FRIDAY OPPOSES BIG FAIR APPROPRIATION

(E. F. Friday in The Oregonian.)
As a citizen and property owner of Hood River, would it not be better for me to have $500,000 expended in our town than in the town of Paducah? And would it not be better to spend that sum of money within our borders for something that is lasting and permanent, than to put it into an exhibition building in San Francisco, to be soon turned over to a wrecking crew and razed to the ground?
Are we so flush with money as that? If this state does construct a building there, what shall be put into it to exhibit? Apples? No. Our apples must be named by brokers with capital and experience, and who are well established in business in the east and Europe. The consumer of apples has nothing to say in the matter. He takes what the grocer offers him at the lowest price commensurate with quality. The same is true with prunes and other fruits and hops which grow in this state.

Our fish canners on the Columbia and elsewhere have nothing to gain by exhibiting their products with a huge mass of other stuff in San Francisco to a string of pleasure seeking sightseers. The canners' dining table all over the world by the consumer himself. The lumber business of this state ranks first in the volume of business. We all know that they have to find an outlet for their products through well established and reputable houses. Located in favorable places, determined by railroads and other lumbering sections. And it is up to these retail houses to show up the good qualities of this lumber to people who are in need of it, and to the actual consumer.
This is a wool-producing state. Should our woolmen spend money for a wool exhibit at the San Francisco fair? No. They can put their money to better use. Let them build a woolen mill with their money within the borders of this state and manufacture their wool into cloth which we as loyal citizens will buy of them, and again keep our money at home. There is not one single reason of excuse for our legislature to make an appropriation for the San Francisco fair. If a small pavilion as desired for Oregonians to meet in, well and good, that is all we need.
Let us invest our money in developing our own state. Our city streets and our country roads need vast sums of money for the proper development of this state. We need it for our irrigation projects, experiment stations, agricultural school, insane asylums and other state institutions. These things need our support, and we can then point to them with pride to our friends and visitors who come to see us. I do not think much of state aid for roads, but even that would be far better than investing our money in a building in San Francisco.
Suppose this state appropriated $500,000 for a state road from Portland to the Idaho line, and the states of Idaho and Wyoming continued this road to a junction with the National highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. Would this not be far more remunerative and enduring than a temporary fair building equally as expensive at San Francisco? Haven't we city parks everywhere that sadly need improving, which would be an attraction and an inducement for strangers to locate among us? If our taxpayers will vote down a bill carrying an appropriation for our university and other state institutions, what will they not do with a bill carrying an appropriation for a building at San Francisco?

A Girl's Wild Midnight Ride
To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives. Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. E. Patterson, of Wellington, Tex., "after four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained 87 pounds." Nothing so sure and safe for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Chas. N. Clarke.

Many Hear Maude Powell
Many of the music lovers of this city and valley journeyed to The Dalles last Friday evening to hear the noted American violinist, Maude Powell, who appeared at the Vogt theater in that city under the auspices of the Spinnet, a musical organization of the neighboring city. Those from this city attending the concert were: Mrs. J. D. McCully, Misses Flora Furrow, Leila Hershner, Leila Radford, Wilma Thomson and Mrs. Geo. W. Thomson, Harold Hershner, Homer Wood, Clifford Ross, Herbert Phillips, Miss Nettie Allen, Mrs. F. G. Hutchinson, Miss Ann Vannett, Mrs. Mae Gilbert, Clarence Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lucas, Mrs. W. E. Hanson, Miss Sewell, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Kanaga, Miss Louise Halverson, Miss Frieda Johnson, Miss Meda Carter and Miss Stella Richardson. Mrs. McCully remained in The Dalles for several days to visit friends.

Cut the High Cost of Living
W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicine did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. No opiates. Chas. N. Clark."

Water Delinquents Form Fund
The average monthly income of the city water department from penalties of patrons, who fail to pay their water rent on or before the tenth day of each month, amounts to the sum of $25. After the tenth Miss Johnson, the superintendent of the department sends statements to the tardy, who fuming at their negligence pay their bills. After the fifteenth of the month the water may be shut off. In such cases it costs the sum of one dollar in addition to the regular bill to have it turned on again.

Westberg Buys Fine Bull
Gus Westberg, of the Hood River Fruit Growing Co., at Summit, has just purchased a thoroughbred Jersey bull in the Willamette valley. The animal was sired by the noted King Seventh, a bull that sold at one time for $15,000.
Mr. Westberg will devote a great deal of his time to stock raising.

