ON THE HEIGHTS

Why the Wind Waits.
In his book on "The Picturesque St. Lawrence" Clifton Johnson tells of the curious superstition of Montreal which explains why the wind is always blowing at the point where St. Sulpice and Notre Dame streets meet, close by the towering cathedral.
It seems that one day, while the church was in process of building, the Wind and the Devil were walking down Notre Dame street, and the Devil after regarding with a frown of disapproval the graceful outlines of the new edifice rising before him exclaimed:
"What is this? I never saw it before."
"Very likely not," responded the Wind, "and I dare you to go in there."
"You dare me to do that, do you?" cried the Devil, with a sneer. "Well, I will go in if you will promise to wait here until I come out."
"Agreed," said the Wind.
So his satanic majesty went in. But he has not come out yet, and the Wind is still waiting for him at the corner.

The Spirit of Liberty.
It was in the town that modern democracy had its rise. Despite all the efforts of the kings and barons to prevent it, the spirit of liberty began to assert itself in the larger towns in the shape of the charters which guarantee to the people certain commercial and political rights—rights which, once obtained, were never to be surrendered. Before the middle of the eleventh century there were many of these "chartered" towns which possessed the right of electing their own magistrates, sheriffs and judges and regulating their own taxes. The wretched serfs from the country were welcomed by the townspeople and aided to larger freedom. These free towns were first known in Spain, from which country they slowly spread over Europe. The burghers naturally offered protection and freedom to all who would flee to them from the feudal estates, and thus slowly, but surely, the good work went on until the ancient despotisms were destroyed.—Arena.

Reptiles That Walk Erect.
Lizards of several sorts can walk and run easily on their hind legs. The Australian water lizard, which is three or four feet in length, keeps quite erect when traversing long distances on land. It is found in the neighborhood of river banks and passes much of its time in shallow water.
The frilled lizard of Queensland also travels on its hind legs on level ground, keeping the frill folded when running. When attacked it expands this fold of skin, which stands out like a ruff at right angles round the neck, giving it a most formidable aspect, so that dogs that attack and kill larger lizards will often retreat before a frilled lizard at bay.

There is also a tree lizard in Australia that moves in a similar way. All these species walk on all fours when merely moving about or going short distances.

The Bride's Troubles.
It was the servant's day out, and the young bride was doing her best to hurry along the dinner she was trying to cook. The husband, tired of waiting, bustled into the kitchen and said impatiently:
"You know, we'll be late for the theater if you don't hurry dinner."
"Well," sighed the bride, "I can't tell what's the matter, but these coffee grains simply won't boil soft, and as for the eggs, they've been boiling at least two hours, and they're still as hard as ever."
But the dinner was concluded at last, and then the young husband declared he couldn't find his silk hat.
"Oh," exclaimed his wife, "you said it needed ironing, you know, so I sent it this morning to the laundry with the wash."

Settling the Barber.
"Hair's a bit thin on the top, sir," remarked the barber. "Won't you try a bottle of our hair restorer?"
The victim squirmed. "You made the same observation last week," he said, "and I expressed my desire to see you try the stuff on the doormat."
"Sorry; I didn't know you had been here before, sir," replied the barber as he went on shaving. "I didn't recognize your face."
"No," was the growling reply; "my face has healed since then."—London News.

The Maid's Reply.
As William bent over her fair face he whispered:
"Darling, if I should ask you in French if I might kiss you what would you answer?"
She, calling up her scanty knowledge of the French language, exclaimed, "Billet doux!"—Exchange.

Suspense.
"There isn't any suspense about your play," said the technical critic.
"That shows how you jump at conclusions," replied the author. "You just ought to see me waiting for royalties."—Exchange.

A Tart Retort.
Mrs. Hoyle—Don't you think my boy is growing? Mrs. Doyle—Yes; he is pretty large for his mother's age.—Judge.

Evolution.
At what time of life may a man be said to belong to the vegetable kingdom? When experience has made him angry.

We find many men who are great and some men who are good, but very few men who are both great and good.—Colton.

Notice of Final Settlement.
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, administrator of the estate of Emeline Castro, deceased, has filed, in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Hood River county, his final account of his administration of said estate, and that Tuesday, the 26th day of September, 1910, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard, in the County Court Room in the City of Hood River, Oregon, has been set by said court as the time and place for hearing objections to, and for the settlement of said final account; and all persons interested in said estate are hereby notified to attend at said time and place to present objections, if any there be, to said final account.
Dated this 14th day of July, A. D. 1910.

Mother Knows

"Olympic Flour"
makes good pastry, too.
—Mother.

The plump, hard grains, selected from the entire Northwestern wheat crop and thoroughly cleaned and scoured—just fill the bill for a perfect pastry flour—besides it is the flour for good bread and cakes and biscuits.

Olympic Flour—always the same, always clean, pure, wholesome and nutritious—is an aid to rather than a test of a young housewife's ability. If your grocer can't supply you we'll tell you who can—but insist upon Olympic—demand it—"there isn't any just as good."

COMMON SENSE

dictates that money should be kept in the bank and paid out by check instead of currency. By doing this you avoid misunderstandings and always get a receipt for your payment. Bank your money with this bank. Whether the amount you handle is large or small we welcome it just the same and give the small account the same careful attention we give the business of the large depositor.
