Apple Show Premiums.
Five hundred and twenty cash prizes, totalling $1,458.50 cash, are offered by the Interstate fair management for apple exhibits at the 1911 fair, Oct. 2-5. Prizes offered last year have been more than doubled and it is hoped to bring the apple exhibits almost up to the class of those at the National Apple Show.

COLORADO WILL BEAR $5,000,000 CROP

Colorado's fruit crop for 1911 will be worth $5,000,000 to the growers of the State. It will be the "bumper" year for this State. These facts were brought out by the reports which the members from the different parts of the State gave as to the conditions in their respective localities at the meeting of the State Board of Horticulture recently.

Ira B. Cline, of Paonia, said there had been no damage from frost to that section of the State, and that every thing pointed to the best peach crop in five years from the North Fork district. Double the quantity of fruit ever sent from that section will be shipped this year, according to his statements.

George Harbert, of Manzanola, reported that the frost in the southern part of the State had damaged the crop of Ben Davis apples slightly, and that the crop of Missouri Pippins would be a little short. The general outlook, however, is for a good crop and of a better quality than last year.

In the Arkansas valley the cherry crop will be large, and in Otero county alone almost 100 acres of new cherry trees have been planted. Montezuma county, in the extreme southwestern part of the state, also sent reports of splendid prospects for a record-breaking fruit crop.

From the northern part of the State, D. R. Stodler, of Fort Lupton, reported good crops in prospect, while similar reports were heard from C. E. Parfet, of Golden—Fruit Trade Journal and Produce News.

"SHORT BASKETS" ARE CONFISCATED

Three thousand five hundred "bushel" baskets were burned Wednesday, May 24, by Commissioner of Weights and Measures Walsh in Wallabout, Market Square, in Brooklyn. Of that number 1,172 were seized by the police on March 24 from Long Island farmers and speculators for their failure to contain a full bushel. The baskets were tested at the time of the raid with white beans, and a large number fell as many as ten quarts short of requirements.

It was said by many in Wallabout who watched the blaze that the farmers were only waiting for the city to destroy their property in order to start a suit for recovery of the money they have lost. The commissioner, when interviewed, said his department was fully protected by law and backed by the Mayor in the matter. He said he had given the farmers ample warning.

Seek Better Varieties.
The following paragraphs submitted by A. A. Schenck, a thirty million apple trees put out of commission either permanently or for several years. Probably most of them will never again be in the producing list. These large withdrawals from existing old orchards are several times greater than the plantings of the Pacific Northwest and indicate that no over production is possible. When a high grade apple is substituted for a Ben Davis, consumption will be increased beyond even the maximum production of 69,000,000 barrels in 1896. As yet we are producing only 25,000,000 barrels for a population in the United States of over 90,000,000 people, as against the former 69,000,000 barrels when the population was only 70,000,000.

"There are probably 30,000,000 apple trees in Missouri," said W. L. Howland, professor of horticulture at the University of Missouri. Many of the orchards are of trees from ten to twenty years old, and the growers have hesitated to uproot them and to wait for a number of years for young orchards to come into bearing. But new systems of top grafting have been tried with success, and the department of horticulture has taken up the work of educating orchardists in order to rid the state of poor varieties.

Missouri Prospects Good.
The State Board of Horticulture is in receipt of special reports from practically every county in the State, and from these arrives the following summary of conditions regarding the apple crop up to May 10 is compiled:
On the whole, there promises to be a good crop of this fruit throughout the entire State. In the parts of the State where orchards bore heavily last season there was not a heavy bloom this year. Also there is universal complaint of a light bloom with the Ben Davis type, and now and then a few other varieties, particularly in the southwest where the crop is well distributed, although not particularly heavy. It is believed there is enough bloom everywhere to insure as much fruit as the trees should be permitted to bear. Prospects now are for the largest crop in years.—Fruit Trade Journal and Produce News.

Save Your Fruit From Damage.

THE widespread increase of the codling moth and other insects injurious to fruit trees causes an annual loss to growers of seven million dollars a year. The surest way for you to prevent your fruit from being wormy or badly damaged is to carry out a regular plan of spraying with some reliable material.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
NEW PROCESS ARSENATE OF LEAD

is a general insecticide for all leaf-eating insects. It is superior to many other brands on the market, because it contains the arsenic in exactly the right proportion and the proper chemical combination, thus insuring a material that will not injure or scorch the foliage but is sure death to insects feeding on the leaves. It is extremely miscible in water and will combine readily with Lime-Sulfur and Bordeaux Mixture. Light in gravity, it remains well in suspension so that a uniformly poisonous spray can be thrown from the finest nozzle. For prices and further information on this product, come in and see us.

Do not be persuaded to buy "something just as good" or a brand that has not been tested and made good.