BEN HUR IN PORTLAND NEXT WEEK

Spectacular magnificence, dramatic splendor and religious ecstasy are the most notable concomitants of the new and Erlanger's International production of "Ben Hur," which will be the offering at the Heilig Theatre, Portland, the week of January 27. During the thirteen years which have passed since the original presentation of this noble drama, its owners have not only kept it up to its original grandeur, but have elaborated and developed the possibilities of the production each season, until today it stands unrivaled in beauty and splendor of establishment, unsurpassed in dramatic significance and power. It was the "last word" of the stage craft of the nineteenth century and into the new age it brought a bigness and perfection which will remain the standard for decades to come.
Dealing with the earth life of Jesus, the most important period of history, "Ben Hur" shows the world at its most wonderful point in magnificence and grandeur. It is the personality of the mightiest realm the earth had known. Into this time of display and pomp came the lowly Nazarene, the Christ for whom the nation had longed, and it is this personality of Jesus that, permeating the fabric of the Wallace-Young drama, makes it a sermon as well as a drama of tremendous significance. The reverence with which the immensity of Christ is indicated by the sweep of the story of Ben Hur and Messala, Esther and Iras, carries audiences off their feet, the culmination of the dramatic plot being the chariot race, wherein Ben Hur conquers and degrades his enemy.
Nothing more realistic than this scene in the arena of the Circus of Antioch with Ben Hur and Messala contesting for supremacy has ever been imagined by a dramatist or executed by a producer. The race enthralled because of its outcome depends life, love, honor, riches to the victor; and when Ben Hur receives the victor's crown of wild olive, audiences applaud with the greatest enthusiasm.
"Ben Hur" matinees are announced for Wednesday and Saturday. The prices for all the performances are 50 cents to $2. Mail orders will receive prompt attention. Seat sale opens Thursday, Jan. 23. The fourth visit of "Ben Hur" to Portland.

NEW FIRM SUCCEEDS G. Y. EDWARDS & CO.

The firm of Roberts & Simms has succeeded that of G. Y. Edwards & Co., who deal in valley real estate. The new firm is composed of C. T. Roberts and L. C. Simms. Mr. Roberts has had valuable experience as an orchardist. He is now making his home in the city. Mr. Simms, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Edwards, the retiring member of the old firm, has been associated in business with him here for the past two years. He was formerly in the real estate business in Oklahoma.
The firm of G. Y. Edwards & Co. has been one of the most active dealing in real estate in the country. During the past two years they have handled for their clients property the aggregate value of which reaches a half million dollars. During the past year they acted as agents in more real estate deals than any other firm in the valley.
Mr. Edwards quits the firm because of ill health. He has been in Portland and Roseburg for the past two months. Mrs. Edwards and daughter will join him in Portland, where he will remain the balance of the winter and spring for medical treatment. Mr. Simms has had active charge of the business for the past 18 months and is well acquainted with all real estate conditions in the community.

WOMEN WILL DISCUSS SCHOLARSHIP LOAN

On Wednesday, January 23, the Woman's club will have their next meeting. This will be "Scholarship Loan Fund day." Mrs. J. P. Lucas and Mrs. William Stewart have the honor to chair the meeting. It will be an afternoon at home to all the members and their lady friends. Everyone is requested to bring their small change along with their work bag and tin. There will be a short program, light refreshments will be served and the afternoon will be pleasantly spent and a large attendance is requested.
On Wednesday, January 15, the club held its last meeting. Mrs. J. S. Booth had the afternoon in charge. After the business meeting, Will Chandler rendered a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Slocum. Mrs. Sarah Evans Pettinger gave a reading on education of children and the necessity of the public play ground for their comfort.

Congregational Church Notes

"The Advance," the Congregational organ of Chicago, states that Rev. E. L. Rice, D. D., who recently resigned his pastorate in Westminster church, Spokane, is to join with Dr. Geo. R. Wallace, his predecessor who has been pastor at Toledo, Ohio, since leaving Spokane, on a lecture tour. They expect to tour the coast cities and spend a year in the east, then tour Canada and Europe. Dr. House will lecture on psychology and Dr. Wallace on literary subjects in the afternoons and preach in the evenings, where they visit.
Dr. Poling, who for a number of years was pastor of the Congregational church at The Dalles, has accepted the pastorate of the Pilgrim church in Portland, where he has been residing for the past few months.

Something You Should Know About Substitution

If you wanted to buy oak lumber and the man delivered yellow pine, you would know the difference. If you wanted to buy silk and they sent you calico, you would have no trouble in seeing the substitution. It is not so easy, however, with medicine. A great many medicines look alike and taste alike, BUT THEY DON'T ACT ALIKE. Remember that at our store you can absolutely rely on every drug we sell. The difference between buying medicines and merchandise is the difference between knowledge and belief. You know the one but you have to believe in the other. You will be absolutely safe when you put your belief in us.
