Ruth Clark and Mary Sheppard returned Monday from a few days' visit with Doris Jensen, of Dee.

Miss Edena Clarke is enjoying a delightful outing at Honeycomb Camp, Lost Lake.

J. H. Eggert and party named their camp at Lost Lake, Leaf-a-while, but a spell of winter weather struck them and after the exertion required for finding suitable wood to keep those in camp somewhere near comfortable, they found the name chosen not exactly appropriate as there was little time for loafing.

Those who question whether corn can be successfully grown in Hood River Valley should see G. W. Lafferty's field of corn and learn what rotation of crops and a man with a hoe can accomplish.

D. P. Emry and Harry Emry have some fine yearling apple trees and corn and other growing crops we expect to tell you about later.

Thanks to those who phone or write items of interest for Odell correspondence. Occasionally Monday morning finds perhaps one lone note on a sheet and then imagine what your correspondent must do to find sufficient matter for Odell's column. We wish to represent every part of the territory that should be covered by this correspondence and we greatly appreciate any help that may be given in the way of notes concerning transfers of real estate, improvements, company coming here from outside Odell, residents of Odell leaving for other points, and so forth.

Rev. Wm. A. Sunday will speak at the Union church next Sunday, service beginning at 10:45 a. m. We understand Rev. Sunday expects to leave for the East soon and this is probably his last public appearance in Hood River Valley this season.

Mrs. Dunn has returned home after several weeks' stay in The Dalles.

Now is the time of year when the dry-goods stores do a thriving business in the sale of calicoes, and all small retailers give up the swimming hole for the school room. However, there does not seem to be such a tendency to go swimming in these swiftly running mountain streams, so we can't get poetical about the old swimmin' hole.

School starts here September 1 with the Misses Elizabeth and Olive Moss as teachers.

WINANS CITY

Herbert Day, who has been camping near the Winan's station with family, met with a very serious accident last week. While working in the timber Mr. Day asked a man who was working with him, to toss a file to him. The man threw the file just as Mr. Day stepped forward. The file struck him in the right side, causing a very painful wound. Mr. Day suffered greatly at the time but he is recovering and will soon be able to be at work again.

August 1 Mr. Morganson, County Commissioner, and Mr. O'Neal, Deputy County Engineer, came over from Lyle and made a reconnaissance of the proposed grade changes on the Husum road. Using the northern end of the Underwood road as a point of control, they found that an almost uniform grade can be established from that point to the head of the Bald Mountain grade with a two per cent slope as the maximum. They also found that the entire grade can be established within the limits of the present right of way.

Simon P. Kreps, of one the pioneer residents of Camas Prairie, died last Monday evening, August 11, on the old homestead where he had lived for more than 20 years. While he had been in feeble health for two years, his death was rather sudden although not wholly unexpected as he had reached the advanced age of 84 years. Mr. Kreps came to Camas Prairie from Missouri when settlers in the Camas section were few in number. He was an upright citizen, a good neighbor and had a host of friends. He leaves a wife and five children: Oliver P., of Laurel; George, of Husum; Richard, of White Salmon; Mrs. Orpa Johnson, of Seacampo, Ore.; and Mrs. Mollie Cole, of Husum. The deceased was a soldier in the Civil War. Funeral services were conducted at the home Wednesday of last week, interment taking place at the Glenwood cemetery.

"Tales of Honey and Tar" from West and East

Wm. Lee, Paskenta, Calif., says "It gives universal satisfaction and I use only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children." E. C. Rhodes, Middleton, Ga., writes, "I had a racking grippe cough and finally got relief taking Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Use no other in your family and refuse substitutes. Chas. N. Clarke, Druggist."

C. R. Bone spent the first part of the week in Portland on business and to join Mrs. Bone there.
