UNITARIANS CLOSE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The sixth annual session of the North Pacific conference came to a close at a late hour Thursday night, after what is said to have been the most notable gathering of that church in this district.

The delegates were enthusiastic over the reception given them at Hood River. On leaving for their homes they expressed themselves as very much pleased with their trip through the apple growing districts of the valley.

The closing session of the conference was the most interesting that was held. It was opened with a devotion al service led by Rev. N. Baker, pastor of the Unitarian church at Portland. This was followed by a violin solo by William Chandler, a young violinist of Hood River, who rendered one of Kubelik's selections with rare skill.

Hon. E. L. Smith delivered the principal address of the evening, reviewing Unitarianism on the coast.

He told about arriving at San Francisco in the early sixties, just as the war was breaking out, carrying a letter of introduction to Star King, the pioneer Unitarian minister of the coast. At that time Mr. Smith said that the news of the great conflict had just reached San Francisco, and General Johnson, who had been a classmate of Jefferson Davis and was in charge of the United States army department of the Pacific coast, was in sympathy with the secession of the southern states. It was learned that he contemplated closing the ports of San Francisco and seizing the government of the state to aid the southern cause.

Mr. King, Mr. Smith stated, toured the state, making hundreds of speeches and arousing so much opposition that Johnson was unable to carry out his plans. In this work Mr. Smith said that King became a martyr to the cause, as the severe strain ruined his health. The speaker told of the struggles of the comparatively new denomination to get a foothold on the coast and paid a glowing tribute to Dr. T. L. Elliot, who was Portland's first Unitarian minister, who was present in the audience. It was through Mr. Elliot, he said, that Portland was largely indebted for its public library and many reform movements in charitable and prison work. The broadness of the Unitarian faith made it possible, the speaker declared, for the most untrammeled thinkers to embrace it, and he called attention to the fact that Whittier, Emerson and Hawthorne, who, he said, were the greatest literary lights of the American continent, were Unitarians.

At the conclusion of Mr. Smith's address, Rev. Paul S. Handy of Salem, addressed the meeting and Miss Helen Johnson gave a piano solo. The session of the conference was concluded by an address by Rev. Dr. Elliot of Portland.

The next meeting of the conference will be held at Everett, Wash., in 1909.

BABY'S ITCH EASILY CURED
 Infantile Eczema Quickly Relieved by External Use of Oil of Wintergreen Compound.
 Infantile eczema; which has baffled the skill of the best physicians for so many years at last seems to be curable—and curable with great ease.

Results of the last two years indicate conclusively that baby's itch, infantile eczema and other skin diseases of children can be very simply cured by the application of a compound composed of oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription.

The Rev. Lewis Steeley, of Westbury, Pa., writes:

"Our baby boy's little face was so dreadfully covered with eczema that blood and water ran from the sores nearly all the time. After using 24 bottles of D. D. D. Prescription we are so happy to tell you he is entirely cured and the disease has never broken out again. If this letter is in any way a help to other sufferers, you may publish it."

If you have a child which is suffering with this terrible itch, we are sure you will not neglect one hour to give your baby the right kind of relief. We have seen too often how quickly the remedy mentioned above takes the itch away at once and how all the cures seem to be permanent; we have seen this too often to hesitate at all in recommending the remedy for your children.

Eddie L. Smith.
 The accidental death of Eddie Le Roy Smith, known far and near as Ed., has cast gloom and sorrow upon the whole community and many friends mourn his untimely death. Ed. was born Nov. 30th, 1883, in Holt county, Nebraska, and only lacked two months of being 25 years old, and just at midnight doct his life is taken away. He came to Hood River in May, 1902, and secured employment with the Davenport Bros. Lumber Company, where he was a trusted employee. At the time of the retirement of the Davenport Bros, he went to the Willamette Valley where he spent several months. Returning during the summer he again secured employment with the Stanley Smith Lumber Company at Green Point as engineer of a logging engine, and on October 3rd, 1908, while working at his engine met his death. Timber fallers at work nearby losing control of a tree by breaking across the stump caused the terrible accident. The breaking tree and the warning call of his mate came to his ears, but that same courage that causes many engineers to stand by their engines in the very jaws of death caused him to stop and shut down his engine and for this he gave up his life, as eight feet more would have carried him out of all danger.

Besides a host of friends who mourn his tragic death, he leaves a father, S. Smith, one brother, Frank, and four sisters who are Mrs. Clara Camp, May, Kittie, and Della, all of Hood River valley.

A noble, a generous and loving brother, has crossed the silent river there to await the coming of those he loved.

University Club Will Entertain.
 The Hood River University Club has planned to have permanent quarters during the fruit fair and will erect a tent to exhibit its guests. The members of the club will also give a banquet at the Mount Hood Hotel Saturday evening, the closing day of the fair, and its members are very enthusiastic over the large number that have signified their intention of being present. The invitations issued for the banquet are unique and the program as outlined is as follows:

Wear your Tuxedo dress suit, or any old suit. Kabki or corduroy gives also. Make your own reserves for rooms at the hotel. All kinds of college stunts on "sp—college songs, college yells, speeches, toasts, and a big feed. A special train from Portland. Plenty of smokers free. Hood River now has the distinction of being the only village in the world having a University Club.

The club now has eighty-one members and it has been ascertained that there are 115 college men in the valley.

Organize Tait-Sherman Club.
 Upon call of A. M. Kelley, precinct committeeman of Baldwin precinct, a number of Republicans met in Mount Hood hall Saturday evening and organized a Tait-Sherman club with the following officers: Pres. A. U. Kelly; Vice-President, G. M. Wisbart; Sec., C. A. Puddy; Treas., G. M. Dimmick; Executive committee, R. J. Meisnac, G. M. Wisbart and G. M. Dimmick. It is expected that a big rally will be held there in the near future and prominent speakers secured. Movement toward this end is now being pushed.
