THE NEXT ELECTION.

The defeat of most of the candidates recommended by an assembly who had opposition at the primaries ten days ago, seems evidence that the registered Republican voters of the state do not care for the maintenance of the organization of that party, at least through the medium of the assembly.

Valentine Nebrbauer, a Hood River pioneer, who has lived on his homestead near Summit for over 20 years, has gone to Beaverton to reside. He still retains 40 acres here and he will live on a small place in the Portland suburb.

Leaving a Man Helpless.

"That statement made me think," said a veteran newspaper man to the Cincinnati Times-Star, "of the celebrated row between President Cleveland's colored man and Secretary Hoke Smith's colored man. The two were exercising their masters' horses out on a country road and got into a dispute as to what is the best thing in the world. Finally they made a bet of a dollar on it.

ON TO SPOKANE.

The decision of the directors of the Hood River Commercial Club to enter a car of Spitzbergs and a car of Newtowns in the Spokane National Apple Show was indeed a wise one. All Hood River should back up this enterprise and make it win. The best apples will be sent to the show and the best packers will help prepare the pack and arrange the display.

Brain of the Bee.

In a German scientific periodical C. Jonecus gives the results of his studies of the brain of the bee. As might be expected from its wonderful instincts, this is found to be very complex. The various divisions of the brain are described in detail, but perhaps the most interesting part is the comparison of the brains of queens, workers and drones.

Misses Irma Yettick, Bessie and Bertha Hendrick and Merel Yettick, of Cascade Locks were confirmed in the Catholic church last week.

Chris Greisen left Wednesday for the south in the interests of Better Fruit.

Mr. Greisen will stop a day at the Southern Oregon fair at Grants Pass and in San Francisco a couple of days, going on to Watsonville, Cal., for the Pajaro Valley Apple Show.

A number of people have gained the impression that since renting one half of the store occupied by G. V. Edwards & Co., to J. W. Pifer, for a stationery and book store the real estate office is discontinued. Edwards & Co., wish it understood that they are not out of business, but decidedly in, and will continue to be as active as before.

Joe Wilson came up from Portland Saturday for a couple of days after taking in four weeks of baseball in the metropolis.

He only missed one game, on the morning of Labor Day. Mr. Wilson ordered five boxes of apples which he will "eat up" to the Beavers this week in Portland and as they play there for a couple of weeks yet he is not expected home until the end of the series.

The University of Oregon opened last week and a number of Hood River students returned to college.

Among those going back this year were Raymond B. Early, Karl Onthank, Este Brosius, Ferdinand Struck, Ray Murphy and Clyde Pattee. Miss Georgia Frather, Chester Huggins and Will Casan entered in the Freshman class. Murphy and Huggins will join the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, of which Brosius is a member.

Mrs. Etta Bowman Bancroft has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Irene Bancroft, to Leonard K. Armstrong, and the marriage will take place at an early date.

Miss Bancroft is an accomplished singer and has a host of friends in Hood River. Mr. Armstrong is one of the young ranchers of the valley and son of E. N. Armstrong, of Peoria, Ill., president of the Toledo, Peoria & Western railroad.

Capt. C. P. McCan is taking wrestling instruction from L. A. Grant.

Capt. McCan is quite an enthusiastic athlete and he has assumed the leadership of the Hood River football team which is being organized. The team should be a formidable aggregation with such men as McCan, Grant and Pete Shively in the line. The team held its first practice Sunday morning.

Miss Lena Newton Wins Scholarship.

Miss Lena Newton, a former resident of Hood River, who has been in Eugene for the past two years, recently won the music scholarship in the University of Oregon, which bears with it a great honor besides the cash value of $100. Miss Newton's friends here will remember her ability as a pianist. The honor to Miss Newton reflects upon Mrs. C. H. Sletton of this city, who was her instructor here for three years. Since leaving Hood River Miss Newton had no further instruction, but kept up her practice faithfully.

After a delightful week passed at Cloud Camp Inn, Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander Ellis, Dr. and Mrs. George D. Peters and Dr. and Mrs. Ray Matson returned to Portland Monday.—Oregonian.

After summering in Scotland and England, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingstone, Miss Mary Livingstone, Hugh, Robert and Colin Livingstone are now in New York and are expected this week in Portland.—Oregonian.

Mrs. Charles P. McCan has a couple of pedigreed cats, recently received from the east, which she prizes very highly. The Persian felines are very beautiful specimens of their kind, and they are valued at several hundred dollars apiece. "Siva," one of the pussies, is a silver tabby and recently took second prize in the Chicago Cat Show. The other cat is named "Silver" and is of the Chinchilla family. Mrs. McCan had the pedigrees for these cats running back for 10 generations.

Apples of Pure Gold.

You have no doubt heard of the golden apples that grew in the garden of the Hesperides, and regarded the story as a classic, confined to the cultured. It is a fairy story for children.

Some adventurous youths used to seek "the golden apples that grew in the garden of Hesperides," and few ever returned, for the apples were guarded by a monstrous dragon with 100 heads, 50 of which always were awake while the other 50 slept.

The only man who ever secured any of those apples of pure gold was Hercules and it took him a very long time. When he was journeying through Italy one day, seeking them, he came upon some beautiful young women, wreathing flowers at the river side.

They were good to him and prepared a feast, while he told of his many adventures. He had killed an enormous snake when he was only five months old. He had slain the greatest lion in the world, whose skin he wore, and had fought with the ugly hydra, a monster with nine heads. As fast as he cut off one of these heads, two grew in its place, but he finally killed it—all except one head, which kept biting as fiercely as ever until he buried it under a great stone. Many other adventures he related also such as cleaning out a great stable by turning a mighty river through it, and conquering Hippolyta, the warlike queen with the enchanted girdle, and overcoming the great Geryon, the six legged giant. The young women pleaded with Hercules not to attempt to find the golden apples, but he persisted and they finally told him how to seek first the Old Man of the Sea. This aged mariner he discovered asleep on the seashore, and took him by the arm, demanding the way to the Hesperides. The Old Man quickly turned himself into a stag and then into a sea bird, and then into a dog, and then into a snake. But all the time Hercules held on and would not let go. Finally the Old Man resumed his own shape again, puffing with all exertion, and gave Hercules his directions. After many travels Hercules came to the shore of another great sea, and was wondering how he could get across, when up floated a huge bowl of burnished brass, as big as a palace. Into this he climbed and drifted for a long time, till he came to land, and what do you think he saw then? The greatest giant in the world, named Atlas, so tall that his head was above the clouds, so large that big trees grew between his toes when he stood there holding up the sky with his hands. Atlas bargained with Hercules to stand upon a mountain and hold up the sky for him while he, Atlas, went to get the golden apples for Hercules. At each step the giant walked 15 miles. He was gone 10 minutes, and returned with the apples. But he liked his freedom, and wouldn't take the back the sky on his shoulders, though Hercules was so tired that he shook and the little stars began to tumble out of the sky. "Take back the sky for just a minute then," said Hercules "while I wrap my skin about my shoulders to make a cushion." This Atlas did, and Hercules relieved of his burden, picked up the apples and hurried away, nor heeded the cries of the giant to return.
