They have been in Portland for the past three weeks, having come to that city from San Francisco.
At the Unitarian church the next in the series of doctrinal sermons will be on the theme, "How we got our Bible." For an understanding of a large portion of the bible the keenest scholarship is needed. This sermon will attempt to reflect some of the results of higher criticism. Many surprises await new inquirers and a new worth will be given this most remarkable literature of the world. At the young people's service at 6:30 Margaret Mitchell will give a reading entitled, "The Lie." Will McGuire and Joe Johnson will render a cornet-violin duet. All are cordially invited.

Ernest J. Bloom, the photographer, who has been rusticiating at the home of R. E. Scott for the past two weeks, has become a trapper. It seems that a digger squirrel has been inhabiting Mr. Scott's residence during the absence of himself and family. The rodent discovered Mr. Bloom taking a nap one afternoon and at once made up its mind that some of his hair would make a nice bed. When Mr. Bloom awoke the squirrel was removing his locks, a single hair at a time. He thought an Indian was scalping him and turned loose a yell that awoke for a moment the hibernating spring. He hasn't seen the squirrel since he yelled, but he has sworn to catch the animal in a trap, that is, if the yell didn't frighten it to death.

Harvey-Driver
One of the prettiest home weddings of the season was held at the home of the bride's parents, near Maupin, Ore., Sunday, March 23, when Davis A. Harvey, of Parkdale, son of Mrs. J. D. Campbell, of Wamic, and Nellie C. Driver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Driver, of Maupin, were united in marriage by Rev. Lilly, of Tygh Valley. H. E. Driver, cousin to the bride, acted as best man, while Mrs. H. E. Driver, sister to the groom, attended the bride. In addition to the ones mentioned, those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Driver, Fay Driver and Guy and Nova Harvey.
Subsequent to an extended trip to southern Oregon and California points, the young couple will make their home in Upper Hood River Valley, where the groom has a fruit farm.
Both the bride and groom are members of old and well known pioneer families of southern Wasco county and they have the best wishes of a large circle of friends and relatives for a happy, prosperous wedded life.

Gem Installs New Machine
The Gem Theatre has installed a new 1913 Model Cameragraph, a moving picture machine that is the latest thing in the electrical theatre world. The new apparatus covers, in addition to the usual makes danger of film combustion impossible. It is endorsed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. In addition to its safety, the machine, which has a light of 2200 candle power, works with very little noise and makes a great deal better picture than the old machine.
The company will install two moving picture machines soon, in order that they may be able to put on a continuous show.
