Members of the Guild and the Ladies' Aid society numbering about 50, gathered at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Boyed last Thursday afternoon, the Guild having extended the afternoon. A program consisting of a vocal solo by Miss Viola Mapes, reading by Mrs. Nettie Crockett and a vocal solo by Mrs. E. O. Duto, was well received. Most delicious refreshments were served by the committee from the Guild having charge of the refreshments, they having planned that this portion of the afternoon's pleasure might be perfect.

Hermann Moore met with a painful accident one day last week while cultivating, when a large limb of a tree struck the eye, penetrating a part of the covering of the eye ball. It is hoped no permanent ill effects may result.

F. A. Massee's Speedwell lived up to its name Monday when it started away of its own accord when left standing at C. Pflughaup's. A badly frightened pig and a demolished pigpen resulted. A very fortunate ending of what might have been a very expensive occurrence.

The ball game Sunday, Odell vs. Parkdale, on the Parkdale diamond, resulted in a score of 16 to 13 in favor of Odell. Next Sunday there will be a game, Odell vs. Mosier, at Mosier.

A number of citizens of Odell are in Hood River this week on jury duty.

Elisa Kotela was born September 26, 1836, in Fohr, Germany. She came to the United States, stopping in Iowa for a short time, then returned to her native land, coming again to Iowa about 1868, this time remaining and in 1870 she was married to Nicholas Billen. To this union one daughter, Ida, now Mrs. Thomas Lacey, was born. From Iowa Mrs. Billen, with her husband and daughter, came by way of California to Oregon, stopping for a short while in The Dalles and Cascade Locks and locating in Hood River in March, 1880. Her husband passed away in the spring of 1889 and Mrs. Billen then went to British Columbia, where her daughter and son-in-law resided, remaining until fall, when they all returned to Hood River, where they resided until the summer of 1890 when they came to Odell in which place they have since passed their home and where Mrs. Billen died away April 3, 1914. She became a member of the Lutheran church when a girl and the faith of her youth was a source of strength to her in the intense suffering of her last illness, those who attended her testifying that she called upon the Lord for help and was willing to respond to the summons when it should come. Many there are who remember kind deeds done by her as neighbor and friend and those have helped to brighten the end of her earthly journey. Friends extend sympathy to the bereaved daughter, grand-daughters, son-in-law and other relatives who are lonely and who grieve.

Those present at the school meeting last Thursday evening voted to donate a site for a union high school. This is the preliminary step and we understand there will be further opportunities for expressing willingness or the reverse as to the plan and we feel certain there are sufficient thinking people among those who are entitled to feel interest in this question to deal with it as it deserves. We have been thinking, as doubtless others have and will, and find this a very sided question.

Have you registered?

Though many found it impossible to be present Sunday morning at a ladies' together service, a good number attended and in the evening the church was full. M. D. Odell had charge of the young people's temperance rally and all enjoyed the special program in honor of Fanny Crosby. Oregon Grape and wild currant artistically arranged made beautiful decorations. Next Sunday there will be an Easter sermon at the Methodist church at 9:30 a. m. Let us see how many of us may be present on time. Sunday school at 10:30, following the sermon. Special music.

FRANKTON

The Parent-Teacher association had another of its live meetings at the school house Friday evening. On account of the illness of the president, Mrs. J. R. Nickelsen, Mrs. Hoyt, vice president, occupied the chair. A musical program followed, for which change was enjoyed; Piano solo, Calla Berry; Song, school chorus; vocal solo, Ruth Berry; reading, Mr. Price.

The proposition of purchasing a piano was again brought up, and at the request of the board, a vote was taken expressing the wish of the people of the district in regard to this. A motion made by C. D. Hoyt that "the board be sent word that the Parent-Teacher association favors the purchase of a piano," was seconded by M. E. Noble and carried without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Noble, the chairman of the committee on beautifying the school grounds, then spoke urging that the people of the district get out on the coming Friday, April 10, Arbor Day, and together with the school children, do some work on the grounds. Mr. Hoyt called for volunteers, to which a number responded. Mrs. Cooper was made chairman of the committee in charge a picnic dinner at noon, and it was understood that Mr. Noble would have general charge of the work.

The chief topic for discussion, the City of Utility, was then brought up. Mr. Hansen explained the general aspects of the situation and answered numerous questions. Mr. Forden, Mr. Price and Mr. Noble all spoke, expressing the opinion in different way that the proposition favored the people of the district. Mr. Nickelsen asked for an expression by someone on the other side but got no response. Several urged that everyone find a way to get to the polls on the 20th.

Mr. Price brought up the matter of the good roads day set by Gov. West and urged that the Frankton people observe it in proper form. At the suggestion of Mr. Seaton and Mr. Foley the next meeting will be held on Friday, April 17, when the good roads day and other topics will be discussed.

The boys of the school have been laboring diligently on the tennis court this week getting the retaining wall completed so that the grading of the courts can be finished on arbor day.

Everyone is urged to turn out with team and tools, if possible, on arbor day, Friday, April 10. The larger pupils will work on the grounds all day with as many of their older relatives as can attend. The girls will give a social program at noon, after the picnic dinner which the ladies will serve on the grounds. If anything is to be done on the grounds this year, this is the time to do it.
