If you do not get your paper promptly, notify us by mail or telephone and the matter will be investigated.

REFERENDING APPROPRIATIONS

We think that it is very unfortunate not only for the students and patrons of the University of Oregon, but for the state as a whole, that some of the citizens are going to invoke the referendum on the appropriation bills for the state university. Mr. Friday in his communication last week states: "Everyone in the state or out of it, if he knows anything about our University, knows that it is a pretty small 'college'." No, we believe the University of Oregon is a pretty big place, but to the shame of all of the citizens of the prosperous commonwealth of Oregon, its dignity has not been maintained for the past few years. People in all parts of the nation have heard of the University of Oregon, and they are disappointed when they visit the institution. Oregon legislative bodies have been stingy with the institution, and when the legislature has made liberal appropriations, the people, themselves, have made the mistake of invoking the referendum. The free use of the referendum, it seems, is often a means of self injury for the people of a state.

Now the Glacier, while it believes the University of Oregon should have more liberal support, does not believe the alumni of the institution should be envious or covetous—and yet it is probably impossible to blame them for the latter—the appropriations received by the Oregon Agricultural College. As an institution of Oregon we are proud of the progress that Oregon Agricultural College has made. Its work is a big and beneficial factor in Oregon's development. However, we do think that as a people we deserve criticism for our failure to properly maintain our other institution of higher education.

Unfortunately personal jealousies and antagonism have grown up between men supporting the two institutions. These have led to the waging of political warfare, that has resulted in incidents not the most edifying. As to an amalgamation of the two institutions, are the promoters of such a campaign sure that such a course will be cheaper for the taxpayers of the state? Perhaps they do not know that the work to a great extent that is at present duplicated will have to continue to be duplicated, even though the universities are amalgamated.

Advertising pays. Texas Bermuda onion growers find that by the publicity of the merits of their "fruit" as a health restorer the sales are increasing. The growers of the fragrant bulbs claim that they are a panacea for many human ills.

The Oregon country is just a little bit better, in the verdict of the former Indian, who had returned to that state from Hood River just when the flood was reaching its height.

There is a neat little lesson under the apple exhibit at the Commercial club. Poor pork will kill our goose of reputation for excellency of pack.

The Upper Valley citizens are still interested in that hovine agitation. Let them keep up the interest until they secure enough cows to start a dairy.

Poker is not only a forbidden but an expensive luxury.

FISS, FURS AND FEATHERS

A wild deer is running at large in the foothills, wearing a buckskin thong about its neck as the result of being in charge of a small boy last week. A dispatch from Trout Lake says the boys were on a visit to a trapper's cabin five miles west of Trout Lake, when they saw the big buck stalling in the deep snow near. Although the long legs of the deer were firmly fixed in the snow for the time the boys could easily walk on the crust, thus an idea struck them that they would capture the deer and take it home with them. No sooner thought of than the boys procured a thong that the cabin and cautiously crept up to the deer. The thong was thrown around the neck of the buck and one of the braver of the lads jumped on its back, expecting to remain there while the other boys led the animal to their home at Trout Lake. The deer, however, soon decided it was time to be doing a stunt or two to himself, and began to plunge and buck until he got himself on top of the crust, and away he went, throwing his young rider to one side. The deer is believed to be going yet.

Attitude Toward Poor Pack

(From the Wenatchee, Wash., Advance) "Why don't you publish the names of those five growers who betrayed this valley by shipping screwy culls to North Dakota and sold them to unsuspecting farmers at extra fancy prices?" Many times during the last few days has this inquiry been made at the Daily World office. Remorsement is at fever heat. We answer that the chief reason is that we do not know the names. John Peters knows them, and has talked with the guilty ones, but we tell you they are, he says they are quite prominent growers and that they did not realize what a crime they had committed against the valley and against themselves. He feels that these men should have one more chance. If their names were printed at this time, feeling being as strong as it is, they would be utterly disgraced. Perhaps they ought to escape for this time, but after all the agitation of this winter, a system will doubtless be established next fall whereby all such abuses can be checked and the names of the unscrupulous given to the world.

