Among other matters taken up was the discussion of a lesson course to be taken up with the Baraca class; the appointing of patronesses to assist the girls in their work; the appointing of a committee to meet with the Baraca to decide upon the rooms which have been offered the society the societies by the Congregational church.

The Philatheas are planning to hold a bazaar the latter part of November and all members are requested to bring their sewing to the Philatheas rooms each Monday evening.

A very delightful evening was spent at Mrs. Button's home on last Monday when fourteen of the girls gathered to discuss their work. Everyone is enthusiastic and the coming year's work seems very promising. It is planned to carry out the work more along the line of the Y. W. C. A. The girls proved to Mrs. Button that her cooking was without fault, although some of them have completed their domestic science course and think they know just how to make nut bread.

Baptist Young People Entertain.

The young people's society held a penny social at the baptist church last Thursday night. A comical list of things the doing of which subjected the guilty person to penny fine was posted, and the treasury of the society was burdened with coppers before the evening was over. The following most delightful program was rendered: Miss Erma Regnell, solo; Miss Gretchen Calkins, reading; Misses Edgington and Bradley, duet; Mrs. Ford, reading; A. Little, farmer; "Why We Were Never Married", by six old maids and bachelors. About 100 were present enjoying the entertainment.

The committee were as follows: Refreshment - Misses Gretchen Calkins, Eleanor Erving, Mabel Claxton, Viva Clapp, Shrum, Norma Barker, Jennie Pory and Mr. Eldon Bradley; Rule and Fine: Misses Martha Struck, Edythe Brunquist, Brown, Ruby Whitcomb, Mrs. A. P. Sprague, Elmer Iasenberg, Joe Carson, Eldon Bradley, Mace Baldwin and Leo Brunquist. The doorkeepers were Herman Struck and Clarence Dunn.

Bethman-Koch.

Mr. Frank C. Bethman, one of the Valley's prominent young orchardists, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bethman, was wedded Sunday morning at 10 a. m. to Miss Annie Koch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Koch, of Chetis, Ore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Obbert, of Eugene. The wedding was a quiet home affair and attended only by friends and relatives of the immediate families. A piano selection was rendered by Miss Frieda Koch, the bride's sister. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Koch, another sister of the bride, who wore a gown of blue silk. The bride wore a white chiffon gown. Mr. Bethman was attended by his brother Herman. His parents and sister were also present for the nuptials. After a delightful wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Bethman left for Portland. They arrived here Monday evening and will make their home on the Bethman ranch, which the groom and his brother Herman will manage, their father having made his home in the city.

Hall-Cheverie.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Saturday at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. A. Evers, of Portland, when Miss Laura Cheverie became the bride of D. D. Hall, one of Mosier's prominent young business men and formerly secretary of the Commercial Club here. The ceremony was performed by Father O'Hara, of the Roman Catholic Church. After a delightful wedding dinner the couple left for a honeymoon trip in California. They will return to Mosier the latter part of the month to make their future home. Mr. Hall was attended by his friend W. M. Thurston, also of Mosier. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hall have many friends in this city, where they have made a number of visits.

Gauger's Outfit Stolen.

While on the way to inspect the head of the ditch of the Farmers' Irrigation Co. Monday, Joe Loser, gauger of the company, was unfortunate enough to have some one make away with his camp supplies and outfit. The gauger, not desiring to carry his baggage in the Winans station, about a mile beyond the point where his duties began, dropped them off the train there, intending to pick them up on his return. However, imagine his chagrin, when he found the articles gone. Mr. Loser, after making a personal search was unable to find any trace of the culprit and Sheriff T. F. Johnson was notified. However, all attempts so far to locate the man with the outfit have been futile.

Unitarian Church Notes.

Great interest is being taken in a series of sermons at the Unitarian Church this month, in which Mr. MacDonald is trying to explain the teachings and mission of the so-called liberal churches. A new chorus choir has been formed consisting of the following persons: Mrs. Slocum, organist; Mrs. Sletten, director; Miss Jaeger, Mrs. Huxley, Mrs. Snelair, Mr. Slocum, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Ainsworth, Mr. Osgood and Mr. Will Chandler. Next Sunday the subject will be "The Power of our Gospel," in which will be considered several instances of the transforming power of his Gospel. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Kerr spoke on the advantages of agricultural education, the necessity of getting the boys interested in farming early, and other farm problems.

REV. HARGREAVES ON CHURCH UNITY

Rev. Jas. R. Hargreaves, pastor of the Heights Baptist church, asserts that the modern church should not make an effort toward the perpetuity of its own dogmas, but that it should conduct its work along broader lines toward community development. In a recent sermon, "Commercialized Christianity" at the Baptist church Mr. Hargreaves said: "The church which works in the Kingdom of God or, in common language, for the general well being of the community is, in account of its very nature, the most effective kind of organization which can operate. On the other hand the church which works for its own perpetuity is one of the worst hindrances in modern life and until a re-adjustment of organized Christianity, through the federation or some such method, is effected by many of the churches, in the smaller towns especially, must of necessity belong to the lower class and be problem producers rather than problem solvers."

Christian Church Notes.

Do not forget the Bible School Rally next Sunday at 9:45. "Individual Responsibility" will be the pastor's theme at 11 A. M. In the evening an evangelistic service will be held, preceded by a rousing song service.

A number of the members of the church attended the Odell revival last Sunday. Several of the singers are attending each evening during the week.

Evangelist D. E. Olson of Seattle will give a lecture entertainment in the church next Saturday evening. Admission free. A tree will offering will be taken.

