There is a tendency in all fruit districts to ship the good stuff away from home and to consume the poor quality who intend to take the work. Many California citrus districts, this will be found the case. In the tomato district of West Tennessee, the home consumers make the same complaint, and we now learn that the Portland market men are howling that they are not getting fruit up to grade. Local growers and the market men, themselves, ers and the market men, themselves, are to blame for this status. In past years independent shippers without p.m. and while he in session on Monday packing the fruit with such care as and Wednesday evenings. that sent to eastern and foreign markets have sold to Portland merchants. STYLE COLUMN

The simple dress this season is really charming. The lines are straight, the waist blouses enough to give an easy comfortable look, the skirts are trim and narrow. Of course there are women who carry these things to the extreme, whose waists blouse so that they hang over their girdle, whose skirts are so narrow that they can scarcely hobbie; but these women caricature every fashion. If you take a dress like that illustrated, formed by combining shirtwaist 7647 and skirt 6931, you will get just the right linesthe waist closes at the front, and you have a choice of the cool looking open neck-finished with Robespierre collar, and a trim high neck with smart turn-
