P. C. YOUNG, Proprietor

Don't depend on the other fellow for style; make him depend on you. Don't think you've got the smartest looking clothes in town until you've seen all the clothes in town. Don't think that because a suit is attractively priced that it will wear satisfactorily---find out first.

Be certain you get quality. Quality clothes can't be any other way than attractive and they've got to give satisfaction.

We'll be more than pleased to display these clothes for you. They're mighty good--and smart.
