Bank Advertisement No. 13

A CONFESSION

When we published our first advertising letter three months ago, there were at least two things we didn't know of this kind of publicity:

First, we underestimated the value of printer's ink and we take pleasure in acknowledging at this time that to our certain knowledge the people do read at least some of the advertisements. No one ever mentioned having seen the display ad which we carried with painful regularity for so many years and we did not expect the flattering comments which have been made since we changed our plan.

Second, we also underestimated the amount of work that is connected with a series of this kind and we are now fully aware that the task of giving you something new to read each week is no small one, but we have a lot of things to say yet and we think most of them will be worth the one minute a week that it will require to read them.

Our customers naturally prefer the letters of a general nature and we don't blame them, for a steady diet of general banking, savings department, safe deposit boxes, travelers checks, and the solemn duty of Making Your Will would get tiresome. With the exception of an occasional number to call your attention to some branch of our work, the general letters will serve our purpose quite as well; for after all we only want you to know that this bank is capably and honestly managed, that our office force is courteous and efficient, that your funds deposited with us are safe guarded by all the protection a good bank can offer to its customers, and that we want all of the business of this community that we can honorably get.

CANNERY MEN ANNOUNCE PLAN

PLANT TO BE READY BY SPRING

Valley, Too, Will Have Co-Operative Creamery--Saturday Action Presages Benefits to Valley and City

Saturday was an eventful day in Hood River. With E. B. Cloud, formerly superintendent of Reed, Murdoch & Co., canners of Chicago, announcing that he would have ready for this season's strawberry crop a cannery, and with 200 orchardists and business men of the city and valley taking action toward the building of a cooperative creamery, results toward which the members of the Commercial club, the business men of the city and the ranchers of the valley have been looking forward for a number of years, were realized.

So quietly has Mr. Cloud been making his negotiations here through the Manufacturer's committee of the Commercial club for the past 90 days, that his definite announcement came Saturday night as a great surprise to many. With the former Chicago cannery man will be associated John R. Newton, manager of the Pacific coast branch of the R. M. Kellogg Co., of Three Rivers, Mich. Both were here Saturday and have been conferring as to the construction of the proposed 120x40 foot concrete plant and 20x40 power house.

"We will be ready to handle the product of this year," said Mr. Cloud. "It is our intention to work with the orchardists and to can vegetables that may be grown profitably between the trees."

The new cannery will be built on the lot east of the Fashion Livery Company's barn and will be located on a spur of the Mount Hood railroad.

No meeting here ever created more enthusiasm than that at which the creamery was discussed last Saturday. The manufacturing committee of the Commercial club, the members of which called the meeting, could have secured no better man than Chris Myhre, of Junction City, to tell of the methods to be used in establishing a cooperative creamery. Mr. Myhre is a big live bunch of thinking energy and his talk, in his own peculiar impressive manner, caused undivided attention from the first. He gave a brief history of the cooperative creamery business, telling of its rise in Denmark, and the unprecedented prosperity that Denmark had enjoyed since its rural residents had banded themselves together for the purpose of manufacturing butter. He told of the establishing of such plants in Minnesota. "It has been no easy thing for ranchers," he said, pointing out the difficulties here in Oregon, the butter making industry and cheese manufacturing, was not completed at the noon hour, and he was given the floor again in the afternoon, when the growers had returned from their luncheon. He finished his address and had instructed the committee on organization as to proper methods to be used, the sum of $1500 of the proposed $6000 capital stock had been subscribed, and owners had signed up to the tune of 400 shares of 275 cows for the new enterprise.

The committee appointed by Chairman Mitchell is composed of J. P. Thomson, A. W. Peters, H. G. Zilliacus, W. G. Smith, G. E. Coon, M. D. Bose and A. F. Bosford. They will make a thorough canvass of the valley and the subscribers to stock and all interested parties will hold a meeting on Saturday, March 21.

Mr. Myhre is of the opinion that it is necessary to have 400 cows before the creamery can be successfully operated. However, from the expression of growers who are conversant with the settlement in the valley, the orchardists will quickly subscribe this number. A good value of how valuable the addition of cows would be to the orchard, says W. H. Paulhamus, of raspberry fame in Washington, he said, urged the growers of that district to raise more cows. The value of the fertilizer is almost incalculable, he declared.

In his speech of introduction, Mr. Mitchell called attention to the fact that the banks of the city and the business men would be ready to aid the growers in the advancement of such an enterprise.

"The officers of the Commercial club are jubilant," said President Heilbronner Saturday night. "We have been working toward matters of this kind for years. It has been realized that a payroll will be of great benefit to Hood River valley. The two new enterprises will be of greatest benefit to all in the county."

"I have never been received anywhere any better than here at Hood River," says Mr. Cloud. "The members of the Commercial club have shown me every courtesy. I have been investigating Hood River since 1905. About two years ago I met C. J. Callahan, manager of the Hood River Apple Vinegar Co. It was he who introduced me to the club and to J. H. Heilbronner, its president. Mr. Callahan, I assure you, has always been a good booster for the community."

