ODELL.
 Miss Hicks, of Hood River, was the guest of Miss Rush and Miss Crapson last Sunday.
 Harry Kingsbury and his sister are here for the apple harvest.
 Irene Fisher and her brother, Lloyd, came down from Mosier Friday for a short visit with her grandmother.
 George Cooper, of The Dalles, is assisting in looking after the large crop of apples on Crystal Spring Farm, Cooper & Walter, proprietors.
 The primary nominating election passed off quietly Saturday, a comparatively small number of those who had registered voting.
 Geo. W. Crow, of Portland, spent a few hours Friday looking after his interests at Odell.
 The new barn on the land of Hawthorn & Ferguson is a fine building and would add to the appearance of any property.
 An institute for the teachers of Hood River and Wasco counties will be held in The Dalles next week and as all teachers are expected to attend Odell school will be closed the greater part of the week.
 Miss Nettie Cook, of San Francisco, is visiting at the home of James Taylor. Miss Cook's mother is also a visitor at the same place.
 Miss Rush and Miss Crapson went to Hood River Friday evening and were guests of Miss Hicks until Sunday morning.
 Fred Coe returned last week from week's hunting on Eagle Creek. Mrs. Coe and her little son visited Mr. Coe's parents in Hood River during Mr. Coe's absence.
 Eleanor Coe goes today to Washougal, Wash. Miss Coe will spend the winter teaching near Washougal.
 Vernon Cook spent Sunday with his friend, H. S. Lewis. Mr. Cook was returning to Walla Walla to resume his studies, preparatory to entering the ministry.
 Shelly & Shelly report the sale of the Mrs. Schiller property near the home of Rev. Troy Shelley.
 Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shelley, Sunday, September 25th, a daughter.

A splendid service was held Sunday morning by Rev. Crenshaw and again in the evening by Burchell Cash.
 Next Sunday morning Rev. Troy Shelley will, as is usual on the first Sunday in the month, have a message for the people of Odell.

OAKGROVE
 Miss Ruth Hukari, of Frederick, S. D., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Emma Brosi.
 Mrs. A. G. Wing arrived here last week from Illinois to join her husband, who has purchased the Dr. R. A. Jayne ranch.
 J. I. Miller has sold his ten acres of bearing orchard to F. R. Brydle of the Epping-Brydle company.
 Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nichols and daughter, Ila, left Monday for a two week's stay at The Dalles.
 H. T. Wiley and Arthur L. Cunniff came over Wednesday of last week from their homestead near Cooke, Wash., and remained until the last of the week.

FRANKTON.
 The stork in his flight across the famous Hood River valley, Friday, left a fine baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Morton. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.
 J. W. Dickenson is again able to be around. We are all glad to see him improving in health.
 Florence La Mar is convalescent and her aunt, Etta Straight, is now ill with the measles.
 Mr. and Mrs. John Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hunter attended the funeral of Mr. Evans' aunt, Mrs. Lee Evans, at Mosier last week.
 Miss Lulu Absten returned to Portland Monday afternoon, having spent the past month with her father.
 Miss Jannette Elliott came up from Portland Saturday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Elliott.
 Mrs. George Stokely is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Noble, this week.
 J. R. Phillips is erecting a fine odd storage room near his house.
 There were a number of our young people who attended the dance at Oak Grove Friday night.
 Rev. Parsons, of Hood River, conducted services at the Columbia school house Sunday afternoon.
 Mrs. M. R. Noble and Mrs. J. M. Elliott have been la grippe sufferers the past week.

MOSIER.
 Mr. J. A. Douthit, of The Dalles, was in Mosier the first of the week interesting Mosier people in stock in a steam boat.
 Mrs. N. P. Sturgess spent most of the week in Portland visiting her children and friends.
 Thursday, Sept. 22, at 11 a. m., services were held at the Baptist church for Mrs. Mary Evans who passed away Wednesday, 21st, at 5:30 a. m. at her home near Mosier, aged 55 years, 6 months and 20 days. Mrs. Evans leaves her husband, Lee Evans, and two sons, George and Fred, all of Mosier, her foster mother, Mrs. L. E. Swasey, of The Dalles, and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. The following ministers had part in the services: Rev. Clark, of White Salmon, Rev. Rigby and Stark, of Hood River, and Rev. H. C. Clark, of Mosier. Interment at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

where the Odd Fellow and Rebekahs lead the way followed by a large crowd of relatives and other friends. At the grave the beautiful Rebekah service for the dead was rendered. This is the first time the Angel of Death has visited the little band of Rebekahs in Mosier, and while they feel and realize their great loss, they can but pause and think.
 "How sweet a life was hers, how sweet a death,
 Living to bring with mirth the weary hours,
 Dying to leave a memory like a breath
 Of summer full of sunshine and flowers
 We often cannot understand why the loved ones are taken
 But when we are led away by the Master's hand,
 To meet our loved ones in the Heavenly land,
 Then we shall surely know and understand."

