METHODS OF ICING PASSENGER TRAINS

If you happen to be travelling over any part of the Pacific System of the Southern Pacific Company, and if you notice as your train pulls into a station, a man attired in a white duck suit, white cap and rubber gloves, do not get the impression that he is a public health inspector and that your train is liable to be delayed until he has completed an inspection, nor need you fear that the train may possibly be quarantined. That is not his duty. He is the man who fills the ice receptacles on the Southern Pacific dining passenger coaches and he is following the latest sanitary measures that have been adopted by the corporation.

This new feature in the icing of passenger trains was inaugurated by H. V. Platt, general superintendent of the southern district of the Southern Pacific Company, and was first tried out on the Los Angeles division. At each point where the trains are iced, the ice is handled in absolutely clean carts, lined with galvanized iron or zinc, and the interior is scalded twice daily with steam. The ice is handled by employes dressed in white suits and rubber gloves, all of which are furnished by the company. Employes are required, sufficiently in advance of arrival of trains, to prepare themselves for the handling of the ice. The ice, however, is handled with rubber gloves, and from the time of its manufacture until the time it reaches the receptacle in the cars it is protected against contamination.

This new mode of handling the ice for the passenger cars of the company, tried out on the Los Angeles division, has proved so successful that it has been ordered installed on all the lines of the system. The cars are covered with canvas at all times and are fully protected from flying particles of dirt.

My Garden.

I have a garden in my heart filled with flowers rare.
The roses of sweet contentment, I find it nesting there;
The violet of sweet charity, its fragrance is a dream;
The pansy of good fellowship, a face to me it seems.
The goldenrod, my brightest hope, it reaches far away.
The poppies' varied colors are fancies, bright and gay.
The daisies' lasting blooming mean the lilacs' early blossoms mean joy almost divine.
Forget not that the lillies, by virtue take first place.
The emblem of purity, of love, of hope and cheer.
Each one may have a garden just as well as I.
And fairer flowers grow therein if you will only try.
It pays to keep this garden in neat and tidy trim;
So when the master calleth he may enter in. J. K. McG.—Mosier.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Hood River Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Hood River. It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Hood River citizen speaks here. Speaks of the welfare of Hood River. A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's is doubtful. Home proof is the best proof. William Fowler, General Delivery, Hood River, Oregon, says: "I suffered from backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. The use of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills completely relieved me and in turn, I give this remedy my endorsement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Nelson Develops Klickitat Orchards.

Between 400 and 500 acres have been set to apples in the Goldendale valley in two years and new land is steadily being brought into orchards in view of making the Goldendale district one of the leading apple producers in the Pacific northwest.

This is the report brought this morning by Nelson, the pioneer orchardist, and large owner of fruit land. Mr. Nelson set out the first orchard in the Goldendale district about two years ago and he says the trees are doing splendidly.

Mr. Nelson and three or four other prominent Goldendale men left Portland Thursday for Aberdeen to attend the convention of the Southwest Washington Development Association.—Portland Journal.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the eight-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America, under the supervision of railroad and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.

Deer Limit Should be Two.

That the Oregon game law, which permits hunters to kill five deer in a season, ought to read "two deer," was the opinion expressed last week by C. F. Stone, attorney of Klamath Falls, and member of the Oregon State Fish and Game commission.

"Five deer in a season are more than one hunter ought to be permitted to kill," said Mr. Stone. "It is not only the slaughter of so large a number that ought to be prevented, but the hunting that is necessary in order to kill two or three deer, even so frequent, is equally valuable for animals that are driven to new feeding grounds. Also five deer furnish more meat than one hunter can use for himself or family during a single season. The reduction of the number would also have the effect of stopping the killing of deer to be sold."

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drug. Sold by all dealers.

PRISONER FIRES CITY PRISON

Marshal Robt. T. Lewis was a hero last Wednesday afternoon, October 11, when he rushed into the smoke filled city prison and rescued a man, who had been arrested for drunkenness from intoxicated suffocation. The prisoner, probably feeling remorseful and chilly, touched a match to his mattress. The "smudge of the near Outerroom" filled the building and attracted the attention of passers-by. The Marshal was notified, and, rushing like mad to the calaboose, tore open the doors and carried the apparently prostrate victim to the open. He secured a bucket of water and poured it over the soot blackened face, and still the poor man dreamed peacefully. The Marshal returned for another supply of cold water. However, his chagrin was great on returning to the street to find his prisoner gone. It's close to Halloween, and the disappearance may have been caused by the premature coming of spooks. "I never had a prisoner to play possum with me before," said Mr. Lewis, who appreciated the joke as much as anyone. The Marshal deserves a Carnegie medal not only for the rescue of the suffocating prisoner but for not awaking when he found him gone. The fire was extinguished and the only damage done was that of the burned mattress.

COUNTRY'S LIME IS EXHAUSTIBLE

One of our practically inexhaustible natural resources is the United States available limestone rock widely distributed over the United States can not be estimated even in millions or billions of tons. It is a fact also that the more lime is used, the better it is for the country. Lime is a great soil renovator, and while it is believed to have no actual fertilizing value in the sense of being a plant food, it is a well known fact, not only among soil scientists, that spreading it upon the fields and plowing it under makes many soils more productive by rendering available the plant food they already contain. Lime has also a great variety of other important uses; in fact, few mineral products have so wide a scope of usefulness.

A little more than half the lime manufactured in the United States is used as structural material—in lime mortars, Portland cement mortars, concrete, gypsum plasters, and whitewash. Large quantities are also used in the manufacture of chemicals, in clarifying many products, in the milling and paper industries, in sanitation, in the smelting and tinning industries, in sugar-beet manufacture, etc. The total production of lime in 1910, according to the figures compiled by Ernest F. Burchard and just given out by the United States Geological Survey, was 3,469,416 short tons, valued at $13,969,290, a slight decrease in both tonnage and value as compared with the figures for 1909. The average price per ton in 1910 was $3.98.

CONFIDENCE

We Back up Our Statements With Our Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to their normal condition. The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skillful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c., 25c., and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Carl A. Plath.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. Put it hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bites always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. See at Chas. N. Clarke's.

Bold Thieves Work at the Dalles.

One of the boldest robberies The Dalles has ever experienced was perpetrated Friday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, when burglars entered through the back door of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, boldly walked into the business office and rolled the 500-pound safe to the rear entrance, loading it into a wheelbarrow and carting it to the river beach where they blew the door off with nitro-glycerin. The wheelbarrow was taken from the rear of the Edward C. Pease company store where workmen had been mixing concrete. With the safe in this wheelbarrow, the burglars, as the tracks showed, walked down Washington street and across the Portage railroad tracks, dumping the safe over the eight foot embankment, where they completed their job. However, they secured only $22 for their trouble.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all dealers.

Something You Should Know About Substitution

If you wanted to buy oak lumber and the man delivered yellow pine, you would know the difference. If you wanted to buy silk and they sent you calico, you would have no trouble in seeing the substitution. It is not so easy, however, with medicine. A great many medicines look alike and taste alike, BUT THEY DON'T ACT ALIKE. Just think this over the next time you want medicines. Remember that at our store you can absolutely rely on every drug we sell. The difference between buying medicines and merchandise is the difference between knowledge and belief. You know the one but you have to believe in the other. You will be absolutely safe when you put your belief in us.
