Meeting of Commercial Club
The regular meeting of the Hood River commercial club was held last Monday night. President A. A. Jayne presided at the meeting and the business transacted was largely of a routine nature. Among the matters taken up was that of taking steps to place and exhibit fruit at the National Apple Show which opens at Spokane December 1st. Mr. C. D. Thompson, secretary of the fair association who was present, presented the matter to the club which after considerable discussion was referred to a committee consisting of himself, G. R. Castner and J. A. Wilson with instructions to take the matter up with the officers of the county court.
Cow Visits Hanna & Perigo
A cow that was being driven through Oak street Wednesday morning by young Hartley suddenly took a notion to visit the grocery store of Hanna and Perigo & made a dash for the door. Bolting through it she fell just as she got inside and made things lively for a few minutes until she could be held down. To remove the animal it was necessary to secure ropes and haul her out of the store. No particular damage was done and it is thought that the animal was attracted by the fine fresh cabbage which she saw displayed in the window. This is only another demonstration of the fact that it pays to advertise.
Exhibitors Busy Placing Displays
A good many exhibitors were busy yesterday getting their exhibits in place. One of them was A. P. Bateman of Mosier who was placing a fine display of Spitzers, Skamania county will have a display at the fair for the first time. It is in charge of Roswell Shelley and for variety it will be hard to beat. It consists of fruit, vegetables, grains and cereals and in fact about everything that can be grown in the temperate zone. The first exhibit to be placed was one made by A. C. Buck consisting of a most remarkable growth of onions.
The fair managers and carpenters put the finishing touches on the interior of the pavilion yesterday afternoon. A large platform has been erected in the west end of the pavilion and it is also provided with several large arc lights. Red and yellow, the fair colors, are everywhere in evidence and the decorating is in the competent hands of J. S. Booth. The arrangement of the tables and racks permit of a much finer display than has ever been made by the fair association before and when filled the pavilion will present a beautiful sight.