SCHOOL NEWS

In the fastest basket ball exhibition on the local floor this season The Dalles high school team defeated the local team last Friday night by a score of 24-19. The Dalles team took the lead at the start, getting five points before the locals got into action, and held the five point lead during the entire game. This is the first time for about five years that the neighboring metropolis has been able to defeat the locals. Probably the largest crowd that ever attended a basket ball game here was in attendance. A long basket from center by Jones of H. R. H. S. was the sole thriller of the game. McGuire was also very much in evidence. The lineup was:

D. H. S.	fwd	H. R. H. S.	Jon
Tyler		Woods
Elton		Cooper
Philpot	cntr	McGuire
Steers	gds	Dethman
Cohn		McGuire

Revere, Lester, Umpire; Ontbank Scores, Tyler 4 baskets 7 fouls; Elton, basket; Philpot, basket; Steers, 2 baskets and one point awarded; Jones, 3 baskets, 7 fouls; Woods, basket; Cooper, 2 baskets, Fouls, D. H. S., 11; H. R. H. S., 11. Double fouls 3.

The Dalles basketball team and accompanying fans were entertained at 1. O. O. F. hall last Friday night after the game. An indoor track meet was staged causing much merriment. About 80 people came here from The Dalles, and their rooting did much to win the game for their team.

Rev. Macnamara, rector of the St. Mark's Episcopal church, was at the high school last week and told of a boyhood experience in Ireland in which he with nine other boys floated out to sea in a boat.

Heinie Blagg, '13, captain of last season's H. R. H. S. basketball team, is making good in that branch of athletics at O. A. C. Blagg played forward on the local team, but has changed to center on the O. A. C. team. He holds a regular position with the freshman team and has broken into two games with the varsity so far this season. When his senior year comes round Heinie should be a shining light in O. A. C. athletics. His first game was against Multnomah and his game last week against Washington University.

While here last week Bill Haward commented on the local athletes who were trying out. He was especially pleased with the showing of Virgil Jones, as a hurler, and Bill Dethman for the shot put. There is nothing in the sprint line at the high school this year, as Jesse Thomas, last season's sprinter, did not return to school, but he is to Portland instead, where he is working and will play ball with some semi-pro Portland team when the season opens. Rud Imholz shows some promise as a sprinter.

The senior class entertained the sophomore class at the Unitarian church last Saturday night. The entertainment was in the line of a senior-sophomore social.

The girls' basketball team defeated the Gresham girls last Friday night with a score of 16-6. The Gresham girls defeated Stevenson earlier in the season and the Stevenson girls have walloped Hood River.

The manual training basket ball team played the Odell school team at Odell last week, the game ending 13-13. Moe, Imholz, Pape, Harris, Carnine, Laraway and Breed were on the M. T. team.

The faculty has drafted the following rules to govern all school parties and entertainments in the future:

The consent of the head of the school must be secured before any arrangements are made for any social or party.

The party shall be chaperoned by some person acceptable to the school.

The party shall be in charge of a committee which shall make arrangements, have charge of the evening's program and of the social or party while it is being held.

Different forms of legitimate amusements should be included in the evening's program to adapt it to the various types of individuals that compose a class or a school.

Dancing may be included in the evening's program for the last three-quarters of an hour. The so-called "rag" dances must not be included.

School and class parties shall be over, at least by 11 p. m., excepting when a game is played and a reception is given to the visiting team on the same evening, when the hour of closing shall be 12 p. m.

The debates between Hood River and White Salmon high schools will be held Friday night at the school. The question is: "Resolved that the U. S. government should own and operate all the telephone and telegraph systems within its boundaries." Olive Richards and Ella McDonald will debate the negative side of this at White Salmon, and Mary Sheppard and Ruth Harris will debate on the affirmative side here at the high school. Miss Flora Furrow will chaperone the debaters going to White Salmon. The local debate will open at 8 p. m. Friday night. No admission will be charged.

The literary society meets tonight at the high school auditorium. A good program has been arranged and the time spent in hearing it would not be wasted. The debate will be: "Resolved that the Japanese should be denied the privilege of holding title to land in Oregon." Jack Stanton and Anna Krusov will debate on the affirmative and Lawrence Hensler and Ella Nichols on the negative sides of this subject. No admission is charged.

County Judge Stanton, County School Superintendent Thompson and Rev. Hargreaves will judge the Hood River-White Salmon High debate at the high school tomorrow night.

The boys held a meeting last Monday when it was decided to have both a baseball and track team in the field this year. Monday and Wednesday nights of each week will be used for baseball practice and Tuesday and Thursday for track. The only track work to be done for the first few weeks will be cross country running.

The H. R. H. S. basketball team closed the season occupying the cellar position. If the locals had started the season with their present team they could probably have copped the rag. The local team was able to pile up a closer score against The Dalles champs than either of the other teams in the league. The game with Stevenson need not be played now, as the best they could get would be 800 per cent, while The Dalles holds a perfect record of 1000 per cent. White Salmon lost three games and won two and has a percentage of 400.

The closing basket ball contest of the season will probably be Friday, March 6, when the H. R. H. S. boys' team will play the second game with The Dalles champs and the girls' team will play the Gresham girls.

