ODELL

This is our first letter for 1915 and we begin by wishing everyone a happy and prosperous New Year.

Miss Hope Shelley returned Sunday to her school at Humm, Wash., Miss Eleanor Goe to Oak Grove, Miss Lola Graff to Oak Grove, Miss Ruth Clark to Klondike, Ore., Miss Letta Bowerman to Scotts Mills, Ore. When these teachers return to their homes for the summer vacation we expect to enjoy the privilege of reporting for each the close of a very successful school year.

Principal V. M. Vose, Misses Helen Woodring and Emma More, of the intermediate grades, and Miss Jessie Pierson, primary teacher in Odell school, were here and reported for duty at the opening of school last Monday. Now, altogether for a continuation of the good work that has been the order up to this time in this school year.

Miss Mary Sheppard, whom we expect next year to report as one of the teachers whose record will be of especial interest to us, returned Sunday to Hood River to complete her course in Hood River high school.

Chas. Pflughaupt fell during the time last week when ice was found everywhere, and when the physician placed his arm, which was injured, under the X-ray a broken bone was shown. While suffering considerable inconvenience Mr. Pflughaupt believes the injured member is improving as rapidly as possible.

Little Irma Bowerman has suffered from ear and throat trouble which is believed to have been caused by enlarged tonsils and adenoids. An operation was decided upon and should the condition of the little patient be satisfactory the operation was performed yesterday. Many friends of the family will unite in hoping that she passes safely through and that when the cause of her suffering has been removed she may enjoy perfect health.

J. E. Ferguson went to Portland Friday for a few days' business visit.

Mrs. Williams and her daughter, Miss Mary, returned to their home in Portland Sunday after having been here for a 10 days' visit with M. Hawthorne and his mother, Mrs. M. L. Hawthorne. Mrs. Hawthorne accompanied them to Portland.

Mrs. J. E. Ferguson expects to go to Portland Wednesday. She intends to join her mother, Mrs. Hawthorne, in Portland and go with her to consult a specialist regarding a cataract of the eye which has destroyed the sight of Mrs. Hawthorne's left eye. They will consult their family physician in Astoria before submitting to an operation but think an operation probable at this time. They will perhaps visit friends in Portland and Astoria. There are many, many friends who will rejoice with Mrs. Hawthorne if sight be restored.

Mr. and Mrs. John Duckwall expect to spend several days this week in Portland. While in Portland Mr. Duckwall expects to purchase a team.

Those who attended the social at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening of last week report a happy evening. A good program, games, a short business meeting and refreshments occupied the time and made the few hours spent there seem short indeed. We surmise this is only the beginning of many pleasant social occasions similar to this one.

Just as the clock finished striking midnight on New Year's Eve Mrs. Ferguson announced to the members of the Ferguson Bible class who had been invited to her home that she had a new daughter, as her son, Almont H. Ferguson, and Miss Viola Mapes, who has been thought of for several years as a member of the Ferguson family, had been married in Seattle, Wash., last June and the marriage had not been made public until now. To many friends in Odell this announcement came as a complete surprise. These young people's plans for the future have not been announced. Just for the present they will remain at the Ferguson home while Mrs. Ferguson is absent and until the result of the visit of Mrs. Hawthorne to physician and specialist is known. Wherever they may decide to locate hosts of good wishes go with them, and now and in the future the friends in Odell will be deeply interested and pleased to hear of their happiness and success.

Kemp lodge and Hazel Rebekah lodge will hold joint installation in the Odd Fellows hall next Saturday evening. Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families invited.

A meeting, partly devotional and partly study will be held at the Methodist church Thursday evening, tonight. All who are interested in Bible study are invited to attend as a teacher training class will be organized at this time.

The song service and meeting at the Methodist church last Sunday evening was very satisfactory. An unexpected pleasure was the reading by Mrs. Nettie Crockett which was one of the numbers of the program for the social on Wednesday evening and was repeated by request of Rev. Heinbeck.

