Washington Apple Acreage Increases. Statistics compiled by the state department of agriculture at Olympia, Wash., show that the spring planting of 1913 has so extended the planted area in the state that more than a quarter of a million acres are now in fruit trees. Recorded plantings bring the total fruit tree acreage to 1,517, with a probability that the number of trees reported will swell this total considerably. Of the total acreage 230,765 acres are in apples, 12,925 being planted to this fruit last spring. While Yakima county still is the leading fruit county of the state, leading all competitors both in total acreage and number of plantings this spring, Okanogan and Grant counties are showing remarkable increases in the number of trees planted and bid fair to be close competitors of Yakima before long. Electric Theatre. The program at the Electric today and tomorrow is as follows: "Her Tutor," an Eclair comedy; Owen Moore as "Percy H. Baldwin," a Victor comedy; and "One of the Rabble," an Eclair comedy, two reels. No picture come have a much better situation than this. R. F. D. Boxes Must Not Be Misused. Hood River, Ore., Nov. 4, 1913. Editor Glacier: Having been asked frequently whether the Postal Department allows the use of rural mail boxes for deposit of matter that has not been stamped for mailing, or properly mailed, I will quote from the Postal Laws and Regulations, edition of 1913, page 420: "Mail boxes erected on rural routes are intended exclusively for the reception of matter regularly in the mails, and any mailable matter, such as circulars, sale bills etc., deposited therein is subject to the rules governing the mails, including proper addressing and the payment of postage at the regular rate. "When a rural carrier finds deposited in a box available matter on which postage has not been paid, addressed to or intended for the person in whose box it is deposited, the carrier shall take such matter to the distributing post office to be held for postage and treated as prescribed by section 545." (Sec. 545 relates to sending matter to Dead Letter office.) Jay P. Lucas, Postmaster. Southland Jubilee Quartet Coming. The colored Southland Jubilee Singers will give a typical southern concert at Ashbury, M. E. church Monday evening, Nov. 11. These singers come under the same management as the colored singers who sang here last year. The Southland Jubilee Quartet of mixed voices, composed of four talented negro entertainers, render a program typical of the south, with old plantation melodies and jubilee songs. An evening of solid enjoyment, not a tiresome moment. The quartet, trios, solos, instrumental numbers and readings are far superior to anything of the kind on the Pacific coast, according to many press reports. The Pasadena Daily News, Aug. 27, says: Concert given by the Southland Jubilee quartet at the Y. M. C. A. last evening was a decided success. The pianist, Mr. Barbour, made a great hit with his instrumental selections, as did Mr. Drayton with his solo work and readings from Paul Laurence Dunbar. I. U. Lafferty Grows Fine Corn. One of the best fields of corn seen in the county this year was grown by I. U. Lafferty in the Odell district. The corn, which was planted on clover sod land, will yield, judging from estimates that have been made, more than 60 bushels per acre. The Dalles Wet, Salem Goes Dry. It's as far behind the times as the old tallow-dip. First rate for outdoor work—porches, sidewalks, etc., but wholly unfit for the house.
