Priests Injured in Auto Accident

Rt. Rev. Father Alphons Bronsgeest of St. Peter's Catholic church of The Dalles is lying at The Dalles hospital with a broken leg besides being severely bruised about the body and cut on the head, as the result of an automobile accident which occurred Monday when the father was returning to this city in his automobile, accompanied by Father Cantwell of Dufur, says The Dalles Chronicle. The accident occurred on the Benson hill.

Father Bronsgeest was driving down the hill, keeping well to the outside of the grade so that he might be able to see a team should there be one coming up the grade. At one place there is a sharp curve and while rounding this he attempted to turn off his electric switch in order that the car might coast, and just as he did this the hind wheels dropped to some soft dirt and the car left the grade, turning over three times before it stopped, 30 feet below. It was a great wonder that both the occupants were not killed.

If your shoes have gone wrong take them to Johnson's.

PIONEER REUNION AND BIRTHDAY PARTY

The pioneer ladies were royally entertained at the home of Mrs. Fred Howe on Thursday afternoon in honor of the 60th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Emma J. Ingalls. One of the most happy events of the afternoon was when Mrs. Eleanor LaFrance, one of Hood River's pioneers of 1875, but now of Portland, arrived and completely surprised all present. The afternoon was spent in an old time visit, each relating some hardship they endured in those early days or some amusing incident in their social life. One to be mentioned was told by Mrs. LaFrance, nee Smith, of her first evening in social life in Hood River, where oyster soup was served with only one plate and spoon to each couple. Fortunately her partner didn't eat soup so she ate the soup and ate the sandwiches and cake.

A table, the centerpiece being a huge birthday cake as white as snow and decorated with pink candles, and many many gifts, as tokens of love for their old time friend, were very much appreciated by Mrs. Ingalls.

Dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Emma J. Ingalls, John W. Hinrichs, O. L. Stranahan, A. L. Parker, W. A. Monroe, John A. Wilson, Alma Howe, H. L. Howe, Bert Stranahan, S. Cople, Eleanor LaFrance, James Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Blythe.

Several others were unable to be present either on account of sickness or being out of town. Mrs. H. L. Howe and Mrs. Bert Stranahan assisted Mrs. Howe in entertaining.

The place cards, which were painted by George Howe, were very beautiful and appropriate. On these appeared the log cabin of a pioneer, the smoke from its chimney floating up through the branches of the virgin forest to the blue sky of Oregon.

HIGHER COURT LEAVES CASE AS IT BEGAN

The decision handed down last week by the supreme court in the divorce case of Silliman vs. Silliman, left the litigants in the same position as that in which they found themselves after the original decision of Judge Bradshaw, of The Dalles, before whom the case was tried, Judge Derby and Bennett & Sinnott, the latter of The Dalles, appearing for the defendant and E. H. Hartwig for the plaintiff. According to this decision, the plaintiff, Mrs. Silliman, was granted the divorce with $1000 alimony and $150 suit money, but was not given a third interest in the real estate. The plaintiff's attorney contended for interest in the realty in addition to the money, and the attorneys for the defendant were willing for the case to be so settled that the plaintiff would have the option of taking the landed interest of the money, but not both. Judge Bradshaw later gave an amended decree, at the instance of the plaintiff, allowing the plaintiff one-third interest in the land but no money, and it was from this that the plaintiff's attorney appealed.

The supreme court reversed the amended decision of Judge Bradshaw as to the alimony and suit money without confirming that portion referring to the disposition of the land. In the latter matter, the court declared, the lower court had no jurisdiction or authority. According to the decision of the court both parties to the litigation will pay their own expense bills for the appeal.

Insurance Man Comes Here

W. M. Chance, who has many years of experience in the life and accident insurance business, has arrived here from his former home in Madison, Indiana, and will take charge of a branch of this line of insurance work to be established by Roberts & Simms. Mr. Chance is accompanied by his wife and they have taken apartments at the Mount Hood Annex.

Mr. Chance, who began his work Monday, is the agent for the Continental Casualty Co., and will pay special attention to that line of work. This is one of the largest companies of its kind in the world, and its last financial statement showed admitted assets of more than $2,000,000.

Mr. Chance will also handle the local work for two life insurance companies.

Christian Church

The regular services will be held next Sunday at the Christian church, Sunday school at 9:45. Communion and sermon following at 11 o'clock. Every member of the church requested to be there and the public is invited.

The evening services are open to all. The Endeavor started well last Sunday in the contest. Forty-seven present the first service. This contest is open to all.

Preaching at 8 p. m. by the pastor. Subject: "Jesus Christ a Sad Failure Among Men, and Why." You are invited to this discussion and will receive the glad hand at all services.

Local Students Will Go to Berkeley

Two of Hood River county's students will attend the University of California at Berkeley this fall. Horace Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Skinner, of the Oak Grove district, left Monday for Portland, where he will take the steamship Heaver for San Francisco and make preparations to enter the California institution. Miss Dorothy Epping will leave the latter part of the week to visit with relatives at Astoria and to make ready for her departure south, where she will enter Berkeley.

Young Skinner is a graduate of the Hood River high school, while Miss Epping graduated this spring from the Astoria high school.

Harmon Tunes Chautauqua Pianos

When the pianos ordered by the Chautauqua association for the big event week before last did not arrive, the management was perplexed until A. J. Harmon came to the front and offered to secure a couple of instruments from households of the neighboring community. Mr. Harmon then set to work transporting the pianos to the grounds and tuning them. But for his services the musical part of the program might have been seriously handicapped.

Mr. Harmon had charge of the dance music at the Chautauqua.

Samuel M. Blowers, who was married in Portland Monday to Miss Rose Holden, is spending several days in the city with his bride.
