Weak Throat—Weak Lungs

Cold after cold; cough after cough! Troubled with this taking-cold habit? Better break it up. We have great confidence in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this work. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Always keep a good laxative in the house. Take it when your cold first comes on. What the best laxative for this? Ayer's Pills. Ask your doctor his opinion. Let him decide!

Surveying for the Mt. Adams Electric line will commence next Monday, when the Northwestern Engineers, of Portland, will start two crews of seven men each, work to begin near, Snowden, where it left off last year, and pushed through to Camas Prairie. This clinches promises of the local company that the road would surely be built. Heretofore the upper end of the valley has pinned its hopes to surveys made by the North Coast Road, but as that does not seem to materialize they are transferring their hopes to the electric line.

About twenty-five couples were in attendance at the dancing party given to the ball team on Friday evening. The opera house was prettily decorated for the occasion with flowers, college and state banners, with a large pennant strung across the top of the stage. After the a dance had progressed some time John Wyers grouped the ball team on the stage, gave them a good send-off for winning the pennant and then presented to Frank Troch made for the player having the highest average for all around playing. Mr. Troch, responded with a neat little speech. All the other players were called on and made little speeches, including the modest and demure umpire, Attorney Flynn.

PORTLAND PLANS BIG APPLE SHOW

Portland will have a big apple show in November. Former apple shows held here will fade into insignificance in comparison.

The show will assume National importance, because of the prominence of Oregon as an apple state. While the display will not be in any way a rival, in a competitive sense, of the National Apple Show at Spokane, it is expected that in a few years it will equal even that event in importance, for it is intended to add to the scope of the show and make it an annual affair.

The Oregon State Horticultural Society planned the coming apple show, but the hearty co-operation of backing of all the business interests of the city, the Commercial Club, the hotel men and others have been secured and all are working with enthusiasm.

The Commercial Club has offered a $100 trophy for the best showing of apples. The Hotel Oregon has offered a $50 trophy. Other offers of financial assistance are being made and even though early there is no doubt of the success of the affair, judging from the general enthusiasm and liberal backing.

The November apple show will mark the quarter centennial of the Oregon State Horticultural Society, and special exercises will be held on that account. It is thought nothing could be more fitting to celebrate the completion of the twenty-fifth year of the society's existence than the launching of a big apple show that will be held each year, spreading the fame of Oregon's fruit.

Fifty-box exhibits from the apple districts of the state will be arranged for and in this way the whole state will enter into the show and participate freely in the competition for prizes.

The hotel men of the city have named a special committee consisting of Phil Metcalf, Jr.; C. J. Kaufman, E. D. Jorgensen and M. C. Dickerson. This committee was busy yesterday, and the notes already are lined up for the apple show. The well known hosts in offering trophies for the best apples and a good-natured rivalry has been engendered in this way that will go far toward making the show a great success.—Oregonian.

Commercial bodies outside of Portland it is believed will donate trophies for county displays. They will be invited to do so soon, so that the promoters will know what to depend upon.

President Atwell, of the Horticultural Society, leaves Saturday for the East, but he will return a full month before the apple show opens and mean while will be busy with plans for the success.—Oregonian.

Freedom—Live and Let Live.

I appeal to the mass of the people of Hood River city and county. Do you want the popcorn man to make a living, or are you going to join the boycott that is started? I have run a popcorn wagon four years before. I came here and was never denied the right to buy goods at wholesale prices until I came here. As there is no wholesale house in Hood River nor no grocery that will sell to me at wholesale prices, but some grocerymen say if I don't buy from them or let them send for goods they don't handle and give them a rake off they will boycott me and stop others from buying. Now I came here in advance of my relatives and my friends that would come if I gave a good report, of the county in general. But if you are going to stop patronizing me just on the request of one or two in Hood River and do not let quality be your choice all O. R. When I can't pay expenses in good weather I will not stay, but if my future trade is as good as it has been in the past, when bad weather sets in I will not complain, but wait until spring, and then if you welcome me as you have in the past I will come home in Hood River and many of my friends and relatives will come. My brother was a volunteer in the Iowa 22nd regiment in 1863 up to the close of the war, and he has children who are married and they all want to come west. But if I can't make a living just because certain persons say I must buy through them or leave town, and the people in general will join them in boycotting me, I will tell my relatives back in the east and they will advertise just how things are in the west—that if they come they have no rights, only just as certain people give them. There are many persons here who are anxious to know just how much I am making, but never inquire as to what my expenses are in general. Well, now, if I am making money or not, if I have as good trade the rest of the summer as I have had in the past I will buy property and if I don't buy you may know I am not making very much. Now I came here the 22nd of April and my expenses up to date have been $275.50 and that doesn't include 1600 pounds of popcorn I brought with me. Now as to the story that was started about me popping corn in lard, I want to say that I have a chemical process I take the butter through and it requires three different chemicals and some pure leaf lard and I can't get any pure leaf lard in Hood River or at least I have not so far; it is mixed with tallow, and I can't use it in my chemical process. Now, remember that to make the sugar you all use the sugar refinery uses tons of bone and tons of limestone rocks. But there is none in the sugar when you buy it. Now when I bought 20 pounds of butter of a grocer and had taken it through the chemical process I had 6 pounds of waste and I took and showed it to the man I bought the butter from. But he never told anybody. But is ready to help carry the story that I use lard instead of butter to pop my corn in—so the sugar refineries use bones and rocks and then you must be eating bones and rocks when you buy sugar. I learned to run my popcorn wagon from a man that had run one 35 years before I started in and will give you first class corn just as long as I stand on the streets and if you are not satisfied with quality then join the Boy Catever and will leave town. Thanking you for the past, and will appreciate your future trade.

Willamette Growers Want Aid.

The Willamette Valley Applegrowers Association last week named a committee of three to draft a bill for presentation at the next Legislature. The bill will ask for an appropriation to be used under the direction of the Experiment Station in investigating horticultural troubles, particularly as to fungus growths.

Representative Hawley, who was present, will secure samples of these fungus growths and forward them to the Department of Agriculture at Washington for the purpose of securing Federal aid in this investigation.

Dumas Pomona Orchard Sold.

According to dispatches from Dayton, Wash., the Pomona orchard near that place has been sold by J. L. Dumas for $150,000. The place contained 140 acres. The buyers were Dr. C. F. Schlitz, of Wenatchee, L. M. Vannice and E. S. Hubbard, of Dayton. Mr. Dumas has been president of the Washington Horticultural Society and the poor quality of the apples he marketed in New York last year was the subject of much comment by the fruit trade papers.
