HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WIN BY 12 TO 0

Rushed at the beginning, failing to cause a touchback toward the last, and finally outgeneraled, the Stevens Addition team of Portland met with defeat on the Columbia Park grounds in the Thanksgiving Day game Thursday afternoon. The score of 12 to 0 was made possble by the speed of the home team in which Johnson made the first touchdown four minutes after the ball was put into play, by McNeal fumbling and by the clever end runs made by Coshow.

About 400 paid to witness the game but nearly a hundred more came through the broken fence.

Both teams were in for a square deal, but the visiting team got knocked around considerably. The Hood River rooters could be heard a mile from the grounds and they were helped by the town band

Hood River went into the game with the usual spirit and while they did not expect to win so easily, nevertheless they played hard and vigorous After the home team had so readily made the first touchdown it looked as if they were going to beat the Portlanders to a finish. It was not the cleanest, nor the most brilliant game ever played on the field, but there were times during each half when the individual plays assisted by the men on both teams gave the crowd a chance to give vent to their deep-throated crackling yell of joy.

The High School team had the first kickoff which sent the ball forty yards down the gridiron. The clubmen punted back but Hood River charged to the front in a jiffy, and on the fourth down, Johnson plowed through the line for a touchdown, but failed to kick goal.

The battle seesawed across the field the rest of the first half and no more scoring was done. Hood River seemed to have their heads up in the air after such a whirlwind of a start, while the visitors held them down for the rest of the half. Phillips handled his opponent like a feather and made many spectacular plays. Onthank, playing center, also showed up well by knocking his opponent over and twice presenting himself before McNeals punt and falling on the ball. Moe recovered many punts. The visitors made most of their yardage by punting.

After ten minutes rest, McNeal kicked off for Stevens Addition, his punt carrying to Johnson on Hood River's 10-yard line, but the short doughty left half ran the ball in 35 yards before being stopped. One of the clubmen was hurt and taken off the field. The game proceeded about fifteen minutes, when Bell was hurt and Baker put in his place, before the finishing touches were put on the game. The pigskin was on Hood River's 30-yard line when the ball was fumbled by the visitor's quarter back and Coshow picking it up, ran down the gridiron through the scattered mob of players. He was tackled three times before being stopped. In the meantime Baker, who was close behind, plunged into the man that was about to tackle Coshow and bit his tongue nearly in two. It bled profusely but he kept on playing.

Baker made an end run and a punt which sent the ball on the visitors 5-yard line. They tried to make a touchback but fumbled and McFarland picked it up and ran behind the goal post, adding two points to Hood River's score.

The ball was then taken back 25 yards and McNeal punted to Coshow who brought it back 15 yards. Baker made a side punt of 30 yards and Hartley recovered the ball. Coshow made a long end run of 15 yards and stopped directly on the goal line. Baker failed to kick goal and time was up.

Theyvisitors took their defeat cheerfully and gave Hood River a square deal.

This is probably the last game the High School will play this season. They have won two games, tied twice and were defeated once. We have won a total of 40 points against a total of 22 points scored by opposing teams. Mr. Bandy deserves great credit as coach for giving us his time and also for the great work he has done in developing the fastest and best football team the High School has ever had.

Visits Scenes of Early Life

Editor Glacier: I must write ere the picture fades.

Yesterday, leaving Arlington at 12:45 the iron horse puffs and snorts on its winding way over the hills to Condon, threading canyons crooking here and there and at every turn showing unmistakeable evidences of modern civilization and substantial improvement. The air was crisp but clear showing only a few white banks of cloud that floated lazily off into illimitable space. These in contrast with the long trailing black smoke of the engine drifting northward rounded up a charming picture. Reaching the highest point, an elevation of 2800 feet above sea level, and looking westward at one sweep of the vision the eye beheld a picture which no artist's brush could duplicate. Mount Hood to the south, with Adams to the north with a glimpse of the Cascade range at the foot of which you see spread out for miles and miles the bunch grass hills which revive old memories of cow boy days during the early seventies. Still below these the rocky breaks of the Columbia river gorge are clearly outlined and all in all the picture with its vastness and grandeur is awe inspiring and even the clinking of the bottles of some boozers on the car scarcely attracts my attention. All along the line we note brown stubble fields that so closely cover the ground that it clearly demonstarted that this is a wheat country. Comfortable farm houses with an occasional school house dot the hills, while well fenced lands and plowed fields have taken the place of sage brush and the skulking coyote. Hundreds of cattle and horses are startled as the train passes by.

