Air Castles

Air castles are like the Irishman's idea about riding in an airship. He said: "Begorra, I don't care how high they go wid me so long as I keep one foot on the ground."

Its the same thing with building your castles in the air. When tempted by big dividends and getting rich-quick investments, keep one foot on the ground-both would be better. Standing at the gateway between air castles and slow but sure investments, stick to the good old mother earth. Until you do invest, your money will be safe in our bank.

Keep Cool

Many people hestitate about installing electrical apparatus during the summer months, fearing that the cost of operating them will be heavy. We are always ready to show you the really modest expense it will take you to make your home or office cool during the warm days. Or to be convinced of this, talk to those who have used electricity for cooking.

You will never regret having placed an electric range, toaster or hot plate at the disposal of your wife. Eliminate the hot fires in the kitchen stove and save fuel bills.

STONE NOW HEADS ASSOCIATION

Members Asked to Meet By Laws Committee - Organization Will Be Perfected Saturday, July 25

A. W. Stone, who was elected genmanager of the Association this spring, has now assumed active management of the Apple Growers Association, having taken the quarters in the Davidson building formerly occupied by Wilmer Sieg. Mr. Sieg has left for Portland, the Distributor office here having been closed, and is now in charge of the new office of the central selling agency in the Railway Exchange building. S. A. Clark, who has been in the local office, has left for Portland with Mr. Sieg.
The berry and cherry season is about over. However, the Association is still receiving small quantities of strawberries from the Upper Valley, and a few cherries are still being shipped. The first apples of the season of 1914 were received Tuesday. It will be more than a month, however, before the fruit is apped in carload lots. Express shipearly varieties will be made almost annual meeting of the stockhold crs and members of the Apple Growers Association will be held in the Heil-bronner hall Saturday, July 25, for the purpose of electing a board of 11 directors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. "This is the most important thing before the growers at the present time," says Mr. Stone. "It will be the first meeting at which the double system of voting, the membership and income system, will be used. The directors will be elected by the parties who actually do the shipping. I regard the coming meeting as the most important ever held in the history of the fruit growing industry in the Hood River valley. It lays the foundation for a permanent and lasting organization absolutely awared and controlled by ion absolutely owned and controlled by the growers and shippers themselves."

MULTNOMAH WORK AROUSES ENTHUSIASM

There was a feeling among the 300 Hood River people who journeyed down the Columbia to Multnomah Falls, Gordon Falls and Oneonta gorge last Thursday aboard the O.-W. R. & N. special train that keen regret would prevail today in case the proposed $75,failed to carry. Never did a larger and more enthusiastic crowd leave the local passenger station. The five big steel coaches sent here by the railway company to handle the crowd were comfortably filled. J. H. Fredricy presonally conducted the tour. And though tired and dusty from the jaunts over the rugged cliffs at the foot of the scenic falls and an inspection of the work being done by Multnomah county on the scenic highway, but very dressed the envelopes. Between Gordon Falls and Multno-mah Falls, about a half mile apart, a portion of the highway encroaches on the right of way of the railway com-pany. The adjoining hillside here is not solid enough to permit of excavating for the 24 foot wide roadway. Such work would probably cause slides and damage resulting from them would have to borne by the county. How-ever, this possibility of damage is eliminated by a roadway constructed on concrete piers at the side of the railway track. The hill is not disturbed and any damage that may result here in the future can only be attribut-ed to an "act of God," and because of it the county cannot be held.

The entire crowd walked from Gordon Falls to Multnomah Falls, where the last hour before the departure of the train was spent inspecting that 785 feet of madly plunging water. The bolder excursionists climbed to the foot of the first falls, where the cooling spray that falls day in and day out, wasted in and out of the crevices of the giant crags by the constant air currents made by the falling volumes of water, bathed their hot faces. The dark cavern like recesses behind the falls were explored.

Mr. Benson, who has been one of the chief exponents of the Columbia highway for many years, and who has do-nated Multnomah Falls to the city of Portland for park purposes, mingled with the crowd. He has secured Gorion Falls, which he later expects t add to the property already given the Rese City. When making a short ad-dress before the special train pulled away from the scenic point for Hood River, Mr. Benson was given an ova-tion by the enthusiastic sightseers.

PIONEER SHIPPER

J. F. Kertchem, of the Pacific States Fire Insurance Co., who was here Monday to adjust the loss on the house on Oak street belonging to P.S. Davidson, which was damaged by fire Saturday, visited the Glacier office. Mr. Kertch-em is a pioneer apple shipper, having shipped the first carload of Hood River apples in 1890. The fruit was shipped to Denver by H. E. Batten & Co., with whom Mr. Kertchem was connected.

"The growers in those early days did not understand packing," said Mr. Kertchem. 'It was a hard and tedious job for them and then the pack was not attractive. I taught the late H. Pregge, a pioneer grower of the valley, how to pack his apples in boxes."
