The Hingen Observer is a year old and is pretty good for a "yearling" - full of ads, local, and nicely printed. Hingen ought to give Bro. Phillips the best she has to offer.

Strows show which way the stream flows. For several weeks the White Salmon Enterprise has been carrying this ad. "Wanted - Ten cents old enough to catch mice wanted at once. Will give liberal price for same. Bring them to this office."

No doubt Bro. Key is up to some "wildcat" scheme, or has a stand-in with the White Salmon sausage makers.

G. H. Goodenough, of this place, picked Monday 20th the first lot of strawberries ripened in his garden this season and with his accustomed generosity, brought a box to the Chief office - The Clatskanie Chief. We would not be offended if there were a lot of "Mr. Goodenoughs" around Hood River who would follow a "shining example." Don't be backward, gentlemen.

The Farmers' union meeting Saturday was well attended. It decided to incorporate the branch under the laws of Washington, the capital stock being placed at $5,000, in shares of $25. This was done to enable the union to own warehouses in which to store grain. It is said the farmers are still enthusiastic over the river transport question, but not definite arrangements have yet been made - Bickleton News.

Last Sunday the new fish hatchery on the Trask was formally opened to the public, and the thousands who gathered, witnessed the new hatchery, is situated on the Trask river, about eight miles from Tillamook, and is one of the best hatcheries on the Coast. The location is an ideal one, the Trask being a clear running stream with a good gravel bottom. The buildings are thoroughly equipped for the work, and have at present a capacity of 6,000,000 eggs, which will be increased to 10,000,000 as soon as they get their trays. Tillamook Herald.

"Hello, Mr. Allen! You seem to have a cold, remarked the Clipper man upon entering the Allen Wright store. "Worst I ever had in my life, Clipper. "I'm sorry old fellow. Wish I knew of something that would cure you, but I don't know of a thing." "Give me your hand, Clipper," he said with tears in his eyes. "You're the only man I have seen for three days that hadn't a sore cure." - Boise Clipper.

An eastern editor calls attention to the fact that the people will go to great ends in fighting the deadly malarial - by slaughtering rats, exterminating flies and mosquitoes, and even enduring the rigors of frigid air in sleeping rooms, but when it comes to the germ transmitted in kissing they blindly rush in and risk the consequences. "Hit who," says he, "wants to live always, anyway?" - Germain Star.

John J. Woolley, an old and well known resident of Wasco county, died Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at his home in this city, 1507 Jackson street. He was born in Cooper county, Missouri, September 25, 1830, and lived in his native state until 1852 during which time he received his education and became an expert farmer. In the year 1852, he and his brother crossed the plains with an ox team and came to Oregon, settling in Yamhill county, where he remained until 1856, when he joined the Oregon rangers under Captain Hiram Wilber and was in one battle with the Indians - The Dalles Chronicle.

The pages of the general store were discussing the value of the ox team when Uncle Bill Abbott ambled in. "What do you think about it, Uncle Bill?" they asked him. "I would you call it 'Perkins a hat'?" "Well," answered Uncle Bill slowly, as he thoughtfully studied the ox team, "I don't know as I'd go so far as to call him a hat exactly, but I do know this much: when feedin' time comes, in order to get a response from his horns, he has to get the oxen close to call 'em for him." - Irrigon Irrigator.

Because his wife didn't have cream for her mush at his morning meal a farmer of Washington county attacked her with a butcher's cleaver and proceeded to make mince meat of her. The deed was so awful that it is shocking to relate it. Even if the courts of justice do their duty in the case in their dealings with the monster the penalty which he will pay will be little atonement for his crime. Where is the compensation that the gallows for a tragedy so hideous? - Independence Enterprise.

Cole-Walton. Arthur Cole and Miss Elizabeth H. Walton was married at 10 o'clock, May 13, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Walton, at 455 West Park street. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hartwig, of this city, attended the ceremony. The groom is well known here having lived in this valley, as also the bride, who has spent many summers visiting friends in this valley.

Miss Nellie Tate went to Portland Tuesday evening to be present at the counting of the votes in the telegram voting contest which closed that evening at ten o'clock. Up to going to press we have not heard the results, but hope that she won out, for it is deserved the prize trip to Alaska. Miss Nellie does. She was ahead of any girl in her district by several thousand votes at least.

The play to be put on by the Pine Grove local talent and is called "Hickory Farm," on Friday, (tomorrow evening,) at the grange hall promises to be the best by that company so far. The doors will open at 7:30 and the curtain rises at 8:30. Admission will be 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Owing to the early hour of going to press we are unable to give the entire program, but will try to give it in the write up of the affair.

