros.

Lossened Up the Apple Market.
News from Portland says that it is rumored that the fruit brokers of New York City got together recently, had a midnight meeting down in the sub-way, and decided that they were not going to pay fancy prices for Oregon and Washington apples.
There was at least one commission man who did not attend this meeting, however, and he sneaked off to Hood River and bought 80,000 boxes. A grapevine telegram says that 150,000 more have been sold and eastern commission men have been plentiful in the Yakima, Egoe River, Grande Ronde, Wenatchee, and other fruit producing sections.

Some Recent Real Estate Sales.
Hattie E. Crockett to McGuire Bros., 10 acres in clover near Odell.
O. H. Roades to W. O. McCaw of Walla Walla, Wash., 10 acres of cleared land.
H. C. Coe to C. A. Cass, 25 lots in Coe's Addition. These are some of the best residence lots in the city and some nice residences will be built in this addition early next spring.
These sales were made by J. H. Heilbronner and Company.

CRAPPER.
Rev. B. F. Brown of Belmont preached his first sermon for the present conference year at Oak Grove hall on last Sunday afternoon.
Mrs. Brosil, after spending a year visiting with friends in North Dakota, returned to Hood River recently.
Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hackett, after an extended visit to Oklahoma, returned home on Wednesday of last week. That state was Mrs. Hackett's former home and she says that when she went back there the country did not look half as good as when she left. That is the result of living a few years in Hood River valley.
The teachers of the Crapper school, the Misses Burns and Buchanan, are attending the teachers' institute at The Dalles this week.
Prof. Brown of the Frankton school attended church at Oak Grove hall on last Sunday afternoon.
Miss Mayberry, of Oklahoma, arrived in this neighborhood on Wednesday of last week. She will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Ackett.
Mrs. James Moe left on last Sunday for Texas. She expects to spend the winter in that state.

BARRETT.
Ed. Watts, the Englishman, has returned home after an absence of four months to Warm Springs Indian reservation. Ed has been putting on plaster on the schools and dormitories. Ed is a regular sticker. When others left he still held on. Well, I am glad he has returned as there was so many calling for Watts, the plasterer.

The sound of the mason's trowel can be heard and very soon the carpenter's ring of the hammer will be heard in the south west part of the Barrett district. Then after that wedding bells will be heard and rice scattered, then the honeymoon, after that S. and F. will be home to receive callers.
The Rockford shoe sale is quite a success and every one well pleased with their bargains.
Charley Camp had a very sick horse on Sunday morning last. It had a violent attack of spasmodic colic. Charley hurried him to the Rockford man, who fixed him up in good shape in about two hours.
John Catstner's best milking cow thought she would get a corner on the apple market by entering John's orchard and biting up until her pelt was ready to burst. So Brayford was sent for to let out the wind and after a little while the market went down.
A new man with his wife and family has just been installed on the old Meadow Brook farm and Fred, of course, has gone to building with his old friend, K.
We would remind all who intend to vote at the next general election in November that they must register or they cannot vote without being sworn in.
E. Brayford, the Rockford merchant being a notary, can register you if you call.
Albert Gibbons passed through our streets on Friday last with his cheerful laugh as usual. "Let thine heart be merry."

GRAND OPENING

October 8th, 1908

We wish to extend to the people of Hood River City and Valley a most cordial invitation to visit our store Thursday, October 8th. As we are new people here in your town we are anxious to meet you all and get acquainted. We hope to make this day the beginning of a long and pleasant business career in your midst. We have taken a long lease on the building recently occupied by L. H. Huggins & Co. and are making many new improvements, both inside and out. When everything is completed we hope to make our store one of the most attractive and pleasant places for you to trade in the city.

Yours for good quality and right prices,

F. H. MORLAN

A handsome souvenir will be given to each lady visiting our Store on this day