SESSION OF CIRCUIT COURT IS SHORT

The second term of circuit court, which convened here Monday, with Judge W. L. Bradshaw, of The Dalles, on the bench, was short. The grand jury made a record for the rapidly with which it finished its work. The inquisitorial body had ended its labors before the day was over and had been dismissed by the judge after having returned a single true bill. The grand jury was composed of J. H. Gill, H. P. Allen, Alva L. Day, Fred J. Howard, Geo. S. Johnson, C. B. Jensen and W. H. Davis. The true bill was returned against L. Toucher, who was charged with the illicit sale of liquor, returned on Monday afternoon a fine of $150 was imposed on each of the five men who were taken into custody last week while engaged in a poker game at the Belmont planer. Those engaged in the game were H. Rotger, William Cozad, Claud Cozad, Geo. Hitchcock and W. L. Robertson.

The jury in the case of the State vs. L. Toucher, who was indicted on a charge of illicit sale of liquor, returned a verdict of guilty and he was assessed a fine of $100. The defense set up was that Toucher had ordered the liquor to be used as refreshments at a banquet and a number of friends held in the building back of the Blossers Hardware Co. store, where a number of young fellows kept bachelor quarters, and that he did not intend to make any sale of the intoxicants. Judge W. L. Bradshaw returned to The Dalles last night. Wells A. Bell, prosecuting attorney for this district, finished his work here Tuesday. At the next session of the court, Geo. R. Wilbur, the recently appointed county attorney will handle the criminal and civil business of the county.

ROBERTS & SIMMS MAKE MANY SALES

Real estate has been more active during the March of 1913 just passed than on last year, according to reports of Roberts & Simms, who have announced sales the aggregate consideration of which amount to $150,000. An $11,000 deal was made by this firm for Martin H. Maher, who sold his 20 acre Pine Grove tract to E. E. Marshall, of Portland, who will move here with his family and make his home. Mr. Maher will remove to Springwater, where he has purchased a ranch. John R. Putnam, of the Upper Valley, and a member of the county commission, has purchased through Messrs. Roberts & Simms, the E. R. Tucker estate, one of the best known bearing orchards of the district. The consideration was $30,000. F. E. Strong, of The Dalles, has purchased the M. Dumas 10 acre tract in the Upper Valley near Mount Hood. The consideration was $15,000. N. C. Evans, who sold his ranch here to Mrs. L. N. Russell, of Portland, for the sum of $35,000, has purchased a business block in Portland at a consideration of $30,000. Mr. Roberts, during the month, sold to L. E. Dorn his seven and a half acre tract of five year old orchard on the Brookside drive, and purchased from E. E. Richards an apartment house in East Portland at a consideration of $2,500. Another important sale was that made for S. T. Ricketta, who sold his 10 acre bearing orchard to Frank Menefee, of Portland. The consideration was $15,000. Mr. Ricketta accepting a part payment a Mosier tract valued at $6,400.

Commercial Club Will Meet Monday The regular monthly meeting of the Commercial club will be held Monday evening. The following bulletin has been issued by Secretary R. E. Scott: We wish to be sure and have a quorum, as the question of changing the by-laws so that persons living in the valley can be members of the Club by paying 50 cents per month instead of $1. This question has been discussed a long time, and it is one that should be settled—possibly affirmatively. The Club is trying to settle the electric light question. It is possible there will be some discussion on this matter, inasmuch as the proposed increase in rates means, some say, $50,000 per year to the community. Quite a sum when we do not feel rich enough to buy a library site for $10,000 and have 20 years to pay for it. Better come. Expected to get the billiard tables paid for in March, but billiard bills for February were not paid as well as expected. It is hoped there will be an improvement this month and we can report in May that it is all over. There was $20.35 worth of playing in February, and $43.55 in March. We still owe $53.45. F. A. Bishop, Dr. J. H. McVay, J. R. Nunemaker, George Krtle, J. M. Wood and E. M. Spaulding were admitted to membership in the Club. Resignations of Philip Beche, C. P. Sonnichsen, John Weaver, Walton A. Green and W. Fort Jackson were accepted as they were presented in writing and all of them have left the valley. Member Ward Ireland Cornell has buyed a motorcycle and the Upper Valley is reporting progress. Mr. Cornell is a firm believer in advertising and anyone having ideas on this method of helping sales will do well to talk it all the time. The Texas onion growers broke into the Saturday Evening Post of April 6th with half a page. It will pay anyone to take a little time and think hard to find the reason they did it. The Club did its best to get Hood River to advertise her apples in 1912. There's one thing however, to be kept always in mind when advertising—"That a business is known not by what it sells, but by what it delivers." Therefore the pack must be absolutely uniform and up to snuff. All the money on earth won't help us if this is neglected. We've heard of some horrible examples recently. Monday, April 14th, 8 p. m. is the date. R. E. SCOTT, Sec'y.