Prof. L. B. Gibson has an interesting letter, well worth reading, in another column of this paper.

Stanton Secretary of Irrigation District

At the last regular meeting of the board of directors the Hood River Irrigation District Judge Stanton was made secretary and attorney. Judge Stanton succeeds R. W. Kelly, who has been the district secretary for the past six years.

Trained Men Advised for Road Work

Pine Grove, Ore., Feb. 23, 1914.

Editor Glacier: Why all this hurry to vote a large bonded debt? Are we ready for bonds? Has the county court plans for spending it to good advantage? Have the members of the court taken steps to outline a definite system of road work or have they determined as to what kind of roads should be built in each section and as to how the money shall be spent for the best interests of the county as a whole? Or is it to get the money and spend it in any way? If the court is too weak to get ahead, or if they feel themselves incompetent to do so, which is no disgrace, it seems that it would be folly to place the amount of money at their disposal. When a county court calls for little district conventions to give it instructions to spend the little tax money we have, had we not better wait with a bond issue until they decide that the making of plans and the building of roads be placed under the supervision of men who have been trained for that work? Let them go on record somewhere, and if they are right the voters will stand by them.

Ladies Form Club

The ladies of the Central Vale and Willow Flat districts met with Mrs. Harry Fuller last Friday afternoon and organized a mother's club. Officers elected were: Mrs. Paul Hansen, president; Mrs. Harry Turner, vice president; Mrs. Harry Fuller, secretary; Mrs. Haunsel, treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hansen on the afternoon of March 12.

BE SPRAY DAY

MASS MEETING OF GROWERS CALLED

Prominent Experts will Deliver Addresses and General Discussion of Effect of Spray will be Held

The importance of the horticultural meeting at the Commercial club Saturday afternoon cannot be overestimated. According to the lead growers of the valley, the members of the horticultural committee of the Commercial club and the officials of the Apple Growers Association of two most serious problems now confronting the orchardists here are the fungus diseases and how to spray for them. These subjects will be thoroughly handled on Saturday and every orchardist is urged to attend.

Prof. H. S. Jackson, the plant pathology expert of the Oregon Agricultural College, who is to be one of the principal speakers on Saturday, arrived here Tuesday and has since been thoroughly investigating conditions throughout the valley. Prof. Jackson has been making a special study of spraying for fungus and has been accumulating a great deal of information on the work that is being done along this line by the experiment stations throughout the country.

Through the efforts of Chairman Sieg, of the transportation committee of the Commercial club, Manager Early of the Mount Hood Railroad, has made a special rate of a fare and a third from Parkdale for all those in the Upper Valley who desire to attend the spray meeting.

Along these same lines Secretary Raylin has induced Manager Bell, of the Mount Hood hotel, and Manager Scott of the Hotel Oregon, to offer reduced rates at their respective hotels Saturday to all who desire to attend the Saturday meeting and will be obliged to remain over night. These rates will be good from Friday to Sunday inclusive. Those who desire to meet on advantage of this should apply to Secretary Raylin at the Commercial club on Saturday, before or after the spray meeting, for the proper voucher to be presented at either hotel, which will entitle the holder to the reduction.

The details of the Saturday meeting have been entirely in the hands of the horticultural and agricultural committee of the Commercial club. The chairman of the committee, Prof. L. F. Henderson, will preside Saturday, assisted by Prof. C. D. Thompson, John Kobeg, C. S. Starring and J. R. Winston, the other members of the committee. The members of this committee were especially selected by President Heilbronner for their various experiences in the various problems that will come before them from time to time. Like the manufacturing committee and the cannery committee of the Commercial club, Henderson is an expert in his particular line of work. It is chiefly for this reason that the Commercial club committees are making such commendable headway in accomplishing this season.

F. G. Frazier, of Seaside, who is manufacturer of Soluble Sulphur Compound, will be present at the meeting.

Oak Grove Play Success

Bess got started for Europe on Friday evening, from Oak Grove, in spite of inclement weather. This grand, central, all important event, around which the play is centered, was brought about by the unflinching energy of her dotting parents, the sorely tried dressmaker and a crowd of exceedingly animated schoolmates. The parts were all well chosen, each pupil making his part very unassuming and natural. The bubbling spirits of the school friends, their startlingly original farewell gifts, the painful anxieties of the father and mother cause many laughable situations. The audience was most enthusiastic in its approval and at the close of the play, in response to an insistent encore, the cast appeared bearing a large Oak Grove pennant and gave with true spirit, a yell for Oak Grove school. The play is to be presented at Pine Grove on Friday evening, Feb. 27, at the grange hall. The cast of characters is as follows:

Miss "Bess" Tapping, the lucky girl, Alice McCurdy; Her schoolmates--Mamie Bentz, Katherine Skinner; Babe Woodward; Ila Nichols; Millicent Cameron, Hilja Gilkari; Dan Mitchell, Armas Jakku; Galigher Gurdy, Otto Annala; Frank Sawyer, Paul Lancaster. Mrs. Tapping, Vera Gano; Mr. Tapping, Grant Fisher; Miss Nichols, Griggs, the dressmaker, Elma Annala.
