Issued Every Thursday by ARTHUR D. MOE, Publisher.

A half dozen young women, school teachers, are reclaiming a tract near Moses Lake, in this state, which for years has been known to the residents of the country as "The Desert," through its aridity.

Recently a number of young women have entered the country to teach the schools. A trip of inspection convinced them that this waste land was worth homesteading and they filed their claims.

The time is fast approaching for the city election at which time a mayor and three councilmen are to be chosen to help guide the affairs of our fast growing municipality.

THE CITY ELECTION

The time is fast approaching for the city election at which time a mayor and three councilmen are to be chosen to help guide the affairs of our fast growing municipality.

We are, however, at a very important era in the city's progress. The time of cow paths and village methods has passed. The city is expanding in every direction, in population, in business, in enterprise, in education, in ethics and it should not be lacking in public spirit.

The pigskin was now on the 25 yard line and Hood River had the ball. They tried a center rush but the ball was fumbled and rolled on the ground about five yards toward Golden Dale's goal.

Baker made a 20-yard forward pass to Hartley and a few scrimmage took place. Baker made an 8-yard end run and Johnson a line buck of four yards and the ball was again put into play.

As we have said before Hood River has outgrown the 2nd plan of government. Its city officials should not be hampered with the Noah's Ark and grandpa ideas of the decadent past.

The city election this year takes place Monday, December 6, and we would suggest that the taxpayers and business interests of the city devote the time necessary to securing candidates who will give the city as near as possible the kind of an administration its interests demand.

Mary Comini, of The Dalles, was a visitor in Hood River, Saturday and Sunday.

Philip H. Carroll went to Portland Wednesday for a visit with his mother in that city.

P. A. Smith spent a few days in Portland last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wallace went to Portland Wednesday for a visit with friends and relatives.

W. G. Snow was a Portland visitor this week.

GOLDENDALE AND HOOD RIVER TIE

The day was fine and clear and about 250 spectators witnessed the game. The game was called for 3:30 but did not begin until 4:35.

Golden Dale brought down a professional football player named Jewett to play fullback and Moe and Handy failed to do. Anyone entering into amateur athletics is required to go to school at least two weeks before they can play with the team.

Golden Dale would not pay without him so, after an hour's discussion the game started. At 4:35 p. m. the ball was put into play by Jewett of Golden Dale who kicked from the middle of the field to the 25-yard line into the hands of Coshov.

There were two scrimmages and no yardage was gained so Baker punted to the 35-yard line while Moe, tearing loose from his position on end, ran down and recovered the ball. Bell then fumbled the ball and Aldrich fell on it.

Johnson made a line buck in which he dove into the line and gained a yardage of ten feet. Baker made another 30-yard punt which was caught by Jewett, while Coshov, punning down the field at about the same rate as the ball, sailed him in his tracks.

The game then proceeded at ten or fifteen minutes with hard, diligent and honest playing but no touchdowns were made. Both teams were in danger several times but were evenly matched.

The second half began at 4:45 and the kickoff by Hood River sent the ball 25 or 30 yards down the gridiron. After several minutes of play, Golden Dale began to get rough and MacFarland and Hartley were scratched up a bit, and the visitors penalized several times for foul playing.

The pigskin was now on the 25 yard line and Hood River had the ball. They tried a center rush but the ball was fumbled and rolled on the ground about five yards toward Golden Dale's goal.

Baker made a 20-yard forward pass to Hartley and a few scrimmage took place. Baker made an 8-yard end run and Johnson a line buck of four yards and the ball was again put into play.

MAKE EFFORT TO DEFEAT CHAMBERLAIN

Initial steps to defeat the election of Governor Chamberlain as United States Senator by the legislature next winter says the Oregonian, have been taken by the Sellwood Republican Club.

This organization has appointed a committee that is instructed to circulate petitions among the voters relieving the Republican Legislature of Multnomah County, who subscribed to statement No. 1, from discharging that obligation.

Another very pleasant social event was added last week to those which have already ushered in the season for entertaining at Hood River when Mrs. E. O. Blanchard, Mrs. I. J. Kincaid and Mrs. A. D. Moe entertained at the fine home of the latter on Oak Street, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

The entertainment was in the form of a play, ten tables being put in play each afternoon. On Wednesday the prizes were won by Mrs. R. H. Wallace who took first, Mrs. Chas. Wilson receiving the consolation prize.

Thursday Miss Horning was the fortunate one, Mrs. A. M. Kelsoy taking the consolation prize. At the end of play each afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

Growsome Find at The Dalles

A growsome find was discovered Tuesday morning by Mrs. O. C. Bowers, who while out walking with her children, found the body of a dead man at the rear of the residence of J. M. Marsten on West Fourth street, says the Chronicle.

The body was covered with a blanket and it was supposed the man was merely asleep but further investigation showed that he was dead. Coroner C. N. Borger was notified and conveyed the body to the morgue.

On searching the pockets of the dead man it was seen by a note book that his name was John Carlson and by his burned lips and a bottle labeled "carbolic acid" on his person that he had come to his death by taking that drug. The bottle was empty.

Carlson had a quantity of provisions near him when found and by his clothing it is judged that he was a laborer and traveling through the country and probably was out of work and dependent on decided to end his life.

He was a man of about 40 years of age. G. W. Dimmick left Tuesday night for Starbuck, Wash., for a several days visit.

Carl Hess returned from Portland Monday where he spent the day on a business visit.

The Ladies Aid Society of the United Brethren church will hold their Kensington and table sale at the home of Mrs. O. B. Hartley, November 13. A good program will be rendered. Everybody invited.

The ministers and their ladies will meet at the Mount Hood Hotel Monday, November 16, at 11:30 A. M. This is to be a social session and all are requested to be present, dinner at 12:35.

Good Weather for Fruit Men

During the past week apple growers never had finer weather in which to harvest their fruit and taking advantage of it thousands of boxes have been picked and put under cover.

Notwithstanding the efforts of the union to provide pickers considerable difficulty is being experienced in getting crews and shipments are not being made as rapidly as was expected.

The big receiving warehouse at Van Horn is providing a big help to growers on the east side where much of the fruit is being inspected and shipped under the direction of S. G. Campbell.

1000 Students at O. A. C. The Oregon Agricultural College opened the school term this year with over 1,000 students, every county in the state being represented except Lake. Of this number 257 are women. The students from Hood River county are: Roy O. McGee, Bliss L. Clark, William Clark, Berthel C. Copley, Guy Gabriel, Lloyd L. Gabriel, Mildred R. Gabriel, Carl E. Gilligan, Carl Hill, Russell A. McCauley, Earl W. Moses, Rufus K. Ordway, Joel W. Powell, Orson L. Rhodes, Jolly M. Shelley, Edith M. Sproat, Marion Sproat, Charles C. Thompson, Lattimer H. We will not furnish water hereafter to be used in any but "close" closets. A word to the wise is sufficient. Electric Light, Power & Water Co.

The bowling alleys adjoining Carl Rice's cigar store have been put in first class condition for the winter season of bowling and several interesting matches have already been held. Bowling is becoming a popular pastime in addition to affording good exercise for those whose business is confining. It is expected that this winter will see even more interest in this game than was shown last season.
