The Medford Tribune boasts that the Rogus river coal fields are a hundred miles long.

A Tillamook printer bewails the fact that on paying his taxes this year his receipt was written on a blank manufactured by a Portland printer, and makes the pertinent inquiry as to what amount of taxes were paid in Tillamook county by the Portland firm.

The part that the building of a railroad takes in the development of a new country is probably the most important of any factor outside of the natural advantages of the country itself. Without transportation facilities there must be a limit to the development of any country, no matter how great its natural advantages. Whether the mode of transportation be steam or electric lines, the fact that the settler can transport his products to the markets of the world at a price that will leave him a profit, and that he is within reach of such transportation lines with a short haul, is an inducement itself in going into a new country not to be overlooked.

William Kelly, a young man thirty-one years of age, was brought down from Dea Thursday and turned over to the county authorities on charge of being insane. He was examined by Dr. Shaw, adjudged insane and committed to the asylum at Salem. The man was found wandering around the hill at Dea acting very strangely, and was put aboard the train and brought to the city. It is not known when he went to Dea, but it is thought he went up on the morning train, as he was not noticed around there before, and was apparently rational until that time.

DEMONSTRATIVE SPRAYING IN VALLEY

Demonstrative sprayings for the control of Apple Scab with the Lime-Sulphur Spray are being conducted in Hood River orchards by the Oregon Experimental Station. The work is being done by T. L. Griffin, under the supervision of Prof. A. B. Cordley, of the Oregon Agricultural College. The sprayings are a continuation of the experiments carried on for the past two years at Corvallis, the results of which are given in Prof. Cordley's article in the April Better Fruit.

Home made lime sulphur stock solutions that test 25 to 30 on the Besume acid scale should be diluted 1 to 18 or 20 commercial brands testing 31 or 32 should be diluted to 1 to 25 and 1 to 30 respectively. Lime sulphur must be used as a preventive for once the fungus get established on the leaves or fruit, no spray can control it that does not destroy the tissue upon which it lives.
