ODELL

Frank Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, stopped over for a few hours' visit Sunday at the home of his cousin, W. R. Warner, III. Mr. Shoemaker was making a business trip to Portland and left for the city Sunday evening.

Chester Williams, of Chicago, Ill., is here visiting at the homes of his uncles, W. A. and Douglas Lockman and his cousin, Dane Kemp.

Alex B. Brooke, who has spent the winter months in Cherryville, Ore., returned last Thursday to his property in Odell. He brought with him a man and a team and purchased a horse from Frank Stanton.

A. H. Weinheimer has bought a team and is busy improving the property he purchased recently.

Master George McDonald, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald, was taken to the hospital in Hood River and an operation for appendicitis was performed Friday. The condition of the appendix was found quite serious. Friends hope the little fellow may speedily recover and be able to be taken home to his parents.

Miss Anna Matney and Frank Farrell, of Portland, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Matney. They returned to Portland Sunday evening and Miss Lila Lewis, who has spent the winter in Odell, accompanied them on their return and continued her journey to Klamath Falls.

W. C. Lilley has disposed of his interest in the livery business, his partner, Mr. Sweeney, having purchased his share, and he with his family leave this week for eastern points.

The Cameron-Sheppard mill near Fir began cutting lumber this week.

A force of 23 Greeks had been camped in cars at Odell. They are employed repairing track and spreading gravel on the Mount Hood railroad.

Though the weather was the reverse of promising the Odell fair at the Methodist church last Friday night exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine. As an entertainment unlike the ordinary and one in which there should be the maximum of amusement at minimum expense it was a grand success. The receipts amounted to about $41.

The Ladies' Aid is to be congratulated on this, another of the more successful affairs given under the auspices of that society. To Mrs. Davenport for planning and assisting in carrying into execution; to Mrs. Sherbon, as president, for selection of committees, and to the members of committees which included practically every member of the society, credit for success is due. Those familiar with the work of such societies say they have never seen finer committee work than is the rule in this society.

Mr. and Mrs. Steg Hansen have leased the J. O. Mark property in Odell for a term of five years and they are now at home there.

Remember the date for the entertainment to be given by the Guild is Friday, April 16. Complete announcement next week.

Mrs. Electa Bryant, of Hood River came out Saturday for a few days' visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. T. Folts.

Bertrand Wood, who is a junior in Washington high school, Portland, is enjoying a week's vacation visiting his cousins, Mrs. Taft, of Hood River, and Mrs. Folts, of Odell.

An institute for teachers of Hood River county will be held at the school house in Odell Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m. In the afternoon the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held in connection with the institute.

Service 9:30 a. m. Sunday school 10:30 a. m. There were 129 present last Sunday. Room for more and a cordial welcome. Epworth League 7:30 p. m. at the Methodist church next Sunday.

The regular evening meeting of the grange for April will be held Thursday (this) evening at Nelson's apple house. A full attendance of members is desired as there is considerable business to be transacted. A speaker will be present and explain the rural credit system.

PINE GROVE

The meeting of the Epworth League held last Sunday evening was led by Mrs. McDonald. "Easter" subject entitled, "The Promise of Immortality." Among other good things Rev. Heineck and Elmer House gave line talks.

Easter services were greeted by a full church Sunday morning. The pastor gave an interesting sermon which was much enjoyed as also the beautiful solo sung by Florence Avery.

A missionary service was given at the opening of the Sunday school Sunday morning under the superintendency of Mrs. James Malloy, missionary superintendent of the Sunday school department.

Mrs. Dolly Scott, from the West Side, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Boles, and other friends this week.

The remarks made by Prof. Peck, of the O. A. C., last Friday evening on Landscape Gardening, served to show what might be accomplished in our district by using care in the selection of trees for road borders.

There will be regular services at the church every Sunday morning, as Pastor Heineck will fill an early appointment at Odell, thus giving both services in one day.

Mrs. C. K. Benton has a friend from the east visiting her this week.

Dating Stamps, Self Inking Stamps, Pocket Stamps, Pen and Pencil Stamps, Etc., made to order at the Glacier office at Portland prices.

OAK GROVE

The Social Center meets this week Friday evening at the school house.

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet Friday afternoon. The program will consist of a talk on "Better Babies," by Mrs. Dutro, of Odell. This talk is to promote a better babies contest to be held later in the season.

W. T. Kerr has sold his ranch and will move to Hillsboro, Ore., at the close of the school year. At that place he expects to enter the mercantile business.

The following citizens of Oak Grove were called upon to attend court this week: W. L. Nichols, P. Fenwick and A. G. Wing. Mr. Nichols and Mr. Fenwick were excused from duty, however.

Mrs. Louise Boyden, who spent the winter in California, has rented her ranch and will live in Hood River. She was the guest of Mrs. W. L. Nichols for a few days last week.

During the high wind the past week the wheel of the windmill on the Church ranch was blown off and damaged considerably.

FRANKTON.

Miss Nola Radloff, who has been visiting the last week at Clifton with her chum, Emma, returned to her home in The Dalles Tuesday.