A meeting similar to the one of last Sunday evening will be held next Sunday evening beginning at 7 o'clock. Song service, special numbers and a short discourse by the pastor. Sunday school at 10.30 a. m. next Sunday. No morning service. Beginning with last Sunday evening there will be an evening meeting under the auspices of the Epworth League every Sunday evening beginning at 7 o'clock until further notice.

The Ladies' Aid Society met this week at the home of Mrs. Harry Emery for a pleasant social and business meeting.

Harry Moore spent several days last week in Portland.

Mrs. E. T. Hull and her daughters, Gladys and Dorothy, returned last Friday from Portland, where they visited Mrs. Hull's sister, Mrs. C. H. Sprout, for a few days.

The January meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held Friday afternoon at the school house. There will be a business session and program. A double header basket ball game between Mosier club team and Odell high school and Fine Grove school vs. Odell second team, will be held at the Odell gymnasium Wednesday, January 13. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

PINE GROVE

A goodly number were present at the watch meeting at the church Thursday night to hail the coming in of the new year and bidding good bye to the old. At the conclusion of the social program a devotional service was held.

Mrs. Fred Mack went to Astoria last week Wednesday to be gone a month visiting friends.

Walter Wells, the popular Pine Grove carpenter, is taking a two months' course of training in Portland in connection with his work.

Gertrude Stanton, who spent two weeks' vacation with her parents, left Sunday for Condon to resume her teaching.

The W. G. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Jennie McDonald Thursday afternoon of this week.

There will be regular services at the church next Sunday morning. Sunday school as usual, 10 o'clock. In the evening the Epworth League will hold a thermometer meeting which promises to be very interesting and to which all are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Ada Mills, nee Ada Mark, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Mark.

Miss Mary Schmitz has been very ill and is yet confined to the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cameron and son, were guests of J. G. Jarvis and wife New Year's Day.

BELMONT

Mrs. Nottingham, mother of Mrs. J. R. Forden, came Wednesday bringing Miss Georgia Forden, who has been visiting at the home of her grandparents for the past two months, Miss Georgia seeing her new baby brother for the first time. Mrs. Nottingham spent the New Year with her daughter and family, returning to Portland Saturday.

Miss Imogen Bishop, who has spent the holiday season at the home of her grandparents in Portland, returned Saturday to enter school Monday. Sunday Miss Lucille Davis was a guest of Miss Imogen.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Craft returned to their home in Portland after spending a delightful time with the home folks. Mr. and Mrs. R. Jones entertained the children and grandchildren during the holiday season, 19 being at home.

Miss Doris King came Sunday evening from Portland to spend a week, visiting with the home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, of Wildrose Lodge.

Mrs. Allen Graham has returned to Baker, Ore., after a few weeks' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King.

W. H. Davis, wife and family, J. W. Davis and wife, John Winn and C. C. Pifer were guests of W. J. Wollum and family New Year's day.

Miss Ida Hunt has spent the week in Hood River attending the special meetings being held in the Alliance church. Will Chubb has the honor of being the first to come home back from Portland to Hood River over the Columbia highway, he having made the trip Tuesday night and getting into Hood River Wednesday night, a very tired man. Leaving his horse at Belmont as the snow was not running, he crossed the river in his row boat to get to his home in Trout Lake, Wash., for the holidays. Saturday his horse was taken across to Underwood.

Rev. W. B. Young preached a very helpful sermon at Belmont church Sunday afternoon. The church was well filled by an attentive congregation. The solo song by Sigurd Nelson and Mrs. Will Metcalf were much enjoyed. Mrs. Oxborrow accompanied. Mrs. George Galloway at the organ, with cornet accompaniment for congregational singing, how good it seemed to have services in Belmont once more. Sunday school is still held at 2.30 p. m. and we are increasing in numbers and interest. Are there not others in the neighborhood who can come? You will be very welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Church and C. E. Miller, wife and children, spent New Year's day at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. H. H. Jantzen, and family, in Oak Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Eby and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eby and children spent New Year's day at the home of their sister, Mrs. Taylor and family, at Oak Grove.

