

Hood River Glacier

We are pleased to note that Hood River is honored in the fact that the art class of Syracuse University of which Miss Julia Hill, a Hood River girl is instructor, took second prize in the world wide competitive exhibition of art students which took place in London last month.

The two horticultural meetings which have been arranged for Hood River under the auspices of the local society ought to be well attended. At no time has it been the good fortune of Hood River to have an array of such eminent ability in demonstrating the practical and theoretical side of horticulture as will be present on that occasion.

TWO BIG HORTICULTURAL MEETINGS

December 21 and 22 are the dates that have been selected to hold the two day horticultural meetings here which will take place under the auspices of the local horticultural society at the Opera House.

An excellent program has been arranged which is expected to be of special interest, including several musical numbers.

Besides the faculty of the Oregon experiment station local speakers will also address the meetings including E. H. Shepard, C. H. Sprout, J. L. Carter, J. C. Porter and B. R. Tucker.

The program is as follows: Monday, Dec. 21, 10 a. m. "Diversified Farming," Prof. James Whitecombe, Director of Experiment Station, Corvallis. Discussion.

"Renewing Unprofitable Fruit Trees," J. L. Carter. Discussion. Monday, Dec. 21, 1:30 p. m. "Importance of making the Country Home Attractive and Beautifying the Grounds," Mrs. Wm. Kerr.

Musical selection, Mrs. P. S. Davidson. "Benefits of Horticultural Meetings and Exhibits," E. H. Shepard. Discussion. Evening, 7:30 p. m. Stereopticon illustrated lecture. College scenes, live stock, etc.

Musical selection at 8:30 p. m. Miss Hanna. Tuesday, Dec. 22, 10 a. m. "Apple Scab and Pungus," Prof. A. B. Cordley, Dean of Oregon Agricultural College. Discussion.

"Soils," Prof. C. E. Bradley, Chemist of Oregon Agricultural College. Discussion. Tuesday afternoon, 1:30. "Cover Crops and Irrigation in Reference to Fruit Growing," Prof. C. I. Lewis, Horticulturist of Oregon Agricultural College. Discussion.

Musical selection, Mrs. Edmunds. "Pruning," B. R. Tucker. Discussion.

Christmas Program at M. E. Church. The services at the Academy Methodist Episcopal Church next Sabbath will be peculiarly appropriate to the Christmas season. The following order of services will be observed:

MASONIC HONORS FOR HOOD RIVER

Masonic honors were conferred upon Hood River Saturday when its recently organized commandery of Knights Templar was constituted by officers of the grand lodge. The constituting officers arrived from Portland on the morning train and were met by a delegation from Hood River Commandery No. 12 and escorted to the Mount Hood Hotel.

The two horticultural meetings which have been arranged for Hood River under the auspices of the local society ought to be well attended. At no time has it been the good fortune of Hood River to have an array of such eminent ability in demonstrating the practical and theoretical side of horticulture as will be present on that occasion.

Following the election of officers a banquet was served at 6 o'clock to the officers of the grand lodge, members of the Hood River Commandery and their ladies. The banquet room and tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion in the colors of the order. Later in the evening a public installation of the newly elected officers took place and afterwards work in the order of the Temple

Mrs. C. R. Bone Entertains. Mrs. C. R. Bone added another delightful social event to Hood River's season for entertaining last week when she opened her home Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, afternoon of last week to her lady friends.

The color scheme of the decorations was red in the hall and pink and green in the double reception rooms. Wednesday and Thursday afternoon were devoted to cards, whilst being the game and a number of tables were put in play. Dainty refreshments were served each afternoon, at stringed orchestra playing while the luncheon was in progress.

On Wednesday the winner of the first favor was Mrs. R. W. Pratt, Mrs. J. Van Nece Bandy receiving a gift from the hostess which was cut for Thursday Mrs. Wm. Stewart won first favor, Mrs. Frank Chandler receiving the gift. On Friday cards were dispensed with and the party took the form of a reception and conversation, at the conclusion of which the hostess again gave two gifts to her guests, which were awarded by cutting with the leaves of a book. On this day Mrs. J. L. Herscher and Mrs. Frank Button were the fortunate ones.

