MORGAN REVIEWS LOCAL PROGRESS

"The Hood River country and the Mosier district have made a wonderful progress in the past eleven years," says C. D. Morgan, Mosier's pioneer real estate dealer who is now traveling for a Detroit implement firm and who with his wife was here last week on business and visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were on their way from southern California to Detroit.

"I came from the East to Hood River just eleven years ago," says Mr. Morgan. "I hired a horse from one of the local stables and rode over to Mosier, where I purchased one of the choice tracts of land for $30 per acre. The Judge Henderson surveyed the tract for me. Just about that time a few prospective purchasers were beginning to turn up at Mosier, and I decided that I could make good in the real estate business. So I got a piece of canvas, and mixing some axle grease and lamp black, hung out the first real estate sign ever exhibited in that bustling little town. I was the laughing stock of the village until I began to make some good deals. And in about three months every mother's son of my neighbors had followed my suit and were dealing in real estate."

Christianity Gaining, Says Evangelist

Something of the difficulties which confront the gospel missionary in India because of the caste system, and the feeling of Mohammedans toward Christians because of the war in Turkey, is described in a communication from J. L. Shaw, of Lucknow, India, superintendent of the India Union Mission of Seventh-Day Adventists, to F. S. Scobee, who is connected with Elder I. G. Knight in holding a series of meetings in the tabernacle at Twelfth and Taylor streets. He says:

"Christianity is continually getting a stronger foothold. Large numbers of Telugus and Punjabis are becoming Christians. The Parsees, among the most influential people of India, are becoming more favorable to Christianity. The number of Christians, according to the census of 1911, has risen from 2,923,214 in 1901 to 8,875,203 in 1913, a gain of 33 per cent.

The caste system is one of the greatest barriers to Christian missions in India. There are no less than 2,000 different castes and tribes. Every trade has a caste. Shoemakers, barbers, cooks, etc. House servants are divided into nearly a score of different castes, and no one will do the work of another. Some castes will do no work with the caste of the Hindu who becomes a Christian must leave his own house and family. He will not be allowed to eat with them, or even to drink at the same well. He is indeed an outcast. All inherited rights of property are forfeited.

"And yet Christianity is making progress. Mission schools are educating the people. Village preaching is witnessing to the gospel of Christ. Medical mission work is opening up the hearts and homes of the people, and the Bible is being widely distributed in many languages. All of this is making for the advancement of Christianity in India. There are 60,000,000 Mohammedans in the country. They have been much agitated by the recent war in the Balkans, and have sent large sums of money to assist the church and urge them forward in fighting for their government and the glory of Islam. At the Mohammedan college at Aljharh students deny themselves food in order to send money to Turkey to help in the war.

"The present war in the Balkans has been to the Mohammedan world a religious war. There is no doubt that to remove the headquarters of his empire from Europe he will establish himself in old Jerusalem. Daniel, in the 11th chapter and 45th verse, speaking of him, under the figure of the King of the North, says: 'He shall come to his end and none shall help him.' In Rev. 18:2 it is spoken of under the figure of the river Euphrates. Here it is said of him that he should be dried up; that is destroyed, that the way of the Kings of the East might be prepared. Now, when the throne of the sultan of Turkey is tottering to ruin, not only is political Turkey falling, but the head of Islam is receiving an all but mortal wound. This will be a call to the millions of Mohammedans throughout the world to contribute their coin and the last drop of loyal blood to the defense of the false prophet, against the nations of the west, who are even now quarreling over the division of the Turkish territory. The result—Armageddon.

"The converts to Christianity from among the Mohammedans are few in some parts of India. Yet, at the risk of their lives followers of Mohammed are turning to Christ. Our society is carrying on mission work in nine languages. Seven magazines are published in six languages. Sixteen mission stations are operated in different parts of India and Burma, and the number of members is yearly increasing. There are five dispensaries, and 50,000 treatments are given each year. Mission schools are conducted at nearly every station, with 1000 pupils in attendance. We expect to increase our mission force in India the coming year."

When I heard of a neighbor having used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, I gave them a trial. Less than one box fixed me up all right and I haven't had any trouble since. O. A. C. ISSUES INSTRUCTIVE BULLETIN

The bulletin, entitled "The Enrichment of Rural Life," just issued by the Oregon Agricultural College is one of the handiest and most instructive ever sent out by the institution. Its pages are filled with matter the reading of which will be educational for the rancher, and it is handsomely illustrated with engravings. One of the cuts shows the Hood River valley near the apple house of A. I. Mason. The bulletin makes a strong plea for the school fairs, saying:

"Several counties have taken up the work with special energy and enthusiasm. They have made it a means of introducing, or of encouraging, both industrial and agricultural work in the school. By initiating contests in gardening in country rearing, for instance, they have not only stimulated the children to thoughtful effort in agricultural production, but have awakened the parents and business people to cooperate with the movement by offering liberal prizes. They have succeeded in carrying through both local and county exhibits, often with remarkably fine displays and remarkably large attendance. The result has been quickened into a novel and inspiring activity, and the communities, in sympathy with the children, have awakened to a delighted sense of rivalry, loyalty and neighborhood pride."