The ladies of the Church will meet with Mrs. Handsaker Friday afternoon at 2:30 to organize an auxiliary to the C. M. B. M.

Odell Revival.

With improved weather conditions the audiences have increased. Sunday evening the large Tabernacle was almost full. The interest which has been excellent from the first is also growing.

Pastor Handsaker who has been kept from the meeting because of illness was present for the first time Monday evening and led the congregation in a rousing song service.

At the close of the meeting there was one conversion. Evangelist Organ is sustaining the reputation he has made in other fields as a logical, scriptural and fearless preacher of the Word.

The meetings will continue over next Sunday. There will be three meetings next Sunday at 11 A. M.; 3 and 7:45 P. M. Watch for further announcements.

The Pay of Ministers.

Following the magazine article showing that the average pay of ministers is less than $600 per year comes the announcement that Billy Sunday is recuperating at his Hood River ranch. About the only recuperation the $600 man gets is picking holes to poke out his scanty pay, there are those who will say that the growth of the new profession with high priced Hood River ranches as an incident is partly responsible for the $600 rate.—Hillsboro Independent.

Musicians and Comedians at The Electric.

In addition to their usual attractive films The Electric Theater has this week been delighting its audiences with a number of musical novelties. Beginning Sunday Kurth and Lane entertained the patrons of The Electric with clever and comic musical stunts. Myers and Myers began their fun proving songs and dances last night.

Flood of Molasses in New Orleans.

A tank containing 1,000,000 gallons of molasses burst in New Orleans last week and the commercial district was flooded with a stream 15 feet deep, says a dispatch to the Portland Telegram. Scores of persons narrowly escaped drowning and suffocation. Repairs to the tank were made in boats propelled over a sea of molasses. The molasses tanks are located in the wholesale district. The retaining wall about the structure collapsed, but the sluggish movement of the liquid enabled the threatened persons to escape. Many climbed electric lamp posts. The water main was broken from the pressure and the million gallons of molasses was soon carried into the Gulf.

BASEBALL SCORES.

Odd Way the Plays Were Recorded

Back in the States. The baseball public of today, accustomed to the minute reporting of games, wherein each run is compounded and many a play analyzed, is offered the account of a game played in Syracuse in 1868. The contestants were the Central City of Syracuse and the Athletics of Philadelphia, and the score was 41 to 12.

The game was delayed a half hour by the difficulty in finding an umpire. Then the report goes on to state:

"The game opened loosely upon both sides, and at the end of the first innings the score stood Athletics 5, Central City 4, each side making its tallies promptly from the loose playing of the out club. After the first inning the Athletics played more carefully, while the Central City grew more careless until the fifth inning, when they became more demoralized than was the Union army at the battle of Bull Run. Considerable dissatisfaction was manifested and expressed, and in two innings rightfully so, at the evident one sided decisions of the umpire.

"We will not particularize, but suffice to say that several of the players on both sides did well, while others, especially the Central City side, were not fully up to their standard efforts. The following is the

How would that go in a sporting extra today? The only familiar signs are the criticism of the umpire and the German names in the Athletic lineup.

A CRUSHING RETORT.

Mrs. Sangbird Paid Her Haughty Society Patron In Full.

Last year a prominent Boston society leader, in arranging a musical society at an elaborate dinner given to the town's elite, called on a singer to renounce to engage her services for that event. It chanced that the singer was naturally independent. On the other hand, the caller was notoriously haughty. As a result this was what transpired between them:

After the visitor had announced the import of her coming, the singer succinctly said she would sing one number for $200, and that it would be a Wagnerian selection.

"The price we will not haggle over," said the visitor, "but instead of that grand opera selection I want you to render one of the light and popular ditties of the day!"

"For the Wagnerian song, $200; for the popular ditty, $300," was the firm reply.

"But, madame," expostulated the society leader, "your classical song is much more exacting on your powers, so why should you charge more for the lighter and easier song?"

"Ah," replied the independent one, "the harder song is all fun to me; the easier one all work!"

So the price was fixed at $300. Just as the haughty visitor was about to depart, she turned to the artist and said:

"Of course, I shall not expect you to mingle with my guests."

"Ah," was the biting retort, "I shall throw off $50."—Life.

Extremely Polite.

The forms of Mexican politeness to the stranger are sometimes embarrassing. Miss Mary Barton, who visited the country to paint landscapes and tells her experience in "Impressions of Mexico," says that "people seemed anxious to help me in all possible ways, from the railway conductor, who invited me to dine with him, to the very smart young man that I met in the postoffice when I had a number of invitations in my hand and who offered to lick the stamps for me."

Shutting Him Off.

"The Dad—My son, I want to tell you that the secret of my success, as it must be of any man's, is hard work. I—The Son—Sh, dad! I don't care to hear other people's secrets, and I am too much of a gentleman to take advantage of information gained in that way. Say no more.—Toledo Blade.

Heifer Has Record Peaches.

The record peaches for the Hood River Valley this year were raised by E. E. Helfer, whose ranch is in the Belmont district. Four of the peaches, Albertas, weighed each more than a pound. One of them tipped the scales at 18 ounces. Mr. Helfer says that he has realized a net average of $7.50 for his trees this year.

The largest peach recorded in the world has this year been grown in Benton county, Arkansas. The peach, an Elberta, was grown by Mrs. Will Harrison and weighed when picked twenty-two ounces. The peach was sixteen inches in circumference.