Condon is the county seat of Gilliam County It has a population of 1500. There are several good brick buildings, a well appointed court house and the county is out of debt. Returning after 28 years to a country that was once familiar to me but with no financial attractions is another proof of the marvels of modern civilization. Yet with its changed condition it seems like coming into my own again.

It is only 20 miles from here to Fossil which was one of our branding places for cattle and just over the hill from there in the cove toward John Days river we frequently camped over night and to protect our beds from rattlesnakes stretched a hair rope around our beds, an article we always carried on the horn of the saddle. All of these scenes now before me recalls to my mind the familiar faces of the old cow-boy gang composed of Bill Henkle, the Mays boys, Maupin boys, Winlock Stevens, Frank Laughlin, Henry Sturs, Charley Adams and perhaps some others who in present haste may be omitted from the list. These boys once lithe and supple are now with myself showing the many winters that have come and gone since those care free cow boy days. Among the historic hills of eastrn Oregon.

The hands of the clock point forward and the never ending ticking of the clock of human life is swiftly crowding us to our final goal. Looking backward the span of years has passed all to quickly and we pause and meditate, our pencil almost refusing to round out the paragraph as we put out into the uncertain future.

Less than three years ago the O. R. & N. ran this branch to Condon which was the beginning of the changing of these bunch grass hills into waving grain fields.

Remembering Jim Hill's prophesy that the days of cheap wheat are over, this with all other favored ones in the Northwest is surely bound to grow and with its growth values will increase.

We were accompanied on this trip by John S. Booth, the ex-merchant prince of Hood River, who proved a charming traveling companion and on our return trip at to Arlington where we separated, I crossing the river to Roosevelt and he returning by the O. R. & N. to Hood River, I was loath to part with him. Rosewell Shelley.

Frankton Notes.

J. S. Davidson and family have moved into their new house on the twelve acres purchased off the Paradise farm. His present house will be used for a barn after his new dwelling house is completed.

L. M. Bentley and family also occupy a new barn which will shelter them until a more pretentious dwelling house is completed. A. C. Lenders is improving his piece of land on Paradise Farm and will build a bungalow in the spring.

Will Isenberg has about four acres slashed on his tract and will plant to apple trees in the spring.

George Sharp, who sold to J. S. Davidson, has purchased another slice of Paradise farm and is having some of it cleared.

Among the numerous curios and freaks of nautre to be found at Wau Guin Guin, Robert Rand has a stump of a fir sapling that was cut off by the late Benjamin Hull, 19 years ago. The stump was then about four inches across and continued to grow, showing plainly 18 rings of growth until cut off by Mr. Rand. A complete cap surmounts the stump.

A. C. Staten is setting more apple trees and will soon have all of his land in orchard.

The school clerk has finished taking the school census of Frankton district. He found 82 males and 82 females of school age. This is a great falling off from the number enumerated last year, caused by a part of our territory being annexed to Barrett district and by the loss of the mill at Menominee.

C. B. Gabriel, who was stricken by paralysis last fall, is improving and is now in a fair way to recover.

C. S Wheeler is bed fast, suffering from a severe cold contracted three weeks ago.

H. E. Knopf, who recently recovered from an attack of pneumonia, is now confined to the house with a case of quinsy.

Frankton people are rejoicing over the good prospects for the new road through Paradise Farm. Frank Caddy has set his fence back and has made a good roadway as far as his land goes. Others will at once do likewise