Perry Cram, father of F. A. Cram of this city, and one of Eastern Oregon's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, died at his home at Pineville, last Thursday aged 79 years. Mr. Cram was an Oregon pioneer and during the early days crossed the plains five times. The deceased was well known throughout the state and is survived by six sons and four daughters, who are Wardwell, Bidwell, James, Henry, and Mrs. Boston, of Pineville; W. S. Cram, of Raymond, Wash.; Mrs. Chas. Butler, of Port Townsend, Wash.; Mrs. T. B. Steele, of San Francisco; Mrs. H. L. Vance, of Portland, and Frank A. Cram, of this city. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

THREE NURSES ARE GRADUATED

The graduating exercises of the first class to finish the course of training in the Hood River Cottage Hospital were held in the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church, Tuesday evening, June 1st, 1909.

The class consisted of Harriette Alma Copper, Josephine Cuyler and Ruth Naomi Finch. The church was elaborately decorated in festooning of class colors, blue and white, ferns, evergreens, white flowers and the class pennants. A beautiful feature of the decorations was the class motto, "For Others," wrought in white flowers on a background of evergreen.

The Junior Class in their hospital garb acted as ushers. The class, dressed in the attire of graduate nurses occupied the pulpit alcove, and the faculty of the hospital were seated in the choir loft. The Elder Piano House furnished one of their new pianolas for the occasion. An instrumental trio was beautifully rendered by Misses Eva Brock and Lelia Radford and Mr. Wm. Chandler. The solos of Mrs. C. W. Edmunds and Miss Florence Hanna were artistically perfect and delighted the large audience, which packed the house.

An eloquent and appropriate invocation was offered by Rev. W. C. Gilmore, at the close of which Dr. J. E. Wait, in a choice well-warded address, presented the class for graduation.

The commencement address was given by Rev. N. Evans, who chose for his theme the class motto: "For Others," emphasizing the beauty and joy of a life of service. He told the class that two things were essential to the highest service. "A Heavenly Look and An Earthward Touch" and only as we trusted in God and loved men could we be effective in our work for others.

The charge to the nurses given by Dr. F. C. Brosius was very fine and should have been heard by every one. They could then appreciate better the relations of the patient nurses and the physicians.

Dr. Dumble, the president of the association, in a brief well-worded address presented the diplomas to the class, and Miss Grace Taylor, the Superintendent, presented them with the Hospital Pin, which is of solid gold, with a red cross in the center and the words "Training School for Nurses, Cottage Hospital" being a feature of the hospital seal. On the reverse side the name of each nurse and date of her graduation were engraved.

The exercises closed with an informal reception, during which the Pianos rendered choice selections, and the audience retired with a feeling that Hood River had just reason to be proud of their Hospital, and in its first class Hospital had great reason to be congratulated because of the ability, character and cultivation.

Peter Groshong. Peter Groshong, one of White Salmon's oldest pioneer residents, died Friday aged 87 years. Until Monday, May 23, Mr. Groshong had been in his usual good health, but he was taken with a chill and was compelled to take to his bed. Even then he continued to show signs of remarkable vitality and Friday morning ate a hearty breakfast. The cause of death was heart failure.

The deceased was born in Albany, N. Y., May 10, 1822, and moved to Ohio in early life. From there he came to Wisconsin where he resided a number of years, afterward moving to Iowa where he was married to Miss Melinda Miller in 1858. In 1870 he moved to Kansas and from there to Missouri in 1880. In 1888 he came to White Salmon, where he took up a homestead two miles north of town and resided there until last April when he moved into White Salmon.

In addition to his wife Mrs. Groshong is survived by four sons and five daughters, who are: Frank and Abraham and Mrs. Mary Gordon, of White Salmon; Mrs. Jennie Hixon, of North Yakima; Hood, of Weathering, Ore.; Mrs. Clara McPherson, of Seattle; Mrs. Pearl Morton, of Hood River; Mrs. Grace Elliott, of Astoria and Joseph, of Snowden, Wash. One sister, Mrs. Mary Wilt, of Waterloo, Wis., also survives him.

The funeral was held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from the Methodist church at White Salmon, Rev. J. K. Craig conducting services, and burial was in Good Will cemetery, I. O. O. F., at that place. The pall bearers were his sons and grandsons.

Mr. Groshong had been a member of the Methodist church for thirty years and was highly respected and esteemed by all who knew him.

"WHAT'S NEXT" AT PARK GRANGE HALL

The young people of Belmont and vicinity will put on "What's Next" at the Park Grange Hall, on Monday, June 7, at eight o'clock. This will be one of the best comedy dramas put on the boards and promises to be well played by the home talent people as they have spared no time and expense to get it right. Quite a number from Hood River are planning on attending. The following will give our readers some idea of the cast of characters and the plot in general.

There will be a cast of fifteen well drilled people. The price of admission will be 25 cents and 15 cents for children.

