UNION STORAGE.

We print in another column this week extracts of a letter from C. H. Sprout, manager of the Apple Growers' Union.

The growers of the Valley have had their minds occupied to a great extent since the first of the year with the consideration of co-operation and the investigation of the proposal made to them by the Northwestern Exchange.

But the stockholders of the Apple Growers' Union want to enable the Union to continue its efficiency. The organization is acknowledged the leading selling agency of its kind in the Northwest.

The apple crop this fall will be the biggest the Valley has ever had. The storage facilities were not adequate year before last.

Even with the present facilities and cars in plentiful numbers, the crop is going to roll in so fast that fall that will be impossible to handle them properly.

With the present facilities and cars in plentiful numbers, the crop is going to roll in so fast that fall that will be impossible to handle them properly, carloads will go to pieces.

COL. ROOSEVELT.

Col. Roosevelt, judging by the daily press of the country and many of the foremost weekly periodicals, although he has been considered one of the shrewdest citizens and presidents the country has ever had, has made a serious mistake in announcing his candidacy for the presidency for a third term.

Col. Roosevelt is a strong man, courageous and has a great deal of executive ability. He has more diplomacy, too, than the average man in the public eye.

In Spokane saloonmen have a rate war and have tried to see which of them could sell liquor and beer the cheapest. If the rate cutting sparring of the barkeepers continues it would not be surprising to see the Inland Empire city the goal for the thirty of little means.

him, thought him not only a great statesman, but a wonderful politician, and Col. Roosevelt was the popular idol of the American people. Indeed, it seemed that his success got the better of him.

There are many men, who have no scruples against a third term president, who have had their suspicion aroused against Mr. Roosevelt because of his former statements, while others declare that, however much they might admire him they would vote and support no man for a third term, declaring it against precedents set in early days of the government and re-affirmed oftentimes since then.

Summing all up it seems that Col. Roosevelt is going to fight against the heaviest odds he has ever had confronting him. There is no doubt about him enjoying a scrap. However, it would probably have been far better for him to have remained out of the contest, not only for himself but for the country at large.

N. J. SINNOTT FOR CONGRESS.

The reports from different parts of the state to the effect that N. J. Sinnott, of The Dalles, is meeting with success over the whole of the Second Congressional district, should be gratifying to the citizens of the city and county of Hood River.

"Nick" Sinnott will represent the state of Oregon creditably. He is a red blooded man with initiative and ability of execution.

THE ACCEPTANCE OF RUMORS.

All of us are too prone, when we hear rumors, to allow them to mislead us and to accept them as facts. It is characteristic of too many of us not to be willing to make our own investigation and to harken to the words of others.
