BEAUTIFUL MUSIC IMPRESSES AUDIENCE

The Odd Fellow's Hall was crowded last Friday night with people of the city and valley who came to hear the beautiful selections rendered at the Grand Concert given under the auspices of the ladies of the Congregational church. For two hours the audience in the large hall, which was crowded to the very doors, were transported into whatever realms the influence of the rendition of the classic selections tended to send their flights of fancy. Songs, piano selections, an euphonium solo and the plaintive notes of the violin all gave variety to the entertainment.

cause of the pleasure that they themselves received and that they might give several musicals. He said that this winter they planned on giving three entertainments for the local lovers of music, Mordant Goodnough, of Portland, will assist the musicians in their endeavors. Mr. Goodnough has a piano class here. Assisted by Mr. Epping and Mrs. Henney, he gave a public concert last night at the First Christian church.

Apple Grader Exhibited.
N. C. Spencer, of Salt Lake City, Utah, gave a demonstration here Saturday, at the store room of Gilbert & Co. of the Schellenger fruit grading machine, which grades apples in five tier sizes. The grades are distributed in canvas troughs to burlap receptacles and the fruit is not in the least bruised. There are two sets of grading mechanism and thus the operator of the machine is enabled to grade the apples for color and blemishes as he feeds it.

The grading device consists of a series of felt covered receptacles with holes in the center of them, which allow the apples to drop through to the canvas troughs. The receptacles nearest the hopper are of course the smaller ones. If the apple is too large for the first hole it is passed back to the next receptacle and so on until it reaches the right grade.

The operations of the machine were witnessed by many of the valley's growers Saturday, and its methods approved. The practicability of the mechanism was praised by E. H. Shepard, editor of "Better Fruit."

Is the World Growing Better?
Many things go to prove that it is. They thousands are trying to help others in need. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises others to suffer, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully. They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at Chas. N. Clarke's."

ATHLETIC INTEREST CENTERS IN FOOTBALL

A large crowd of old and young enthusiasts was out Friday, afternoon to see the football game of The Dalles high school team and the team of the Hood River Junior Boosters, a club organized by the local high school students in order to circumvent the ruling of the school board and high school faculty, which provides that no student shall take part in athletic events, who has not made a weekly average of 80 per cent in scholarship. Several of the members of the team could not participate in a game officially recognized by the faculty because of delinquencies.

Friday's game was an exceedingly interesting one. The teams were evenly matched. However, the local boys made more and longer gains backing The Dalles line. Two beautiful forward passes were received by Lewis and "Tuffy" Coshow.

The line up of the two teams was as follows:

Hood River	The Dalles
Harry Wood center	V. Egbert
W. Higgins right guard	E. Rounda
W. Sheppard right tackle	Fashek
W. Young right end	P. Mohr
John Coshow quarter	G. Elton

W. Shay left tackle	I. Sharp
J. Lewis left end	B. Cohen
Edgar Franz full back	H. Huntington
A. Ferguson left half	Wentworth
Fred Coshow right half	F. Collins

The game Sunday afternoon between the Booster club and the Columbia club of Portland was won by the latter with a score of 6 to 0. The one touchdown of the contest was made by Streiberg, on a right end of the Rose City team.

The two teams lined up as follows:

Columbia club	Booster club
P. Duerber	c Ford
O'Neill	rg Buggs, M. Morse
Al Duerber	rt Phillips
Streiberg	re Sulton
Wentworth, Ross	lg Mortimer

Great Interest in Domestic Science.

A lively interest was shown by the housewives of the community last Saturday, in the lecture on domestic science by Mrs. W. H. Lawrence at the Heilbronner hall. Mrs. Lawrence, who was assisted by Mrs. E. D. Kanaga and Miss Alice Horning, the latter a member of the Hood River high school faculty, where she teaches domestic science, began her discourse about three o'clock. The large hall was well crowded with housewives. The day was said by Mrs. Lawrence and her assistants gave demonstrations of the methods of preparing the delicious foods. Those attending the lectures came with pads and pencils and took notes on the lecture and jotted down the recipes. The lecture was announced on the streets Saturday afternoon by the members of the Boy Scouts, some mounted on ponies and others, dressed as cooks, following on foot.

The second of the lectures will deal with the proper way to build cakes. The ladies will convene at the Heilbronner hall for this discourse at three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

SAM BLYTHE WRITES OF HOOD RIVER

Samuel G. Blythe, the man who writes so versatily and entertainingly on the political features of the country and who edits the "Who's Who and Why" section of the Saturday Evening Post, had an excellent article in that publication last week on Hood River. Mr. Blythe tells of a visit to the famous apple growing region and gives a history of its development. The Applegrowers' Union comes in for a string praise because of co-operative and scientific methods of marketing.

Of especial interest is Mr. Blythe's advice to prospective applegrowers. "Though as interesting as many work in the world, the industry requires the undivided attention," he says. The following interesting extracts are taken from the article:

"After making an investigation I have no hesitation in saying that any man of good ability, of energy for work, who has an aptitude for the work and has five thousand dollars in cash, and who is prepared to work hard and long before he begins to get his profits, can make a good thing of apple growing in Hood River and some other districts. It will not be easy. It entails hard work, many discouragements and some setbacks. It is no Eldorado where all there is to be done is to set out the trees and, in the fall course of time, pick the golden apples."

"There is another and the most important point of all that must be made - that is, the man who invests in an orchard in Hood River must do there himself, take personal supervision, live with and in his orchard, attend to the work himself and keep watch all the time.

"There are alluring advertisements of fruit property that can be bought and planted and tended for you, you remaining a your usual work until the trees are in bearing and then quitting and going out to sit under their umbrageous shade and catch the dollars as they drop. That is all bunk. If any man wants to get back to the land and make a success of it himself, he cannot delegate the work, for if he does the work will not be done properly. Bringing an orchard into full and profitable bearing is an exacting enterprise as raising a child. It must be done by the praty of the first part.

The absentee landlord will not get the best of the country attending to his work and have people raise apples for him in another. They won't raise them. When you are bringing an apple orchard or any other kind of an orchard into bearing you must be on the spot - right there, hurrying it."

Mr. Blythe has succeeded in giving his readers an accurate idea of the growth and development of the Valley, and his story of the careful system of packing is correct. However, he has allowed the imagination or fancy of some one to cause him to make an erroneous statement as to the picking.

It is true that the picking of the extra fancy apples is done in the most careful manner, but never were they picked from the trees and placed in a pail half-full of water. Naturally this would prevent the fruit from being bruised, but the apples are not allowed to be picked even while the dew is on them. When handled wet, the apples tend to decay more quickly.

Benefit Ball for Fire Department.

On the evening of Friday, November 10, the Eighth Annual Ball of the Hood River Volunteer Fire Department will be given at the Odd Fellow's Hall. The proceeds from the ticket sale will be devoted toward the purchase of paraphernalia for the fire lads. The dancing party should prove a successful social event as well as increase the funds of the firemen's treasury. The fire lads are taking a great interest in the plans for the ball. The music for the occasion will be furnished by Vogel's orchestra. Tickets, the price of each of which is $1.00, may be secured from any of the members of the department.
