Increase your profits
Insure the safety of your investment

The first cost of a fruit tree is an insignificant item but the quality and pedigree of that tree is a powerful, perpetual factor of your income.

You cannot afford to plant anything but the best, the most carefully propagated trees of known ancestry—in other words, a strictly thoroughbred tree. Heredity is as surely transmitted by trees and plants as it is in animals. The good or bad characteristics of a tree are as surely transmitted to its offspring as in the higher forms of life. A vigorous, prolific, regular-bearing and disease-resistant tree will produce young trees of the same characteristics.

An Orchard of this character is the best real estate agent you ever had when you wish to sell—the best guarantee of your income while you live—and the safest endowment you can bequeath to your widow or children. Mr. Orchardist, would you try to economize a few cents on the cost of such trees?

The Hood River Valley is one of the most noted apple-producing sections of the world. Orchards have netted as high as $1,800.00 an acre from a single crop of apples. From the highest earning trees of the best orchards of this valley, trees whose ancestry can be traced back generation after generation of high production and vigorous, sturdy qualities, are all of the stock of the Hood River Standard Nursery Company grown. They are thoroughbred, pedigreed apple trees.

For the season of 1911-12 we can offer a limited amount of extra size, apple only. Write for our guarantee and price list.

EMERSONS CHARGED WITH BOXCAR THEFTS

Albert and Ernest Emerson were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Beas, of Cascade Locks, at Wyeth Saturday on charges of breaking open box cars at Troutdale and Portland. The officer brought the men here and lodged them in the city prison, where Mabel Lewis held them until Sunday morning, when they were escorted to Portland by officials from that city.

The Emersons are thought to have committed a number of similar offenses in different parts of the state. They pose as peddlers after a haul is made and sell the "swag" in remote places. When captured Saturday, they were hawking their wares, which consisted of cheap shoes and tobacco, at Wyeth, where no stores are maintained. It is reported that they had enough plug and smoking tobacco to fill a large grain bag.

BERRY PICKERS FIND BEARS

The experience of the Husum Indian, who recently picked wild blackberries from the same bush with a big black bear, was repeated last week at Milton when Mrs. J. A. Clark of that city, who, with her family, is spending the hot weather in the mountains, left the camp to pick huckleberries, and when about a mile away found a bush well loaded with the fruit, and was busy filling her bucket when she heard a rustling noise on the other side of the bush.

She got up to investigate and there, almost touching her, was a large bear. They gazed at one another for some little time, and then Mrs. Clark started to run for the camp, believing the bear was after her, but he was running in the other direction.

F. W. Balsiger brought samples of apricots from young trees into this office that measured seven inches around. That is some size. He also brought in clusters of apricots, 25 and 32 on a single small twig. He is much pleased with his yield of apricots and is going to set more trees this year.

About $10,000, half the required amount to start grading of the railroad up the hill, is in sight, as stock has been subscribed in that amount.

The local committee promoting the road are encouraged and believe there is now no doubt about being able to sell the $20,000 of stock, for people are beginning to realize that this may be their only chance to ever get a road.

The great column of lurid smoke which shot up back of the hill on the west side of town on Monday night was from the slashing fire on the ten acres being cleared by the Boddington brothers. It was a fine burn, but had the large trees been first split by dynamite much future burning would have been saved. A tree burns more easily from the inside outwards.

But better yet, the big trees should have been cut into cordwood, for at the present rate of burning wood so close in will be of value. The boys have a fine tract and with knowledge acquired at the very practical school of horticulture at Corvallis will make a success of it.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.
