

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Is the Housewife's Greatest Help.

WHAT so tempting to the laggard appetite as a light, flaky, fruit short cake or a delicate hot biscuit?

Royal makes the perfect short cake, biscuit and muffin, and improves the flavor and healthfulness of all risen flour-foods.

It renders the biscuit, hot-bread and short cake more digestible and nutritious, at the same time making them more attractive and appetizing.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for the preparation all the year round of perfect foods.

SUPPLE DRAPY SILKS AID IN ACHIEVING THE NEW OUTLINE

Draps and pliable, crepe de chine is one of the most attractive materials for afternoon dresses. It comes in all the newest pastel shades, as well as in the stronger empire colors, which are being favored again more or less. One of the smartest shades is a wonderful blue called "pervence".

Dressmakers and corsetiers are putting forth every effort to bring out the absolutely natural lines of the figure. These supple silks aid wonderfully in this, as their folds fall gracefully, tapering gradually down to the narrow line of the hem.

Wide waists also aid in this effect. They are folded and draped as the fancy pleases. The loose knot, low over the hip, is pretty. 7931 shows an unusually graceful arrangement. This design developed in clinging charmeuse, figured or plain, having a vest of cream colored lace and a sash in contrasting color, would be fetching.

There are five sizes in the pattern, 24 to 42. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

A gathered blouse with draped overblouse makes 7923 attractive, and the draped three-piece tunic is also effective. This is another design excellent for soft silks and a pretty way of gaining the new outlines.

There are five pattern sizes, 24 to 42. Size 36 requires 7 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

CADET BAND HERE ON CHRISTMAS EVE

The O. A. C. Cadet band will be here on its sixth annual tour Christmas Eve, when they will give an excellent entertainment at Heilbronner hall. They are under the direction this year of Capt. Henry Beard, who has shown exceptional ability in getting together a strong aggregation. A Corvallis paper has the following words of commendation:

"The O. A. C. Cadet band gave its annual concert to a house that lacked little of being sold out, and the Majesty never had a more enthusiastic audience than that of last night. The work of the band was superior, and it was easy for Capt. Beard to get effects ranging from the sweetness of a gentle zephyr to the crash and dash of a thunderous Niagara. The music was inspiring, and except in the minor technical points, which an average audience never discerns, the concert was all that any great professional organization could make it. It was a delight from beginning to end, practically everything brought recalls, and as a whole, the concert was up to the band's very high standard of former days. The Barometer's comment is adequate, sincere, and hits the nail squarely on the head."

The following program will be rendered:

Overture—"Poet and Peasant"—Suppe.

HOOD RIVER APPLES STAND THE TEST

The following excerpt from a letter written by George M. Galloway, at Mankato, Minn., to his father, George Galloway, of the Belmont district, bears out our contention of Hood River apples being always the best on any market:

"John took me down to the commission houses this morning and we found Hood River Spitz. Some from E. H. Shepard, Oregon Fruit Co., and several others that I knew. They were fine to me and opened lots of them. The apples were all fine, and the man said he always found Hood River the best of all western stuff. It kept better, was graded fine and had the flavor and juiciness. He had the Hood River berries last year.

"At both places I called they said they were ashamed of the eastern stuff. One man had just been out to take back some eastern apples that had spoiled. One man said every box he sold from Hood River sold another one. It made me glad that we lived there. He paid $2.50 for extra fancy."

Mr. and Mrs. Galloway left here two weeks ago to visit relatives in Minnesota and Wisconsin for a few weeks.

Meat Sold as Advertised

In last week's issue of the Glacier a typographical error occurred which we are afraid would cause some confusion as to the price on the articles quoted. The prices should have been "Leg of Lamb, 15c and Pork Roast 22c," but in placing the type in position the figures became disarranged in such a way as to make them read, "Leg of Lamb, 12c, Pork Roast 25c." As soon as this error was discovered the editor, Mr. Moe, came to the manager and told him to meet all of the demands on this basis and that he would stand good for the loss.

