SMALL YIELD OF TASMANIA APPLES

Consul Baker, of Hobart, Tasmania, under date of March 11, reports that the apple export season was then under way in Tasmania. During this season about twenty-seven steamers will call at Hobart for large cargoes of apples for foreign markets. Last year 548,380 cases of fruit, mainly apples, were shipped to the United Kingdom, 44,019 cases to New Zealand, and 20,245 cases to South America. The apple crop for the fiscal year ending July, 1910, was the largest on record, being 1,480,167 bushels, as compared with 1,070,546 bushels for the preceding year, 1909. The apple crop for the present season 1910-11 is expected to be about one-third less than for the preceding year. The decreased output seems due to damage caused by black spot. A present difficulty is that all fruit for the English market must be shipped within about eight weeks. In order that the fruit may be preserved in large quantities for later markets than the English one, the Hobart firm has decided to erect extensive refrigerating chambers, in which 20,000 bushels of apples and other fruits may be placed to await favorable shipment. These stores are being built by a firm of fruit shippers who propose to charge growers an especially low rate for storage, viz. 4 cents per bushel case for temporary storage for a few weeks, and for general cool storage of twelve months only 30c. per bushel case. This rate is one-third lower than anywhere else in Australia. Various schemes have been discussed by growers for exploiting new markets, one being to ship apples to Japan, where it was thought that they would prove a valuable article of food in the prevention and cure of beriberi. Upon inquiry it was found that the duty on fruit to Japan amounted to 14c. per pound, which is practically prohibitive. At some later date the Japanese government may be approached with regard to the reduction of this high rate, but at present this scheme is in abeyance. It has been decided to send to New York shipments aggregating 90,000 bushel cases, the first shipment to leave Hobart about the end of April, 1911, and successive shipments to continue till the end of May. If possible, through shipment will be secured from Hobart to New York direct; otherwise the fruit will be forwarded via England and Liverpool. The apples will be first quality, well colored Sturmer pippins. The Fruit Trade Journal and Produce News.

Valley Christian Church Notes. The Live Wire Bible Class has had a rest in its social gatherings, the people being busy with their spring work. On Wednesday evening, last it met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins in full force, there being fifty present. This was a most delightful affair. Every body went in for a jolly good time. We get what we go after and all present went after a good time and they came out victors. One feature of the evening was the singing, by the crowd, of some of the old Southern melodies. There were other forms of amusements, and then came the lunch. This was good enough for the Waldorf Astoria, New York, and you would have thought so if you had seen the people go after it. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins entertained grandly and near morning the Live Wires went home feeling that they had a jolly fine time. The Live Wire Bible class was organized on the second Sunday in December last with ten charter members and it has now an enrollment of over sixty. The people are fascinated with it, or seem to be. The Ladies' Aid met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sweeney's. Twenty-nine were present and it was quite a social event. The Aid is very prosperous. Contributed.

Runaway Horse Strikes Wagon. Leaving her little girl in the rig Monday morning Mrs. W. E. Cauler was tying her horse in front of the Stewart Hardware Company's store when the animal for some unknown reason became frightened and jumping backward broke loose from her. Running across the street toward Chris Rindley's shoe shop the horse struck and demolished a wagon belonging to W. H. Goodenough. The child was unharmed. Mr. Goodenough had just brought his wagon from the shop where repairs had been made on it for an injury received the day before when it was struck by an automobile.

VICTIM OF TRAIN WN. LAND OWNER

Carrying a bundle of blankets on his back and with but two or three pennies in his pocket the man who was killed by an O.W. R. & N. freight train on the long trestle near the Kobeg place about one mile east of the city Sunday morning and who was at first thought to be an ordinary hobo was identified by legal documents and letters found on his body as Bato N. Sanguinetti. From tax receipts, found in a wallet which he carried, it seems that he owns several small tracts of land near Winlock and Chehalis, Wash. The copy of a contract showing that he had bought a small plot on March 24 from Joseph Limmer and wife at Winlock. One of the papers discovered by the coroner, when he searched the body Sunday night, stated that Sanguinetti was a resident of Napavine. The victim was a Catholic as was evident by the small leather chain worn around his neck, which was burned the image of the Virgin mother and the young Jesus. The man was apparently about 50 years of age, slim of build and of less than medium height. He was seen on the streets by several Saturday and because of his stooped shoulders and dwarf-like appearance was the subject of comment.

