COUNTY JUDGE CORRECTS FALSE STATEMENTS

As the promoters of the recall are endeavoring to make capital out of several bills for $12.50 per day paid to Mr. Marshall, I wish to say that $7.50 of this amount was for the use of Mr. Marshall's automobile, in taking the county court on long trips of inspection over the valley and the other $5 was his regular salary. Had we hired an automobile from other sources, it would have cost the county from $15 to $20 a day instead of $7.50.

Another statement that is being used against us is that the road money raised by special tax in the Odell district has not all been spent there. In regard to this, the amount of the special Odell road tax that was paid in up to July 1 has been used in the Odell district, but as the balance became delinquent and was not paid in until October 1, it is now in the road fund and will be used to do further work in this district.

Signed,
G. R. Castner, County Judge.

Recall Meeting Arouses Ire at Locks

The meeting of the recall supporters at Cascade Locks aroused the wrath of people there Monday night. Expressing the sentiment of the people of the Locks, the following "excerpts" from a letter from Mrs. Gregg, of that city, received by the Glacier yesterday afternoon are given:

"I would like to say a few words in regard to this Hood River recall. It was terrible the way those people supporting the recall misrepresented things Monday night. I have lived within a few miles of Hood River for 14 years. I have visited the valley off and on for 20 years. I have been over the roads there three times this past year, and I can say that I have never seen the roads in better condition than they are this year. I never saw the roads, at their worst, half as bad as the recall pictures show them now. I never heard such untruths as these men told about the county court. "A few of the people in Cascade Locks would have liked to have taken the floor and have made the recallers look like a copper penny, but they would not allow us the chance. They left the people here disgusted."

Salary Referendum Left Off Ballot

The petition for the referendum of the county salary bill, a number of the signatures of which were irregular and which has been in litigation since it was submitted for filing, early in the summer, was not put on the ballot for next Tuesday's election. County Clerk Hanson received such advice from District Attorney Wells A. Bell, of The Dalles, the time for issuing notices of such a referendum having elapsed.

Does Not Like Recalls

"Rastus, do you believe in the recall of judges?" asked a neighbor of a dusky darky.

"Deed I doesn't," said Rastus.

"Las' time I was 'rested the judge looks at me an' he says, 'Rastus, I recall your face; I'll give you ninety days.' Deed an' I doesn't like these 'recalls' of the judge."

Recall Exponent Expresses Views

October 29, 1913.
To the Editor: Having perused the various articles in the current number of your paper, I ask, in behalf of the recallers, space for a short reply. The exponents of the recall, in their effort to curb the recall movement, are giving the Valley some very injurious publicity, and we disagree very radically with the sentiment expressed by Mr. Clark and others of the so-called "Taxpayers' Association." We do not believe the movement detrimental to the progressive policies in any way. We rather believe that it is an indication of political progress—the people awakening to the necessity of demanding the same obedience of an official in public that one would reasonably demand in private enterprise. This evidently is the object of our recall, not to alter the state constitution and not, as the opponent claims, that it was intended to apply only in cases of flagrant graft, as this kind of cases is covered by our criminal law, therefore no recall necessary.

The writer notices that one gentleman speaking at the meeting of the so-called "Taxpayers' Association" expresses the claim that he would not use the recall on a yellow dog, but we feel quite sure that he would apply it very quickly on the hired man in case of nonobedience. We also note a report of the court's having recalled Road Supervisor Smith, who held the position by virtue of a large petition of citizens and for the reason that Smith was opposing the interest of the court and not at the wish of the people whom he was serving.

So we see the recall being used all around us, but because we are progressive and propose to apply it in a different way from what our grandfathers did, we are scared to death and the writer is of the opinion that if this small number of citizens, styling themselves tax payers and boasting that they represent 65 per cent of the tax of the county, were as progressive in politics as they are in business they would not be so much alarmed at the recall of the board that built the Winans bridge, and denied the petition of 257 friendly citizens with the reply that "we want to protect the honor of the county officials and not allow the people to establish a precedent that will allow them to become meddling in future." Such insolence alone, the writer considers sufficient grounds for recall.

Voters May Be Sworn In

The impression has prevailed that citizens who had not registered could not vote at next Tuesday's special election. However, County Clerk Hanson has received an opinion from State Attorney General A. M. Crawford who says that the voters may be sworn in at this special election just as at any regular election.

Voters Will Discuss Measures

The voters of the Barrett district will meet at the new school house this evening to discuss the referendum measures that will be voted on next Tuesday. Hon. P. O. Bonebrake, of East Barrett, will be present to assist in the discussions.

FACTIONS IN RECALL RANKS

Recall Men Visit Cascade Locks

At a meeting at Cascade Locks Monday evening, the recall supporters, with a stereopticon that made poor pictures, failed to make a very weighty impression on the voters of that city. A number of the contingent that spoke in behalf of the recall ticket became over zealous in their references to lack of opportunities in Hood River county and have aroused the anger of numerous local citizens.

"Roads Best in Years," Says Bone

"In all my residence in Hood River county I have never seen better roads nor more permanent work done in any one year than in this," says C. R. Bone, who traveling to and from his property in the Upper Valley probably has made more use of the highways in the valley since he has lived here than any other individual in the county. "The work that has been done this year has been of a permanent nature. Road taxes have been built and with additional labor spent on the roads next year, the highways can be made the best. I don't see how the recall supporters are able to raise any hue and cry against the road work that has been done."

But Two on Primary Ticket

The city primary ticket Saturday will have but two names on it, that of Louis A. Henderson, who seeks nomination for re-election to the office of city treasurer and L. E. Taft, who opposes him, both of them being on the Republican ticket.
