

The FINAL CRASH HAS COME

Like the eruption of a volcano, comes the news from the Federal Creditors Co. to shut and close the doors forever on Dec. 29, 1913, and to sacrifice the entire Bankrupt Stock of Barde & Levitt Co. for the money it will bring and we shall not linger. The sacrifice is without pier or parallel. This is a chance that comes seldom in a lifetime to get merchandise of the world famous and up to date makes, such as Kuppenheimer and Schloss Bros. clothing and J. B. Stetson hats and all other good makes carried by Barde & Levitt Co. that went Bankrupt, are to be slaughtered at almost given away prices. It would be a shame to put the prices in cold type, FOR IT HAS LOST ITS VALUE. Your prices are ours.

HOME AND SCHOOL
ASSOCIATION MEETS

The December meeting of the Home and School Association was held at the high school building last Friday evening and was very well attended. A short program was rendered and refreshments consisting of sandwiches, coffee and fruit, were served by the refreshment committee.

Four little girls, in costume, from Miss Goyette's room gave a pretty little Japanese drill, and were followed by a song by Jessie McCrory. Mrs. H. M. Huxley sang a solo, and was accompanied by Mrs. Jackson and Dr. Sharp. A discussion, which was begun at the suggestion of the president, H. A. MacDonald, resulted in the decision that the association would cooperate with the owners of the motion picture shows in an attempt to bring the better class of films to the city. An attempt is to be made to bring a series of the films reproduced from plays from the masterpieces of literature to the city in the near future. After the discussion the boys and girls of Miss Goyette's room sang two school songs, demonstrating the training that is given the scholars in this line of work.

The principal feature of the program was the address by Prof. N. E. Fertig, teacher of Manual Training, which was very interesting. The professor began his remarks with a comparison of the schools and school methods of 100 years ago and of today. He put emphasis upon the decided improvement in the method of teaching and governing the scholars, and predicted a very pronounced change in these methods during the immediate future, tending toward a broadening out of school work. The professor maintained that the successful school will be the one which fits the pupils for a life of usefulness; which prepares them to care for themselves, to make their own living and live lives of benefit to themselves and mankind. He said, quite truthfully, that we are living in an age when ability was taken of more account than knowledge; that knowledge to be of value, must be practical knowledge, not alone of books, and gave illustrations which brought force to his argument. He gave an outline of the work of the manual training department, and strongly advocated the idea of putting the several lines of industrial training into the grades. He said the work should really begin in the first grade, working at form and shape making, fitting the pupil for use of tools and practical work by the time the grammar grades were reached, instead of waiting until the high school or higher grades, as is now done.

After the lecture the audience was invited to make an inspection of the manual training room. This was most interesting. Here is to be found the best equipment to be had for the training of the pupils. There are 18 individual benches, fitted with the best tools to be obtained, 17 in number, consisting of saw, hammer, chisels, gages, planes, etc. The bench is also fitted with a swinging chair and complete drawing kit for use in their drawings and designing, and a double action vise that is a marvel in time and labor saving. In addition there is a general tool supply department, with various sizes of saws, planes, braces and other tools that may be occasionally needed. The work is being taken by several girls, as well as the boys, and the professor claims they make very apt and enthusiastic pupils.

Exhibits of the work were displayed and showed marked advancement in the few weeks so far devoted to the classes. The department is deserving of and should be given the hearty support of all patrons of the school.

The Home and School Association is planning many things that will be of benefit to schools and scholars and is gaining in membership and interest. The meetings are held every second month and are proving very interesting and profitable.

At the Gem
Today's program at the Gem is as follows:
"The Man Who Vanished." A Kalem two reel special featuring Carlyle Blackwell. The schemes of an unscrupulous woman to inherit a fortune form a plot of this powerful two part Kalem feature. Hobart inherits his father's fortune. His aunt resolves to do away with him in order that her husband may inherit the money. The two fill shells with a deadly explosive and slip them in Hobart's hunting bag. A shell bursts his gun and the boy is injured. He is rescued by his sweetheart and taken to her home. His servants believe that Hobart has been killed. Later the boy returns home. The aunt learns that Hobart's sweetheart possesses dangerous evidence against her. She locks the girl up in a steel vault. The girl is rescued just in time, however, and the wicked couple are arrested.

"The Madonna of the Storm." A Biograph drama. A picture of the Christ child brings a clearer view of life.

"Sleuths Unawares." A Vitagraph comedy. Solomon in all his glory was never arrayed as Sandy and Shanty. They are stripped of their grandeur, but come in for something better.

Lorena joins the secret service and is also ordered to report to Jackson. As she approaches the headquarters she can hear the cannons and realizes that a fierce battle is in progress. Jackson has ordered the destruction of a bridge across Gold creek; the mine is laid, but the Confederates are not given time to explode it before the Union men begin to cross. Carey agrees to swim out and explode the mine, but is wounded by a sharp shooter. At this moment he is found by Lorena and a reconciliation takes place. Carey, unable to explode the mine, Lorena offers to take his place. Carey knows it is sure death but for the cause allows her to take his place. As the Union soldiers are pouring across, the girl fires the mine. Her life is the price she pays for the victory.

Sunday's bill is as follows:

RED CROSS SEALS ON SALE IN CITY

Do you know that one of, if not the biggest, good works undertaken by the Woman's clubs of this country is in aiding the cause of the fight against tuberculosis, by the sale of these seals? And do you know that every cent spent for them here is used here, and as much more as is needed? The past year the Hood River Woman's club has used over $50 of this fund in caring for patients afflicted with this dread disease. And it is from the sale of these little seals alone that this fund is created. Do your part. Ten cents spent by each person in this county would mean a wonderful help to the cause. Buy them and use them. Let every parcel and letter sent from now until Christmas bear one of these seals.

Congregational Church

A good average congregation greatly enjoyed an especially good service last Sunday morning. It was so good that it ought to have been attended by three times as large a congregation. It's a shame, dear reader, to have such programs go to waste. They were meant for you. We are going to try you once again. Next Sunday morning Este Brosius will sing "The Perfect Life," by Hartwell Jones, and the male quartet will render Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Take Thou My Hand." The pastor will preach on "The Crowded Inn." A Christmas sermon. The public is invited.

The Christian Endeavor hold their regular service at 6:30 o'clock.
The young ladies of Mrs. McLaughlin's Sunday school class will entertain the Sunday school at a Christmas party next Tuesday afternoon at the church. This will constitute the exercises of the school for this year.
E. A. Harris, pastor.

California Woman Seriously Alarmed.
"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have had coughing spells and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs," writes Mrs. Marie Gerber, Sawtelle, Cal. For sale by all dealers.