Mrs. Charles Metcalf, a former Belmont resident, is expected this week to visit her son and family and friends in Belmont and Oak Grove.

Miss Mabel Ledford came from Portland to spend the holidays with her parents and brothers.

Mrs. M. H. Gillis is enjoying a visit with her brother, Leo Theilin, he having come from Des Moines, Ia.

Miss Pearl Isenberg returned Sunday from visiting at Wamie, Ore. Miss Pearl took up her duties in the school room Monday morning.

Mrs. M. P. Isenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Isenberg spent New Year's day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Somerville. It has been the custom for the Somervilles to spend Christmas at the Isenberg home and the Isenbergs to spend New Year's at the Somerville home for the past 10 years.

Next Friday afternoon the Parent-Teacher Association will meet at the school house. Mrs. Hughes will give a talk on "Making Home Attractive for the Young People," and Mr. Pearson on "Punishment of Children."

FRANKTON.

Nineteen and fifteen: I wonder how many made a mistake the first day of the new year.

School began again last Monday after a week's vacation, with all back in their seats and ready to combat the A. B. Cs. for the rest of the school year.

Amid the hustle and bustle of the holiday week we omitted to give due notice of the Christmas cantata at which teachers and pupils worked so hard to make it a success. Every person who took part in it deserves the highest praise, and it was one of the best of Frankton's many fine entertainments. To a packed house where even standing room was at a premium, it carried the conviction that whatever Frankton attempts to do spells success.

Miss Pearl Scoobe, primary teacher at Frankton, spent the vacation visiting old Missouri friends now living near Sherwood in the Willamette valley.

Wedding bells were ringing in Frankton with the opening of the New Year. Albert Garrabrant quietly slipped away with the old year to Vancouver, Wash., where he met and married Miss Vera Woolsey, of southern California, who came north to meet and mate with her chum of earlier days. The groom needs no introduction, having been raised here from a small boy. The bride is a former resident of Frankton and known to many of the young people. We wish them all happiness and success in this new journey beginning with the New Year.

Some one has been scattering tin cans, boxes, papers and all sorts of rubbish along the State road. This is not only unsightly, but unlawful and the offenders if caught, will be prosecuted.

Some of the Frankton news last week was like some of the war news, slightly mixed.

The Benson Arch committee expects to get busy soon so as to have the arch completed by the time the highway is open.

We have learned that there are several applications in the hands of the county court for road supervisor. Hope whoever gets it will give us better roads.

The Parent-Teacher meeting tomorrow night promises to be above the average. Miss Northey, county librarian, is coming out and will speak on literature for children. Miss Maud Carlisle will preside at the piano and a musical treat is expected. And last, but by no means least, among these drawing cards, is the hot lunch, which will be served.

VALLEY CREST

Joe Erwin is spending a few days on his ranch.

Ernest Jentta, of Astoria, came up Saturday to spend a few months on his place.

Mrs. S. A. Hedrick, Miss Mary Hedrick and A. R. Hedrick, who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Detwiler in Stevenson, also friends in Portland, returned home Sunday.

On Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 30, Mrs. G. H. Marsh, of Portland, as hostess at a delightful card party given for a number of her Underwood friends who were passing the holidays in Portland.

Geo. Hewett is in Portland on business.

One thousand boxes of apples were at the Underwood dock awaiting shipment to Portland on the steamer Tahoma which made her first trip up Monday since being laid off on account of the ice in the Columbia river.

CASCADE LOCKS

The Yuletide season has been a round of social events and festivities. One of the most enjoyable events was the masquerade dance "New Year's eve." The lady's prize for the most beautiful costume was awarded to Mrs. Margaret Noonan. Gentleman's prize awarded to Chester Strickenbaugh. Prizes for best sustained characters given to Mrs. Hal Ballweg, as Ste. Hopkins, and Francis Johnson as an Albin.

The card club gave another one of their pleasant parties during the holiday season. Honors were on by Mrs. I. Osborne and Melvin A. Collins. Mrs. J. F. Hendricks received the consolation prize.