WARNINGS AGAINST KILLING PHEASANTS

While, according to the old bills that have been in effect, the closed season would have ended this year, the legislature at the last session passed bills regulating the season in different counties of the state. The season for the killing of pheasants will remain closed in Hood River county and other communities east of the Cascades. The people here have made an effort to stock the community with these beautiful game birds, which when introduced in the matter of domestic, and the law will be strictly enforced. A number of the local orchardists have made game preserves of their places and have liberated the birds on their ranches.

State Game Warden W. L. Finley has signified his intention of further aiding the ranchers in stocking the community. In a letter to W. M. Stewart last week he calls attention to the closed season. Mr. Finley says: "I hope these birds will be given good protection and that they will increase and do well in that locality. It might be well to give this matter some publicity so that people may be interested in the matter and give the birds proper protection. There is no open season on China pheasants in Hood River county, so that the birds should be well protected."

KELLY BROS. MOVE TO NEW HOME

Kelly Bros., who have been conducting a feed store on Fourth street opposite the Paris fair, but who last winter constructed a large warehouse and feed room on Railroad avenue just west of the apple vinegar factory, are vacating their old quarters and moving to the new building, which has receiving and loading platforms at both ends and is arranged conveniently for customers.

The city is now making preparations to improve the streets in this section of the city.

One-Armed Man in Runaway

One of the most exciting runaways ever seen in the city, and yet resulting in no injury, was that Saturday morning, when the big bay horse of J. L. Moreland, son of J. C. Moreland, clerk of the supreme court, ran away west of the city. Mr. Moreland's animal became frightened at a gray horse and dashed off madly down the state road. The driver, handicapped, having one injured arm, began sawing on the reins and kept the frightened animal under control. Drivers of other vehicles saw the approach of the vehicle in time to clear the road and thus fortunately prevented a collision. The runaway was stopped near the Cottage hospital.

Costly Treatment

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." Sold by all dealers.

Theater Train Will Run

Since Sunday Hood River has had a theater train. The Oregon-Washington Express, which has passed through the city at 10:20 o'clock each evening, has been taken off and the O.-W. R. N. Co. has put on the Salt Lake Express, which passes through the city at 2:22 a. m. The train will not leave Portland until after twelve o'clock, enabling local residents to remain for shows. The new train will also bring the morning Oregonians. And hereafter the local patrons of that paper will be able to read the Oregonians at breakfast.

George Bradford, living at Riverside Hotel, Colusa, Calif., reports that he had a very severe case of kidney trouble and backache, which also affected the secretions. He says "I took five boxes of Foley Kidney Pills and they cured me." All over California people report that Foley Kidney Pills "cure." For sale by Chas. N. Clarke.

Edward Hill Goes Sketching

Edward Hill, the artist, who has just returned from Salt Lake City, where he was visiting his son, left Sunday for the Upper Valley, where he will spend two weeks on the homestead range of Prof. A. J. Harmon, sketching views of Mt. Hood, which rises like a veritable guardian near the ranch. Mr. Hill expects to get a number of cloud and sunset effects from the Upper Valley viewpoint. He will also put in considerable time whipping the mountain streams in that neighborhood for trout.

IN HARMONY WITH NATURE

Will G. Richmond, Ingleswood, Calif., says he will be glad to answer any inquiries regarding the benefit he had from using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. "It has also greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough, and acts so well in harmony with nature, it is more like a food than medicine." For sale by Chas. N. Clarke.

Tips On Titles

A MAN

Came rushing into our office and wanted an Abstract in a hurry. He seemed to think we kept them on hand and could pass the one he wanted right over to him. It was the first time he had ever required an Abstract. He had an opportunity to make an investment which gave promise of rich returns. It was an unusual chance. He had no ready money so had gone to his bank to get it by placing a mortgage upon his land. The bank, according to its custom, demanded an Abstract and referred him to us. Now the man had lived on this land. He had paid good money for it. He held a Warranty Deed. He thought it was his. It was, but there was a "Cloud upon the Title" which had to be cleared before he could obtain any money upon his land. There were defects in the instruments as recorded which could be remedied only by a decree of the Court. This required time. Meanwhile the opportunity for the promising investment had passed.

Why Not Now?

This is not a fiction. It is not even exceptional. It is the sort of thing that is occurring repeatedly. You own land in Hood River County. You intend, some day, to have it covered by an Abstract. Why Not Now? There is nothing to be gained by delay and may be much to lose. It matters not what you think about your land, your title is only as good as the records show. The business of the Abstractor is to give you the record of your title. Some people seem afraid to enquire into the title to their land. They prefer to play "ostrich" and try to keep the abstractor from knowing the trouble with it. When the day comes, as it surely will, that they must have an Abstract they are disappointed that they have to wait for the Abstractor to do his work. The abstractor, in the abstract, it takes time to prepare a correct and complete Abstract. Besides there are always other hurry orders ahead which must be finished before new work is begun. It is even more annoying to learn that the title you thought good is imperfect. The trouble may be slight and of a nature which could be readily removed, but still sufficient to cause an exasperating delay at a time when one wishes to make a quick sale or raise money upon a mortgage.

Be wise enough to have your Abstract made NOW, while there is no urgent need for prompt action. Come in and talk to us about it, we may be able to make a few suggestions of benefit to you.

We have been searching Hood River Titles since 1886, and if there is a flaw in the Title we can find it.