In this we wish to call the attention of our patrons to the fact, that the Glacier in its policy has clearly demonstrated the fairness and justice which we ourselves seek to offer to our customers. We make good the standards of quality meats, likewise the editor of the Glacier offers to make good and stand by their advertisers.

LIVE STOCK SHOW IS WELL ATTENDED

The interest taken in the Portland live stock show last week by local farmers was very gratifying to those who are advocating more diversified farming for Hood River. According to the estimates of Secretary Ravlin, of the Commercial club, nearly one hundred attended the show from Hood River.

Forty went down on the Commercial Club's excursion on Thursday, arrangements having been made for a special car to be attached to the Dalles local.

"The show was a big success from every standpoint," said Secretary Ravlin upon his return. "It was unquestionably the finest display of thoroughbred livestock that we have ever had in the west. I was well pleased at the interest shown by Hood River people, and more so at the very thorough way in which our growers examined the various entries. I know some of them who simply made a business of the show and spent several days there learning how to tell the fine points of cows and hogs. We were shown one sow, valued at $1000, whose progeny alone has won $925 for the owner this season. If any hog ever had beauty that one was certainly the Lillian Russell of its class. That there is money in thoroughbred livestock was clearly shown in the auction sales held during the show. In the Holstein class alone, one cow sold for $840 and several two year olds were sold for $725. The lowest price paid for heifers was $175."

Among those who went down on the Commercial club excursion were the following: E. C. Birge, John Palmer, E. R. Miller, A. J. Cutler, Howard Peeler, Mr. Dixon, of the Upper Valley, J. R. Cronley, Wm. Flagler, Mr. and Mrs. Harz Lage, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Canfield, Joe Jarvis, H. S. Galligan, J. L. Johnson, Fred McCrea, Dr. H. D. W. Pines, R. C. Carter, G. S. Simons, G. E. Glaze, Gust Westerberg, Walter Smith, Leslie Butler, W. E. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ravlin, W. L. Miller, C. R. Bone.

Frankton School Notes

Friday evening the school will give its annual Christmas exercises. The feature of the evening will be a dramatization of Dickens' famous story, "A Christmas Carol," presented by the high school and the seventh and eighth grades. Everyone is invited.

A porch has recently been added to the building, as well as a reference desk and bookcase in the high school room. The library has been added to materially this year. Among the acquisitions are the New International Encyclopedia, Webster's International Dictionary and about 50 books received from the county library fund. Through the courtesy of Representative N. J. Sinnott, a considerable number of government bulletins will soon be added to the library. These will be of value as supplementary reading in several of the high school courses, and the eighth grade agriculture. These, as well as the books in the library, when not actually in use by the students, are available to residents of the district.

Over 50 different species of birds have been observed by the class in biology this fall.

Friday afternoon the girls' team played the Hood River high school team, losing 4 to 2. This is not only the first game that the team has played, but the first time any of the girls, with one exception, has appeared in a public game. The line-up was: forwards, Beth Copper and Calla Berry; centers, Emma Noble and Winnie Fontana; guards, Hazel Mowers, Ruth Berry and May Boles.

Tuesday evening the boys' team will play the sophomore team of Hood River high school at the rink.

MUSICIANS ORGANIZE A CHORAL SOCIETY

Hood River is going to have a regular, bona-fide up-to-the-minute choral society. Over 40 members of the newly formed organization met last Monday night at Riverside church and elected themselves out on selections from "Sabat Matin", "Lohengren" and other compositions. The results of the first rehearsal showed very clearly that there is a big surprise awaiting the public when they first hear the musical talent of Hood River in festival form. It is planned to give the first concert during January of next year which will enable you to judge for yourself the splendid results obtainable by a little cooperation and effort.

The existence of such an organization in Hood River would be a great boon to the valley. So often occasions demand something of that sort and as yet we have had nothing to fill the bill. The society began with the following members: Messames P. S. Davidson, J. M. Culbertson, Truman Butler, J. W. Crites, E. O. Dutro, G. R. Wilbur, Carrie Gillett, C. B. Henney, G. C. Gladen, Geo.