New Organization for Good Roads. A new alignment of good roads forces was made during the past week at a meeting in Portland when steps were taken to organize a state wide good roads association with county branches. The former Oregon Good Roads Association was dissolved, after all its affairs had been wound up. By means of the new organization it is expected to secure co-operation throughout Oregon to accomplish its objects. Sentiment for good roads will be aroused.

Cheap Building Sites--Residence lots in the new Middleton Addition, one block south of High School. Price $250 to $350, 10 per cent down, easy installments. John Leland Henderson, Inc.

ODELL. The front room of the I. O. O. F. building at Odell has been fitted up for a barber shop and bath and H. E. Ferguson, of Hood River, will be proprietor. This is a new business venture here but we feel we can safely predict that it will prove successful. The barber shop and bath room will probably be in operation at the time this appears in print. Mr. Conaway purchased the chair and other furniture during his recent visit in Portland. Mr. Wheeler has moved the Thue Olsen house across the road and enlarged the house so that he and his family may occupy it during their visits here. Mr. Miller will repair the Livingstone country home "Netherby."

The postoffice recently known as Newtown is now and henceforth to be known as Odell, all necessary requirements for the change having been satisfactorily met. George Pflughaup and Pansy Reither were married in Hood River last Saturday evening. They will be at home on Odell Heights, where the groom owns a ten acre tract near the home of his parents. Mr. and Mrs. C. Pflughaup. The friends of these young people extend congratulations. Geo. Coe came out Saturday for a visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. E. Bowerman. Eleanor Coe, of Camas, Wash., came up Friday night for a short visit with her brother, Fred, of Hood River, and sister, Mrs. G. E. Bowerman, of Odell. Mrs. Fred Coe and son, Clare, of

Hood River, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bowerman. Mrs. Hattie Crockett and daughter, Hildred, went to Portland Saturday for a visit with Mrs. Crockett's sister. News received since their arrival in Portland tells that Hildred is not so well. We hope this may prove but a temporary indisposition. Miss Alice Davenport, of Portland, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. H. Kemp. C. I. Jones, of Portland, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kemp one day last week. Mr. Jones is a civil engineer and thinks of locating in Hood River Valley. Mr. Bragg, of the Bragg Merc. Co., Hood River, is building a home and making other improvements on the tract he recently purchased from Miss Kingsbury, this land lying near the home of William Kollas and having been originally a part of Mr. Kollas' homestead. Quite a number of members of Kemp Lodge No. 181 I. O. O. F. and Hazel Rebekah Lodge No. 156, I. O. O. F. accepted the invitation of Mr. Hood to meet with them for celebrating the anniversary of the order last Sunday. Sabbath school contest still interesting with an attendance last Sunday of one hundred twenty seven and quite a number prevented from attending because of contagious disease in several families. The contest will close with a picnic on Friday, May nineteenth. The public school and Sabbath school will unite for a day of perfect enjoyment. L. A. E. Clark came home Saturday from ten days' pruning at Mosier. Mr. Clark has been at work almost constantly during February, March and April pruning at various points in Eastern Oregon and in Hood River Valley. Monday was a very busy day at the store of T. W. Atkinson marking and placing a lot of new spring goods just arrived from the East. Apple trees are promising well, some varieties being very heavily laden with blooms. Strawberries also give indications of a fine yield of fruit. Every one busy and work plenty to keep them so. Mrs. Silbaugh, of Seattle, Wash., will be here the evening of May 12th to deliver a lecture in the interest of the W. C. T. U. A very interesting C. E. missionary meeting last Sunday evening with H. S. Lewis, leader. Next Sunday morning is Bev. Troy Shelley's regular appointment at Odell.

Where the Trouble Lies. It is not with you. It is not with the oven. Then it must be with the flour. If the flour you use is the same every time, your baking should always be the same. If the flour isn't the same every time you can't expect your baking to be. That's the big feature of OLYMPIC. It's always the same. Always up to the highest standard. It is tested in the mill's model bakery before it goes into Olympic sacks. Made only from choicest selected, Northwestern grown, blue stem wheat. Pure white without bleaching. At Your Grocer's
