EAST IS LOOKING TOWARDS THE WEST

J. H. Fredrick, agent for the O. R. & N. Co. at Hood River, returned Saturday from a three months' trip to the east, where he visited friends and relatives in the state of Pennsylvania, New York City, Boston, St. Louis, Washington, Chicago, and also a brother and sister in Oklahoma and Kansas. Mr. Fredrick said that business conditions were good all over the east except in Kansas and Oklahoma, where the crops were a failure this year. He was royally entertained and had a very pleasant time.

"I found a keen interest generally in the Pacific Northwest among all classes of people," said Mr. Fredrick. "Business men, and people of means, want to get away from the cold climate and the congested business conditions of the east. While Hood River was pretty well known everywhere I went, yet all of the places in the Northwest were inquired about. I talked Hood River very where I went, and was on a conservative basis, fortifying myself with literature and proofs of the statements I made. I found the keenest interest in this country, and the Commercial Club, to whom I referred inquiries, for further information, will no doubt receive many letters from those I talked to."

"From the time I left Cheyenne I distributed literature, colonist folders, etc., to those on the train and at the depots, all the way to the Atlantic coast. On the train I was kept busy telling about this country, and was known as "Spitzenburg" to the passengers. Coming home a party of Seattle boosters got on the train at Salt Lake and we debated the merits of our respective sections all the way home. I think I got the best of the argument, however, in the judgment of the passengers. Clinging the argument as to which was the best apple district, Hood River or the Washington country, I had a telegram from Spokane announcing the winning of the sweepstakes. We also got the Denver and Salt Lake papers giving the particulars, and after that I had it all my own way. Following this was the news from Chicago, and before we reached home the result of the Portland show was known. There was no getting away from it. Whether the Seattle boosters were convinced or not the passengers were who heard our arguments."

The Land Clearer.
 By One of Them.

I thought fruit farming was a jest, Sugar, honey, and all the rest. Set next to nature, grow the fruit Pull up the dollar by the root.

Chorus

The Fruit
 The Galoot
 The man with the land
 The Liar
 Despair
 And the empty hand.
 Oh fool! oh ass!
 Let not this pass,
 Take advice of one in the snow,
 Dollars on trees do not grow.

Chorus

The land
 The sand
 The forest galore
 Will rot
 All rot
 Till you go before.
 My story is this.
 That in ignorant bliss,
 I bought what they call a Fruit Farm.
 Like Adam and Eve
 Did I truly believe
 That to grow apples would do me no harm.

Chorus

Eve
 Conceive
 Me raising the fruit,
 Adam,
 I damn
 Oh! why do you hoot?
 Powder, team, and tools I bought,
 Then battlefield I sought
 Waterloo! oh Waterloo!
 I never thought I would meet you.

Chorus

Fretting,
 Sweating,
 Cursing, the stumps.
 Tearing,
 Swearing,
 And nursing the bumps.
 Months pass by, and then I see,
 A huge large area, cleared by me,
 To clear at that fills me with pride,
 I'll measure it, and then decide.

Chorus

Oak,
 Croak,
 Before my hand,
 Pine,
 Decline,
 When I clear my land,
 I call for tape in a loud voice,
 For inwardly I do rejoice,
 I measure with my friend, the Quaker
 Good Lord! its only half an acre.

Chorus

Grubbing Contract.

About 15 acres cleared land adjoining orchards of Messrs. Peter Mohr and Ed Hawks, East Side, 4 1/2 miles from Hood River wanted grubbed and first plowing. Bids on contract to Mr. W. C. Collier in charge and S. Aune, Columbia Bldg., Portland, Oregon.

Seven thousand apple trees have been received in this city and taken to the Will Sharp place, a portion of which was recently purchased by W. E. Walther and others. These will be "heeled in" at once and planted early next spring.—Dalles Chronicle.
