Bernard W. Bass, of the Rodney Avenue Christian church in Portland, will occupy the pulpit at the Christian church next Sunday and all the members as well as the public are invited to attend and hear him. He is one of the leading preachers on the east side in Portland and you will be well paid for the visit to hear him. Sunday school at 9:45 and the communion and preaching by Rev. Bass will follow. Come.

No small excitement was created here last Friday morning, when a stove to dry. The line broke and the garments were allowed to come in contact with the hot surface. Reports had it that gasoline had exploded, but this was altogether erroneous. No damage was caused by the fire.

Unitarian Church

At the Unitarian church last Sunday evening genuine interest was shown in the first of the series of lectures on "Religion and Science." At each of the lectures a brief review of the ground already covered will be given.

The outline for the next lecture is as follows: Religion's claim to possess exclusive knowledge, and to hold divine supremacy; character of revelation, church, Bible, Jesus; necessary fallibility of religious ideas. Divine origin of science; the help given by science to religion. All are invited to these lectures, Sunday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

In the morning, the subject of the service will be "The message of Unitarianism in relation to Jesus of Nazareth." The sermon will deal with the present confusion about Jesus due to the breaking up of dogma, and will suggest some ways in which he is far more real to us than ever before in history. For a long time Jesus, the human helper, was lost in the intricacies of diverse creeds; now he is found in the beauty of his humanity.

Preceding the evening service with lecture at the Unitarian church Sunday evening, a young people's meeting will be held. At this time, 6:30 p. m., all the younger people are urged to come to help organize a Young People's Religious Union. This is to be connected with the national organization of the Unitarian church. Miss Mildred Huxley will have charge of this meeting, and will read a paper, the subject of which is "Gentage." All are cordially invited to this opening meeting.

Christian Church Notes

J. H. Swift, pastor of the Christian church, has gone to the East Side Christian church in Portland to conduct a meeting, and will be absent a couple of weeks. Pastor Bernard W. Bass will occupy the pulpit at the Christian church here in his absence. Everybody will be repaid liberally if they avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Mr. Bass while here. The services as usual. Come on time and bring a friend with you.

The ladies of the Christian church will present to the public George Gilbert Bancroft, one of the country's greatest and most brilliant men, in his lecture on "Gethereism." Mr. Bancroft has appeared before the Hood River people before and it needs only to be known that he is to be here again, date, Nov. 25. A special price of admission has been arranged for all high school students and teachers. (See window cards) This lecture is of especial value to the schools in this city. We solicit your patronage. If you want to have a good, as well as a profitable time, come and hear Bancroft.

Washington Crop Bug Says Sprout

"Yakima will ship about 6,000 carloads of apples this year and Washington 4,000 cars," said C. D. Sprout, of the New York commission firm of C. H. & C. W. Kimball, who was here yesterday interviewing local market men and visiting friends. Mr. Sprout was here in August and since that time has been in Yakima and Wenatchee in the interest of his firm. "Good extra fancy stuff is going to bring very good prices this year," says Mr. Sprout. "Of course at present a great deal of mediocre stuff is keeping the market down, but even with this in the market the finest stuff is being taken at good figures." Mr. Sprout, who came up from Portland today on the Oregon-Washington limited, and left for the east.

MOUNTAIN BOOKS PROVE POPULAR

"The Mountain That Was God" and "The Guardians of The Columbia," two books written by John H. Williams of Tacoma, Wash., who is an enthusiastic mountaineer, have proved very popular with local people. And especially is the latter book popular with all who have seen it, for it is made up from engravings of handsome photographs, the greater number of which depict the guardian mountains of this district. Mount Hood and Mount Adams. Many of the books will be sent to eastern friends by local people as Christmas presents and in this way will be a great advertisement of the region's scenic attractions. The local bookstores carry the books in leather, linen bound and paper bindings.

Mr. Williams has made a number of visits to the Hood River valley. He was here last summer with the Mazamas, when they were encamped at Camp Sheldahl.

Numerous local photographers have contributed to "The Guardians of the Columbia," among them James Waggener, Jr., and Frank C. Howell, who was formerly an attorney here. The portion of the book dealing with northwestern trees is written by H. D. Langille, who was reared here.

INDIAN GOES TO HAP- PY HUNTING GROUND

Jack Coon, one of the oldest of the Indians living here, crossed the river Sunday for the happy hunting ground of the Red Man. The remains of the old man, who has long been a familiar figure here, were literally taken across the river, the funeral cortege escorting his body over the Columbia to a burying ground near Big Bend Tuesday.

Jack Coon, whose age was about 75, had won the greatest respect of the white people here, who regretted to hear of his death. He had a homestead up the Columbia east of here and was a good worker. He was always just in his dealings and business men had confidence in him. At the time of the massacre at Cascade Locks, Jack was but a small Indian. However, he was old enough to remember the horrible affair and was sometimes persuaded to relate stories of the early warfare.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MAKES NOMINATIONS

Because of a lack of a quorum Monday night, President Chas. Clarke, of the Commercial club, appointed the following members as a nominating committee to select candidates for the position of directors, the election of whom will take place at the December meeting: Truman Butler, R. W. Kelly and E. O. Blancher. The retiring members of the board are: R. J. Melsaac, C. N. Clarke, W. L. Clark and Albert Sutton. The nominees named by the committee are: John R. Putnam, Chas. Hall, J. H. Heilbronner and W. L. Clark, the latter of whom is subject to re-election to serve a short term.

