As a usual thing newspapers and other periodicals are not extensive traveling. However, E. R. Bradley, of the Heights, received Friday a copy of the Christian Herald, published in New York, which had evidently been traveling for some six years and better. The publication was dated January 24, 1906, and bore the original marginal address. When it finally reached its destination the paper was intact, although somewhat dirty, and bearing the marks of much journeying.

CUNNING LOSES STORE BY FIRE

The Oak Grove store, the property of H. A. Canning, was destroyed by fire shortly after noon Saturday. The origin of the conflagration is unknown. Everything was all right when I left for dinner a short time before the flames were discovered," says Mr. Canning. "When they were discovered it was then too late to save the contents of the building." Over the store was the Oak Grove hall, the scene of many festivities and dances of the community.
"But for the courageous work of our neighbors and friends my house and barn would have been destroyed by the flames," says Mr. Canning. "All rushed to the rescue and fought the flames. They have my sincerest thanks."
But for Harry Patton, who broke open a door at the rear of the building, Mr. Canning might have been burned to death. He had entered the burning structure to see that his safe was closed and thus to prevent the destruction of valuable papers.
Morris Opens Paper Department
