Providence, has it been possible for the people of the great Republic, whose number now reaches the 100,000,000 and goom over every home, has, it is try. The commerce and business of our country has been disarranged for the moment, and in their sympathy and There was not left in all the land a grief for the stricken peoples of the warring nations, the people of this country have had moments of depressed

But today, our American Thanksgiving day, we can but return thanks for the fortunate position of our nation, for our blessings of progress and prosperity during the past year and for the hopeful and optimistic outlook for the

The United States has suffered money losses on account of the chaos of business, but their loss has not been an irretrievable one; it has not been a loss of its country's young men, nor a loss by bloodshed that will bring grief and When war dismays my Barons bold 'tis bitterness for generations to come.

Along with the rest of the country Hood River has suffered a temporary Go forth, my Monks, with mass and financial loss on account of the great war. Some of its best apple markets And to the fold with shepherd's war. Some of its best apple markets were closed for the season. However, the community has faced the adverse circumstances in a way that signifies of its solidity. The mists of pessimism that blew our way in the fall are clearing away; apple growers and business men are optimistic of the future. Hood River people today are thankful for the fortunes that have been given them by a beneficent Nature and that it has been possible for them to add to by their own efforts; thankful for quiet homes here in the great scenic Mid-Columbia region.

HOOD RIVER'S OPPORTUNITY

Situated as it is on the Columbia highway, said by those who have looked upon the beauty spots of the world, to be one of the most wonderful scenic thoroughfares ever constructed, and already known as it is for the excellency of its fruit, which has demanded premiums in the world's markets, Hood River is indeed fortunate, and hids fair to resp a rich harvest from the great world's fair to be held at San Fran-

It will be necessary to secure the proper return from publicity already given the community to wage a further campaign for the valley. But never was there a more opportune time for such a campaign. The very benefits that will accrue causes every man who views the situation to consider a publicity campaign for next year a neces-

Publicity costs money. But an outlay for judicious advertising is an investment. In the case cited it is an investment for the county of Hood River. It is an expenditure that should be borne by a general assessment, and as such should be included in the budget to be made out by the county court at the regular December meeting.

A large number of the counties of Oregon have already made such a rule effective, and each year an appropriation is made by the county courts.

Troutdale bids fair to become known as a petiteost city. It has a woman mayor, Mrs. J. Larson, Mrs. Frances Fox is a nominee for the chief office of the city at an approaching election. Ten other women are seeking offices.

Along with turkeys and the usual trimmings, Hood River ranchers produce fresh, ripe raspberries for the Thanksgiving table.

PROMPT PAYMENT HELPS BUSINESS

(From the Tacoma Tribune)

Do you know what is the very best thing to do to help business? Just pay your debts. Now, don't feel insulted. Everbyody owes money, at least every honest and intelligent citizen does, since modern business is run so largely on credit. In a general way, you see, everbyody owes everybody else. Most of us are solvent enough, if we could with our credits just when we want to. In a time of financial strees, people have a way of hanging onto what they've got, just as the European nastops the circulation of money, which is the lifeblood of business. Now, suppose you happen to have enough money in your pocket, or in the bank, to pay all you owe. You're delaying payment, however, becausewell, you want to wait a little and see whether business brightens up. Your own debtors are slow, and you don't want to take any more chances than you have to. But suppose you get busy and pay your rent, your gas bill, your coal bill, your grocery bill, your meat bill, your laundry bill, etc.,