University tile Club Tonight. The University of Oregon Glee and Mandolin Clubs are scheduled to appear in concert at the Opera House tonight. This season they will make their thirteenth annual tour, and each successive year has demonstrated that as amateur productions the Oregon tile Club concerts are the most finished and original of any of the entertainments that come to our city.

Dalles City Struck. While coming up the river Tuesday afternoon The Dalles City struck a rock near Carson and sank. Fortunately the boat was in shallow water and after settling for about three feet struck bottom. A hole was punched in the hull and the water put the lives out. The passengers were transferred to the J. N. Teal which came along and the freight unloaded onto the Sarah Dixon and brought up the river.

The Woman's Club. The Woman's Club will take up the work of selling Christmas stamps Hood River will be credited with the amount sold here, and if it is needed for the cure of tubercular patients, the money can be used here.

The meeting last week was devoted to forestry and the program was in accordance with that subject. Mrs.

Soule's Piano House

Hood River, Ore.

Nothing is more appropriate for a Christmas gift than a fine piano. All members of the family are benefitted by a gift of this kind. Our store is full of beautiful instruments for the Christmas trade. In addition to these we have several slightly used Pianos, and organs as good as new at low prices.

We save our customer $75 to $100 on every instrument, which is the profit of the middleman, and the irresponsible agent who is here today and gone tomorrow. We sell nothing but standard instruments guaranteed by the manufacturers. Special inducements will be made to purchasers during the holiday season.

Notice to the stockholders of the Home Telephone Company, of Hood River, Oregon. The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Home Telephone Company of Hood River, Oregon, will be held in the rooms of the Hood River Commercial Club in the city of Hood River, Oregon, at the hour of one-thirty (1:30) o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, the fourth (4th) day of January, 1909, for the purpose of electing a board of five (5) directors to serve for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before the meeting.

Selected For Debating Team. In a preliminary tryout for the debating team of Oregon State University, Alvin Cash of Hood River has been selected as one of the candidates to qualify for this year's team. As this is the Hood River boy's first year at the university it speaks well for his talent in this direction.

KILLED WHILE BLASTING STUMPS. Takichi Yukimoto, a well known and highly esteemed Japanese resident of Hood River, was killed Saturday while blasting stumps on Willow Flat. In company with several other Japanese Yukimoto was clearing land owned by him and Hikoichi Watanuki. He charged a stump with powder and thinking it had missed fired, approached it and returned just in time to get the full force of the blast which caused instant death.

From Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bone, who have always taken a great interest in Yukimoto we learn that he was born in Hiroshimaki, Japan, 41 years ago. He was one of a large family and had a brother killed in the Japan-Russia war but is survived by his father and mother who are in Japan. To his wife, Sakiko Seipa, he was married 15 years ago, emigrating to the United States in 1902 and arriving in Portland on May 23rd of that year. For a short time he and his wife worked for a family at Mt. Tabor, but later came to Hood River and here made their home with Mr. Bone ever since then. The unfortunate Yukimoto had relatives in Portland and at Kent, Wash., and his wife has a brother, Asagato Seipa, who has made his home with them and an uncle. She also has an uncle in Portland but has decided to remain here with her brother and Mrs. Watanuki, her cousin. The little Japanese woman was almost inconsolable with grief for several days it was impossible to pacify her when she came to Hood River. Mr. Bone says that Yukimoto could not speak a word of English, but was the best help he has ever had in orchard work, and that in clearing land it was hard to find his equal.

Products of the Craft Shop. A. S. Richmond has displayed in the show window of E. A. Franz' hardware store a number of pieces of the artistic furniture which he is turning out in his Craft Shop on the hill. The furniture is made of Oregon fir and is not only extremely handsome but original in design and of rare workmanship. The hand of the master craftsman is displayed in every line of the different articles. It is only recently that Oregon fir has been thought of sufficient merit to be used in the manufacture of furniture of this kind. When the new Portland Commercial Club rooms were furnished the order was given to have all the fittings and furniture of Oregon fir and it has caused much admiration by visitors who have seen it. The beauty of Mr. Richmond's work is in the individuality of each piece that he models and in its smooth, fine finish. He has already made many articles for residents here and it would seem that there is a very good opening for a large shop of this kind at Hood River. In fact it is the natural product for a plant of this kind here. In addition to the pieces shown in the window there are also several inside the store that are well worth the inspection of any who are interested in securing something that is unique in this line.
