FOR AN ANNIVERSARY GIFT.

Too Big to Get through the Gate. Bowser Enraged, Chops It to Pieces.

Mrs. Bowser Weeps—A Divorce Suit on the Horizon.

By M. QUAD. (Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.)

WHEN Mr. Bowser walked into the house at 4 o'clock the other afternoon Mrs. Bowser's first thought was that he had come home ill.

WHEN BOWSER PROPOSED.

hour we were sitting together in your father's house. All of a sudden I asked you to be mine, and you said you would.

"But I didn't say so at once, did I?" she asked as a blush showed on her cheeks.

"I guess you waited a minute or two before making me the happiest man on earth."

"And you haven't been sorry?" "I have thanked heaven every day since and shall till I die.

"Curio Draws a Crowd." A big truck had driven up and was backing to the curb.

LIMEKILN NIGHT.

Is the Colored Race Climbin' Up or Fallin' Down?

RASTUS LONGFOOT'S SPEECH.

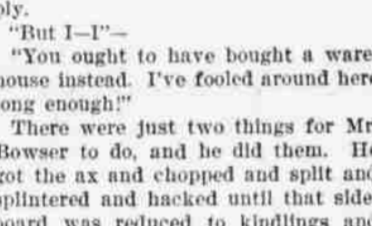

Speaker Handicapped by Brother Gardner, Who Feeds Him Four Days.

Givedadam Jones Acts on His Cue and Starts the Visitor For Alabama.

By M. QUAD. (Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.)

WHEN the regular weekly meeting of the Limekiln club opened for the transaction of business Brother Gardner arose in his place and said:

"My frens, dar am waitin' in de auntryroom a pusson named Hon. Rastus Longfoot. He has arrove yere from Alabama to deliver a lecture befo' dis club.

THE LONG, CADAVEROUS SPEAKER.

and left. He showed up as the tallest and most cadaverous dandy in the United States, and he had a grin on him that reached clear back to his ears.

"Rastus Longfoot's Address." "My hearers," suddenly shouted the honorable as he gave a spring aside,

"A Matter of Sentiment." "Were you annoyed by the way the customs inspectors handled your trunks?"

"Exercise." Walking, we are told, is a good exercise—better than riding in an automobile.

"A Forecast." Jones—What do you think will be the end of the woman question? Brown—There won't be any end.

"That's my mamma over there—tina lady with the pretty hair. It's all her own hair too."

"No, I don't think my mamma's nice." "Indeed I do."

"A-a-necktie?" "No; isn't that, either. Mamma tends to his neckties, and they're always just right."

"Thank you, my dear little girl. Don't you love her very much?" "Yes; oh, yes!"

"Then why haven't you got your arms full of Christmas presents to take home to her?"

"I don't know what I've got for my papa in this bundle."

"A pound of candy?" "The little girl laughed gleefully. 'No, I s'pect he's got a lot of candy for me. Guess again.'"

"Well, I guess that's what papa thinks. He's a big man—most as big as you are. And he's just as strong!"

"Up to Date." Parent—Is my son very progressive, do you think? Teacher—Great Scott, yes! He's the worst insurgent in the whole school—Puck.

"The Dominic's Trust." The story is told of the Rev. James Patterson of Philadelphia that he once said in a circle of his brethren that he thought ministers ought to be humble and poor, like their Master.

Notice. State of Oregon, County of Hood River. I, Geo. D. Culbertson, County Clerk of Hood River County, Oregon, do hereby certify that at a general election held in said County and State on the 8th day of November, 1910, that the question of whether stock should be permitted to run at large in Baldwin Precinct of said County and State, was duly submitted to the legal voters of said precinct, and that as a result of said election a majority vote was cast against stock running at large in said Baldwin Precinct, and—

Now Therefore, pursuant to the direction of the statute of the State of Oregon, so made and provided, I do hereby declare and give notice that it shall be unlawful on and after sixty days from the date hereof, within the boundaries of the said Baldwin Precinct, in Hood River County, State of Oregon, for any Live Stock, viz:—Any cow, calf, bull or steer, any horse, mare, colt, gelding or stallion, any mule, jack, or jennet, any sheep, lamb or lambs, goat or goats, kids or kids, hog or hogs, pig or pigs, to run at large, under penalty of ten dollars for the first offense and twenty dollars for each and every subsequent offense, to be recovered from the owner of the stock in civil action before a justice of the peace in said precinct.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of the Court this 21st day of November, 1910, d. s. Geo. D. Culbertson, County Clerk of Hood River County.