Miss Grace Stewart, one of the Frankton teachers, and a friend were sent seeing down the Columbia highway Sunday. Their trip took them down below Mitchell's Point. This was Miss Stewart's first trip along the highway. "Tige," the faithful dog, went along as a guard.

The Coates sisters, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Garrabrant and Miss Pearl Scobee enjoyed an Easter dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Calkins at Riverside farm, but few cooks, if any, know better how to prepare than Edna.

The annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held tomorrow, Friday evening. All members are expected to be present, as a full set of officers is to be elected for the coming year, and other business pertaining to the association is to be attended to. Light refreshments will be served.

Miss Pearl Scobee, our primary teacher's only brother, a newspaper correspondent by profession, has been sent by his paper to the war zone. He is now at Brownsville, Tex., watching to make a "scoop" over the border at Matamoros, Mexico.

The road boss, or the county court, or both, are showing partiality we think in the distribution of the work being done on the roads so far this spring. The road boss, watching the planers gets more promises and less work than any piece of road in the district. The people who live along it have to travel it and pay their share of the road tax and are entitled to some consideration.

Donald Nickelsen is home from Eugene on his Easter vacation and to see his two brothers.

The Four Leaf Clover club will meet today at the home of the Misses Coate.

Miss Johnston, assistant principal in the Frankton school, whose home is in Pennsylvania, says that the grand hills and flowers everywhere in Oregon on Easter Sunday certainly looked better to her than 20 inches of snow would have looked in her home state on that date.

It will be good news to the people of the Frankton district who want to have the high school maintained, to know that the election last week had nothing to do with discontinuing it. The high school was voted on several years ago, and it will take a majority of the voters at an election called for that purpose to discontinue it. That proposition was not voted on last week and the question of sending the high school students to Hood River for one year was illegal, as it only had 15 of a majority, and there were more than 20 votes cast that were not legal. This, of course, is a matter of record and easily determined, and will invalidate the election.

The Benson memorial arch promoters are making arrangements to secure another location other than the top of the Rutherford hill for its location. The highest point on the west side of Cascade avenue in the town of Hood River has been suggested. If the city council would grant the right to erect it there and perhaps change the name of the street to Benson avenue, a fine concrete arch would be erected over it that would be a credit to the town and county. If not, then Mitchell's Point or some other suitable location will be decided on in the near future and arrangements for its erection will be made by the time the highway is finished this fall.

Sam H. Thompson returned to Reed college Sunday, after spending his Easter vacation here. During the week Sam and three classmates from college camped in the mountains.

The Camp Fire Girls had a most enjoyable council meeting at Midmount Saturday afternoon. On account of the heavy rain the bacon had been postponed. The spacious library of the Thompson home was a beautiful setting for the Camp Fire Girls seated in Indian fashion about the fireplace. Indian legends were told by several members. The meeting closed with the singing of Camp Fire songs.

Mrs. Clem Woodward has returned home from Hood River, where she had undergone an operation for appendicitis.

UPPER VALLEY

Parkdale grange met Saturday evening, April 3, and an especially busy session resulted. A part of the literary program was omitted so that matters of importance could be fully considered. This grange is very enthusiastic over good roads and many other matters of interest to our community, and their sessions are characterized by the earnest consideration given to these questions. It was decided at this meeting to assume the responsibility of furnishing the meals for the 300 Mazamas who are to climb Mount Hood on the Fourth of July; also transportation to the Elk Beds and return. Two new members were initiated.

Our new orchestra will make its bow to the public next Friday night in the nature of a dance at McIsaac's hall. The boys should receive the encouragement of a large attendance, as their musical ability is known to all, and it marks a step in the program of any community to have an orchestra of its own.

Miss Frances Wilson, who has been spending the winter in Portland, has returned home.

Allen Macrum and family, who spent the winter in Dee, have returned to their ranch.

Albert Tozier, of Salem, is here on his ranch. Mr. Tozier is making a number of improvements on his tract.

D. P. Emery has begun the erection of a bungalow.

The roads of this community are in a very bad condition, and there does not seem to be any promise of their being better this season.

Mrs. Margaret Noonan and daughter, Bernice, Dr. J. Carroll, Count von Borski, of Portland, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Olson for the week end.

Attorney Baure and Chester Dowling of Portland, are spending their vacation here.

A. Hershheimer and wife have arrived from Los Angeles, Wis., to spend the summer visiting their daughters, Mrs. H. Clay Levy and Mrs. J. S. Strauserberger.

Mrs. H. L. Howe, of Hood River, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. W. H. Lane.

Miss Rebecca Thompson was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Macnamara in Hood River Sunday.

Val W. Tomkins was a Hood River visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Zelda Shaw, of Portland, is visiting her sister Mrs. Wm. Lahey.

C. A. Broilier has returned home after completing the dredging at Big Eddy.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate have arrived to spend the summer on their farm here.

Miss Vera Olin returned to Wyeth Sunday evening.

Mrs. John R. Cates and daughter, Margaret Anne, left Saturday to spend the next month in Portland.

Miss Taylor is spending her spring vacation with her parents here.

L. F. Collins and wife went to Hood River Sunday. Mr. Collins is one of the jurors for this session of the circuit court.

Mrs. Clem Woodward has returned home from Hood River, where she had undergone an operation for appendicitis.