Mr. Scott states that members of the club may get together and make further nominations if they so desire.

O.-W. R. & N. CO. RE-PAIRS RAILROAD AV.

Railroad avenue was closed to traffic the latter part of last week, when a crew of the O.-W. R. & N. Co., began repairing it, putting in substantial masonry. The street had become almost impassable. A heavy traffic moves over the street, especially at this time of the year, when the apples are being hauled to the Union storage and warehouses. The thoroughfare also lends to the freight station.

While the street was being repaired apple growers stopped their wagons on Columbia street and the boxes of fruit were sent down to the Union by a system of chutes.

Christian Science Services.

Christian Science Services will be held in the Room 2, Davidson Building, Sunday, at 11 a. m. Subject: "Mortals and Immortals."

Sunday School at 10 a. m. Wednesday service, 8 p. m. The reading room is open daily from 2 to 5 p. m., room 2, Davidson building.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Butler left yesterday afternoon for Portland.

OFFICIAL COUNT FOR COUNTY

The vote in Hood River county was 725 larger than it was two years ago, the vote Tuesday being 1,315. Hood River Center polling place at the Holman hall on the Heights, shows the largest number of citizens voting. Nineteen of the initiative measures and amendments were killed in Hood River and 17 carried. The University bills were popular with local voters, and Hood River county was one of the few in which they carried. Woman suffrage was carried by a vote of 766 for and 617 against. Single tax was killed by a vote of 912 against and 383 for.

The official count gives the following returns from this county: Taft 352, Wilson 525, Debs 54, Chadin 121, Roosevelt 484. United States senate, Bourne 311, Clark 177, Lane 353, Pa-gett 9, Ramf 89 and Selling 451. Congress, Abercrombie 111, Cleaver 189, Graham 258 and Simont 847. Secretary of state, Kennedy 257, Olcott 676, Reddaway 121, Ryan 243 and White 88. Justice of the supreme court, Bright 197, Eakin 783, Slater 317, Weaver 150. Food commissioner, Brazee, 149, Dunbar 311, Lea 347 and Mickle 647. Railroad commission, Aitchison 548, Anderson 223, Gates 94, Mahaffey 222 and Service 344. District attorney, Allen 517, and Bell 847. County judge, Cantner 846 and Stark 642. County commissioner, Putnam 865 and Rhoades 406. E. W. Hanson was reelected county clerk and J. F. Johnson, sheriff. These officers received almost the unanimous vote of the citizens.

Interest Taken in Band

Ernest J. Bloom, who has offered his services as leader, says that a number of those talented in musical lines have shown an interest in the formation of a qualified band. Even though the equal suffrage amendment becomes effective at once, as Attorney General A. M. Crawford has intimated that it will, there is not sufficient time for registration, and it is the opinion of Judge A. J. Derby, city attorney, that the women must swear in as any un-registered male voter.

In case this must be done Recorder Howe and a number of citizens, six freeholders from the required number, will necessarily be busy at the polls here at the municipal election properly qualifying the several hundred new female voters.

Literary Club to Organize

The Heights Literary club will meet at the Holman hall tonight for the purpose of reorganization and electing officers for the coming year. It is urged that all interested in the winter's work be present.

H. A. Brandon, of the engineering corps of the O.-W. R. & N. Co., was here yesterday on railroad business.

MASONS CELEBRATE TIEMAN NIGHT

On Monday evening the members of the local lodge of Masons celebrated the anniversary of the dedication of the local building. This annual event is called Tieman night in honor of A. H. Tieman, from the proceeds of whose donations the building was erected. The principal speaker of the evening was Judge E. C. Bronaugh, of Portland, who recalled the early days of Hood River, when he and Rev. W. G. Eliot, of Portland, son of Dr. T. L. Eliot, both youngsters at the time, visited Mr. Tieman while on a hunting expedition in the Upper Valley. Judge Bronaugh concluded his address with a lecture on Masonry.

A. O. Adams, the postmaster at Cascade Locks, made a short speech that was enjoyed by all, and Hon. E. L. Smith enjoyed the occasion with a short address. Mr. Smith's speeches are always interesting and are heard with deep appreciation. A number of visiting Masons were here from nearby cities.

Truman Butler, who made a short talk, read an interesting letter from Axel Krahm, former Master of the local lodge, who has since returned to his old home in Sweden. Captain Schetty related some interesting stories of his life on the seas.

WOMEN VOTERS MUST BE SWORN IN

The local officers have been in a kind of quandary as to what procedure the local women, who will the first time in Oregon exercise the privilege of franchise, must follow in order to become qualified electors. Even though the equal suffrage amendment becomes effective at once, as Attorney General A. M. Crawford has intimated that it will, there is not sufficient time for registration, and it is the opinion of Judge A. J. Derby, city attorney, that the women must swear in as any un-registered male voter.

In case this must be done Recorder Howe and a number of citizens, six freeholders from the required number, will necessarily be busy at the polls here at the municipal election properly qualifying the several hundred new female voters.