WHERE WORLD'S WORKS OF ART WILL BE HOUSED AT A-Y-Y EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

In this building will be exhibited many fine paintings. The display will represent the art galleries of the world, for many of these pictures will be the work of the old masters, including rare art exhibits from the Corcoran in Washington, the Art Museum in New York, the Chicago Art Institute and from a large number of private galleries of wealthy men in the United States and Europe, who have for years made the collection of famous old paintings their hobby. Paris and London have made large loans.

At the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition the selection of pictures will be limited to the works of men who have been recognized in the great art competitions in all parts of the world. Many American artists will be represented in the display in the Fine Arts Palace at the Exposition and arrangements have already been made for the shipping of these valuable paintings from art institutes of this country to Seattle.

G. L. Berg, art director of the Exposition, has visited all of the leading galleries of the United States, collecting the pictures suitable for display at Seattle, and writes that the pictures already loaned will constitute one of the greatest art displays assembled for international exhibition.

The Fine Arts Building is a fireproof structure and was one of the first buildings completed on the Exposition grounds. It cost more than $200,000 to erect the building.

Jane Jones - Alta Anderson. Ell - Elwood Isenberg. Archibald - Harrison Bangle. Act 1. Chub tells his story. "Have you a week day name and a Sunday name too?" "Poke of the district school board. "Where be the scholars, teacher?" The Madders arrive. "I see, sir, you have been scalped by Inguns." "No, you fool, I'm only bald." Act 2. Madder schemes to get Polly's fortune. Polly plays servant girl. A jolly row on. Madder makes love to the widow. "You fool what are you doing with my horse born?" "Paying to put on my trousers." Act 3. Trewnith finds his daughter. "God darn it you're coming, get! Polly tells of the medallion. Finds her father. "Where do I come in, Chub?" "You come in as Mrs. Chintzer if you say so." Madder is engaged to go to Texas to paint - fences! Born. To Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Hughes, in the Crapper district, June 2, a girl. To Mr. and Mrs. Robt. A. Lumberman, May 13, a boy. To Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Jantzen, May 31, a girl. Geo. Sharpe is very ill with typhoid fever at his home in the west end of town. M. A. Gray came over from White Salmon Tuesday evening suffering from several bad bruises received in a runaway accident at that place. He will be laid up for a few days on account of injuries received. Frank Hammond is at the Cottage Hospital with little or no hope of recovery. He has been ill for about a year at his place near Odell and this spring was thought to be improving, but is gradually failing. A. S. Blowers and son, Aubrey, left yesterday for Vernadale, Minn., to visit Mr. Blowers' mother at that place. They will spend several weeks in that part of the country and farther east visiting relatives and old friends. Now is the time to get your cord wood when you can buy it right. My prices on good first class slab wood is the lowest in the valley. The quality is the best to be had in Hood River or vicinity. If you will call and see for yourself you will be convinced that this is a fact and not air. Do not wait until winter to buy your supply of firewood, but do it now, and see me when you buy. Thos. Shere, Phone 202X.

Judge Woodland, of Salem, has been spending a few days on his ranch near Hood River this week.

F. E. Ball and C. E. Webster, of Fargo, N. D., were in the city Tuesday and Wednesday looking up good land in the valley. They doubt find something that suits them before they return.

S. F. Elythe and daughter, Miss Clara, went to Corvallis Monday to take in the Grand Army Encampment to be held there this week. Quite a number of soldiers from here attended but we were unable to secure their names.

Louis E. Ireland, of Minneapolis, was a Hood River visitor Tuesday and yesterday in the interest of buyers in that city. He is well pleased with our valley; in fact likes it better than any he has seen so far, and he has visited Yakima, Weatuche, and other places of equal prominence.

A. W. Bowman and C. W. Walker, of Harold, S. D., were guests at the Wagon, Tuesday, Wednesday. They are looking for land in this valley and expect to buy, although they had the price per acre more than they had expected to pay. They were delighted with the country and climate.

For two months, at least, the boats will land at the regular summer landing near the depot. The first boats to land passengers came up Monday and found the water deep enough to make the landing here. The past three days the water has been rising at the rate of about one inch per hour, and it is still rising.

Marshall Lofa has requested us to give notice that the dog tax was due May 1, and is payable at the office of the city recorder. So far not very many have responded, and all dogs in the city on which the license has not been paid are subject to be taken up by the marshal and destroyed.

A. O. Anderson has returned with his family from Hillsboro, N. D., and have taken up their residence for the present on the ranch near H. M. Francis, in the Oak Grove district. Mrs. H. M. Francis left yesterday for La Per, Mich., where she will spend the summer on a visit with her parents and old friends.

The de of the O. R. & N. is undergoing an operation this week and the outcome will be that an express office will be added to the same by taking a little of the baggage department heretofore the express department has been looked up in a little cage by the lumbermen, but now it will have a department of its own. This will make the handling of express more of a pleasure to the overworked expressman.