Late Saturday afternoon, little Bob Ross, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Ross, suffered a very painful accident. While the little fellow was trying to get into his uncle's wagon his foot slipped and became tangled in the wheels, causing the limb to be broken just above the knee. Dr. Robinson was called and after examination, the father, mother and Dr. Robinson took the injured child to the hospital in The Dalles, where he is receiving attention and doing very nicely. It would be well for parents to take warning for there are apt to be some cases if children do not stop the practice of hanging on passing wagons at the school house and in the street. No one wishes to see children killed or worse, made cripples for life.
 W. A. Husbands, who has been ill at his home with pneumonia, is now able to be about again.
 Mr. George Parrish and family moved Saturday to LaGrande, Ore. Mr. John Rhoades takes the Parrish place on the section.
 Monday morning a team belonging to George Haas, backed over the bluff of Mosier Creek near the bridge. Both horses were killed outright and the wagon damaged considerably. The driver, Mr. John Yonish escaped injury.

Mrs. John Wellberg and Miss L. Fisher, went to Hood River Monday. Work is now going merrily on among the apples.
 C. F. Stauffer, an old resident of Mosier, but now residing at Beaverton, Ore., came up Monday evening to look about his ranch and see old friends for a few days.
 Mrs. G. H. Leonard, of Portland, came Monday to spend a few days with Mr. Leonard at the ranch.

30 Cars at Mosier.
 The Mosier section will have a larger apple crop than ever before this year. Manager H. M. Huxley, of the Union at Mosier, was here Monday and said that the whole crop would amount to something more than 30 cars. He is expecting to ship about 20 cars of the fancy varieties which have already been sold f. o. b. to a local concern and there will probably be in the neighborhood of a dozen carloads of choice and mixed variety apples. Mr. Huxley said that the fruit was already moving at Mosier.
 At the Mt. Hood.
 Special Sunday evening dinner at the Mt. Hood Hotel, 6 to 7:30 p. m. Table d'hote, fifty cents. Music by the Mandolin Club. Town and valley people especially welcome.

WHITE SALMON
 From the Enterprise
 That visitors to the Spokane Apple Show may know that the non-irrigated district of White Salmon is blossoming into a great fruit country, growers are already preparing to make exhibits, not only at Spokane, but Chicago and Minneapolis. Miss Edna Cameron, the only lady secretary of a Development League in the state, will accompany this exhibit to Spokane and with her "spieling," hand out literature about the country.
 Harry R. Cole, son of J. N. Cole, of Pulda, Wash., died at the home of his brother near Husum, Sunday, September 18.
 Eugene Falmer and L. Woods are now in the bear hunter's class, having killed two black bear and one cinnamon within a week in the Glimmer district.
 A pack of bloodhounds is on the way from Pendleton to trail the burglars who entered Wm. Vogt's clothing store last week and got away with two complete gentlemen's outfits and some to spare, making a $125 loss to Vogt. In their stocking feet the burglars entered the back window, crept within four feet of where Vogt was sleeping with a gun under his pillow, in a room opening into the store and went out through the back door.
 Miss Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wray, of this place was married yesterday to C. E. Cornish, of Portland, the wedding taking place in the Congregational church of that city. A unique feature of the ceremony was that the best man was A. C. Jackson, who acted in the same capacity for the bride's parents over twenty-seven years ago. The bride is a college graduate, taught school at Hood River and elsewhere, and is loved by all her friends. Mr. Cornish is superintendent of the Multnomah mills.
 L. R. Glavis has started work on a big scale again. A crew of a dozen whites are busy with the donkey engine, and a crew of a dozen Japs will be in today to do the grubbing. To get the 180 acres into trees by spring is the aim of Mr. Glavis.
 The report of engineers to White Salmon Irrigation District runs the cost up to $85,000, which is $25,000 more than the amount of bonds voted. This should not deter the sale of bonds. It is the plan to capture the waters of Buck Creek as they fall over the brink of a precipice high above White Salmon river, lead them through a 16-inch pipe to a reservoir and thence through smaller pipes to the area to be irrigated, a distance of eight miles. The water will be used for small fruit, vegetables and domestic purposes, including the town of White Salmon.

BINGEN
 (From the Observer)
 Mr. McCloskey is the railroad representative at the depot, taking the place of Mr. Gilbert who will vacate on his ranch for the next sixty days.
 Mr. Smith, from Iowa, who has been spending a few weeks visiting his brother-in-law, A. F. Wilkin, is delighted with the country that he has decided to make Bingen his future home. He has purchased the Nason residence property, and also the vacant lots adjoining from Mr. Fisher.
 D. J. Switzer has disposed of his mercantile business to the Bingen Mercantile Co., a firm consisting of M. C. Black, B. Bradeen and George Thomson, of Vancouver. Mr. Thomson will have charge of, and run the business especially welcome.

Messrs. Phillips & Shannon, who were awarded the contract for constructing the Canyon road are going at the work in a progressive manner. A powerful engine is to take the place of teams and laborers and they expect to have the piece of work completed in six weeks.
